ALMA MATER

All hail to thee, our Alma Mater honored;
Richardson, we're loyal to you.
In days to come, your memories we will cherish;
Through the years, we'll still be true.

Eagle-ites at Richardson High School possess a great deal of spirit which has multiplied because of pride, loyalty, and success. At pep rallies, as well as athletic events, the Alma Mater is sung to express this spirit. As it is sung, two fingers are raised forming a V symbolizing victory for the Eagles. Through the years this has become an inseparable part of this meaningful song. As our mighty Eagle spreads his potent wings, this V is outlined. This influential symbol can be seen through this, the 1963 Eagle.

All Hail to Thee

Eagle-ites have earned many awards, both athletic and scholastic, for R.H.S. In this way we have brought honor and distinction to our school.

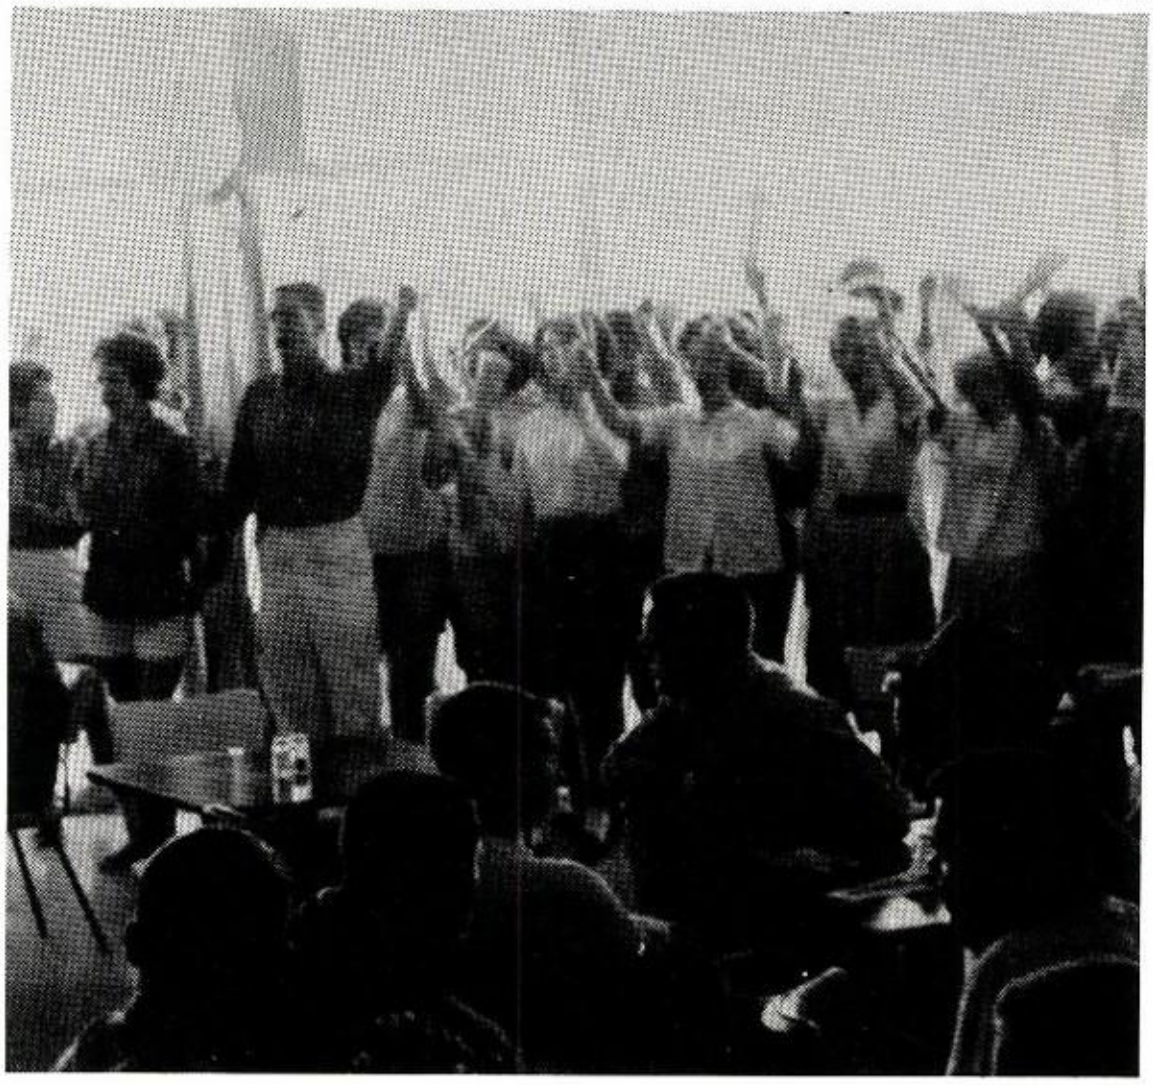
The Junior Class honored R.H.S. by presenting a flag to the school which will serve to welcome all opponents to our athletic events.

Our Alma Mater Honored

Students have done numerous things to bring honor and recognition to R. H. S. Individuals, classes, and clubs have all contributed their part. A few scholastic and athletic trophies are on display in the gymnasium. By developing their talents in athletic events, students have brought football, basketball, baseball, and track trophies to R. H. S. Cheerleaders have brought recognition by placing first at cheerleading school at Southern Methodist University. Nine seniors were honored for their superb achievements on the National Merit Scholarship Test.

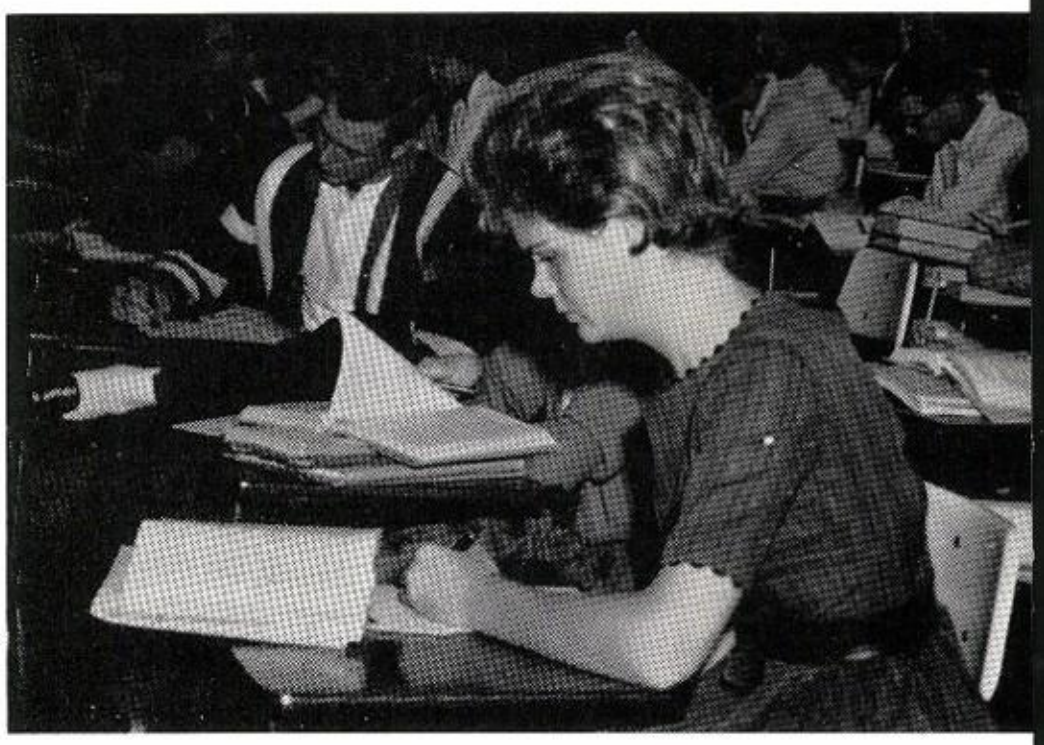
The junior class gave a flag to the school welcoming all visitors. Also, the Pal Club made arrangements for an Eagle to be placed in the gym floor. Duncanville High School invited members of our National Honor Society to install the members of their new chapter.

Each student should take every opportunity to honor their high school.



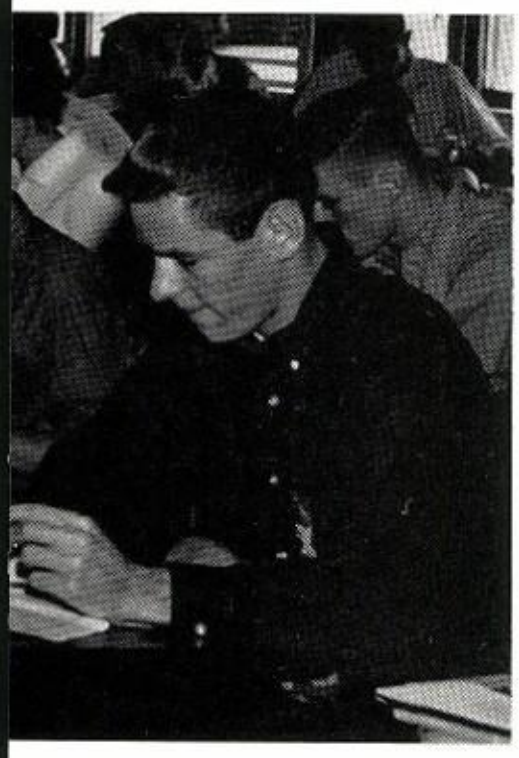
Eagle-ites honor Richardson High School by participating in every activity. At the pep rally at the Circle R, Eagles supported their athletic team. Students are proud of their high school and their attitudes reflect on other people to honor R.H.S.

Eagle-ites use their study halls wisely to maintain the high scholastic standing of this high school.



Richardson, We're

Loyalty is displayed by everyone participating in R.H.S. activities; and car decoration day is no exception.



Many students think that loyalty to Richardson High School is participating in sports or performing for the school. True, these things certainly show faithfulness to R.H.S., but few people realize that many students who are not in these organizations show their loyalty daily in other ways.

Being active in the student council or other service clubs, displaying spirit at pep rallies and games, conducting oneself in a manner befitting an Eagle-ite, studying to become better persons, and striving to maintain our high standards are all a part of loyalty to R.H.S.

Loyal to You

The seniors of 1963 study especially hard this last year of high school. Mrs. Gaydon, senior English teacher, keeps her students busy.

In Days to Come

Memories of R.H.S. . . . The new stadium packed with cheering crowds . . . Silent Day . . . Sock hops in the gym . . . Western Day . . . Posters literally covering the halls during Student Council elections . . . Lunch tokens . . . Kiddie Day and senior assembly . . . Final exams . . . The Junior-Senior Prom . . . Graduation . . . And teachers.

During these four years of high school, one accumulates many precious memories, and perhaps one of the dearest is Coach Abe Spangler. Many times his pep rally talks filled the whole school with spirit. Many times he eased a troubled mind. Teen-agers rest assured that in him they have a friend for life.

For every Eagle-ite golden memories will be cherished through the years.

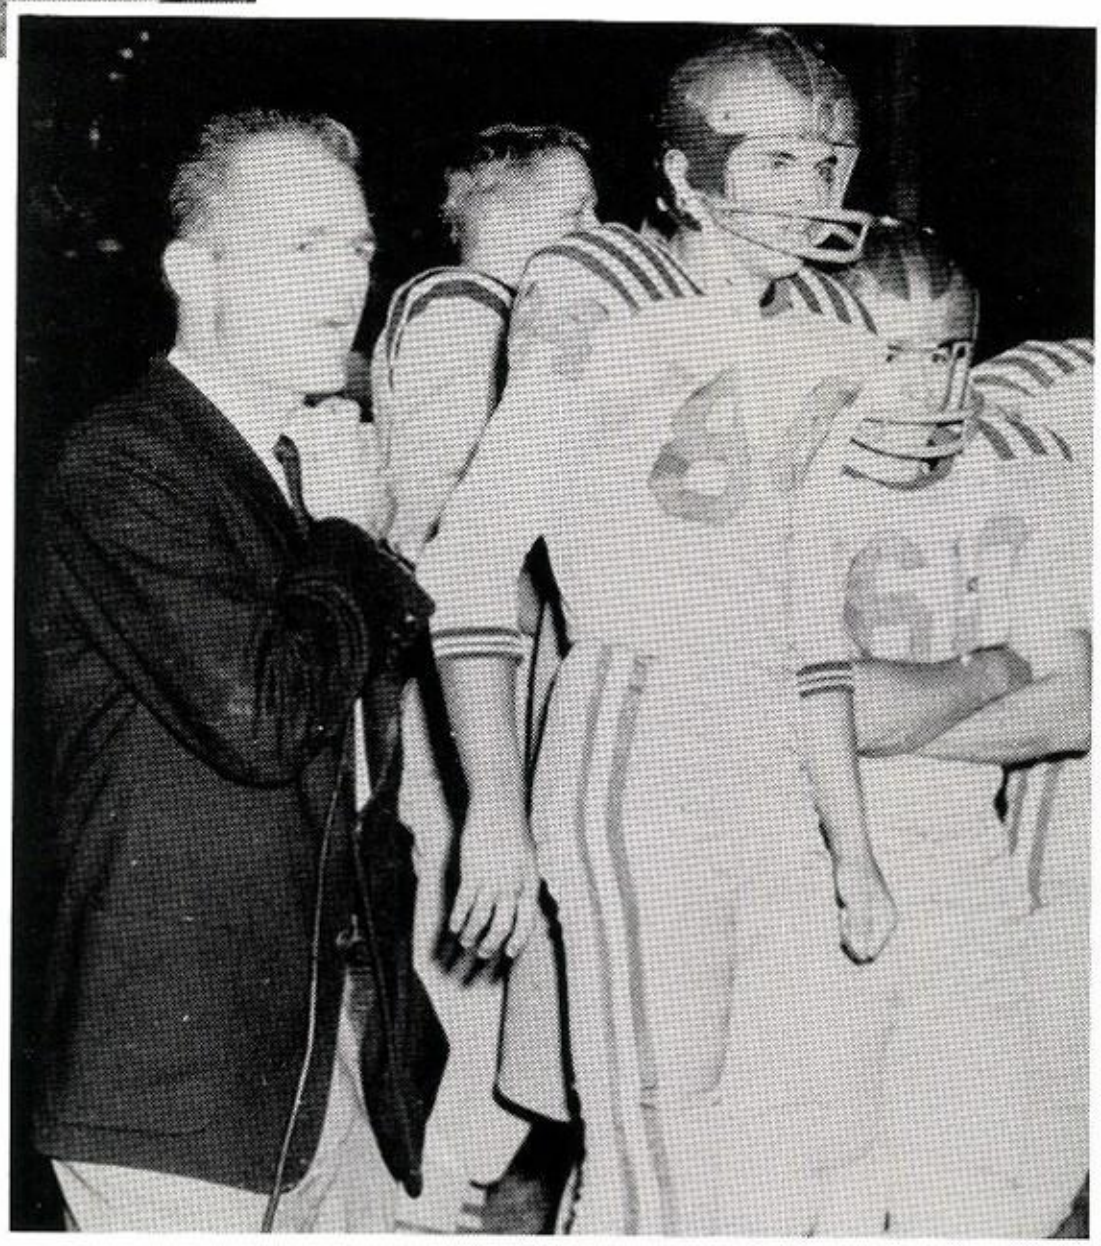
Your Memories We Will Cherish

Coach Abe Spangler speaks at pep rallies to arouse the fighting Eagle spirit. His powerful voice and advice is heeded by all.

Seniors pause after the first game to admire the new stadium and recall the memories of their first performance.

Through the Years

Mrs. Mickey Holmes Collander was President of Future Homemakers of America her senior year at R.H.S. To fulfill her ambition, she has returned to R.H.S. as a homemaking teacher and sponsor of F.H.A.



Senior Favorite, Most Handsome, Co-captain are titles synonymous with the name Billy Ray Atkins in the year 1950 at R.H.S. Now he, too, has returned to his Alma Mater as the head coach of the varsity football team.

Exes, as well as students, stand to form the traditional V during the kickoff of the Homecoming game.

During Homecoming, Eagle-ites see an example of the loyalty of graduates. Each year, many return to recall their treasured days at R.H.S. and thrill at the sound of the Alma Mater.

Mrs. Collander was an active member in the Future Homemakers of America when she attended R.H.S. Now she has returned to teach homemaking. Another example is Mr. Bill Atkins. He was active in football, basketball, and baseball during his high school days. Today, he is the Head Coach of the varsity football team. Each of these is a Richardson graduate who remained true.

As the students today return to R.H.S., they too will feel this loyalty to Richardson.

We'll Still Be True

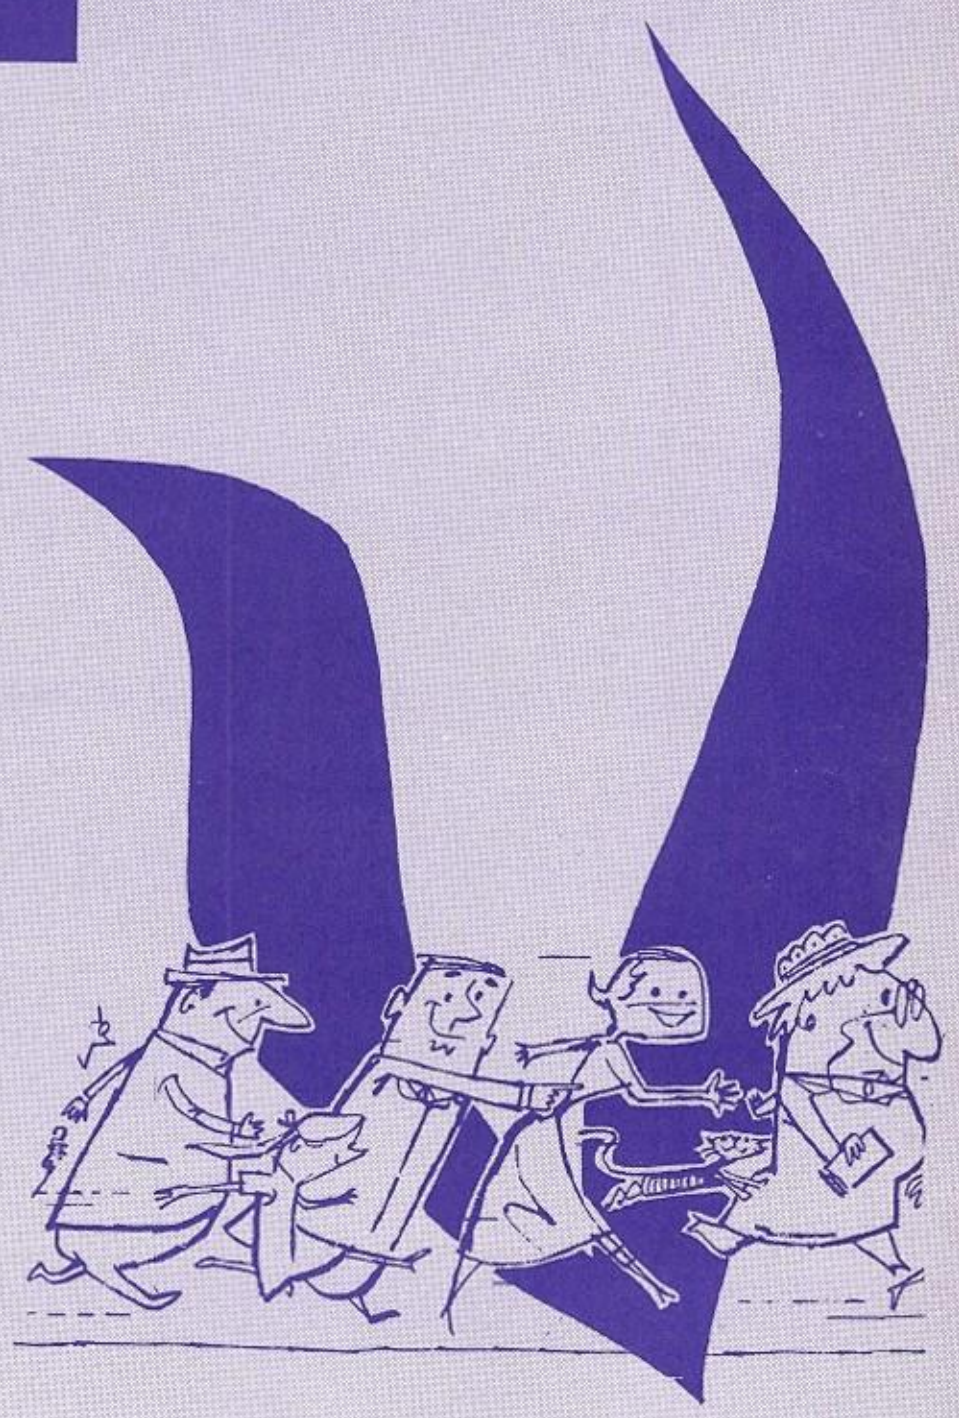
Activities

In addition to the all-important classes, activities play a significant role in student life at Richardson High School. Fall activities include poster parties, pep rallies, football games, after-game parties, class elections, car decorations, and the Christmas Prom. Winter activities involve basketball games, the Key Club Prom, assemblies, and plays. Baseball games, student council elections, preparation for the Junior-Senior Prom and senior activities highlight the spring season.

Social life in these four remembered years are influential. Richardson is not lacking in social affairs; and varied activities of different interests are provided for students at R.H.S.

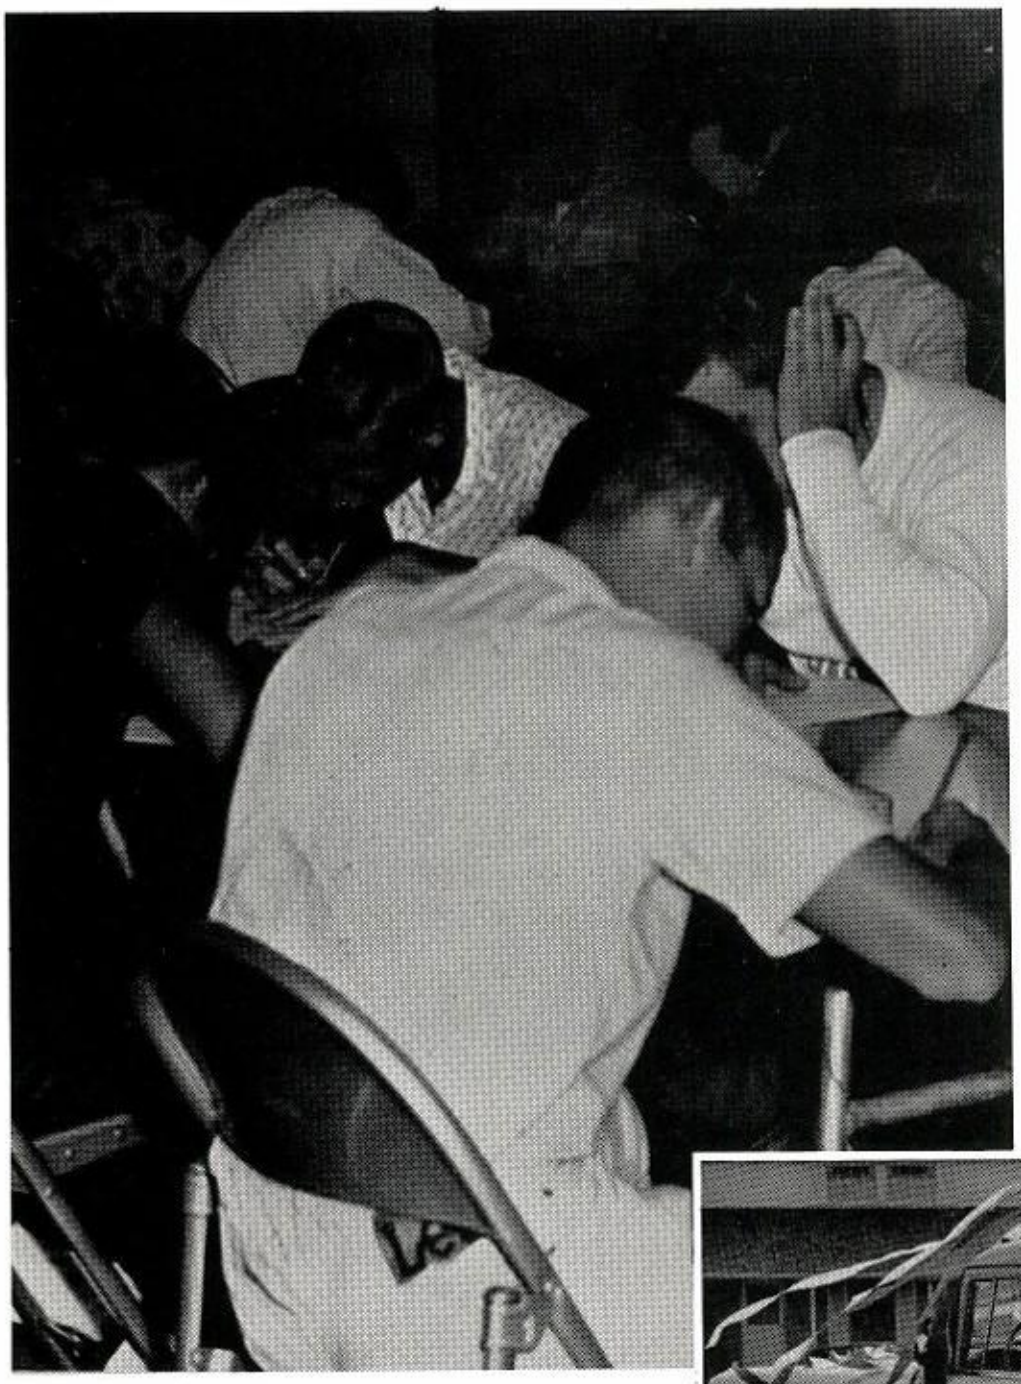


Fall Mean

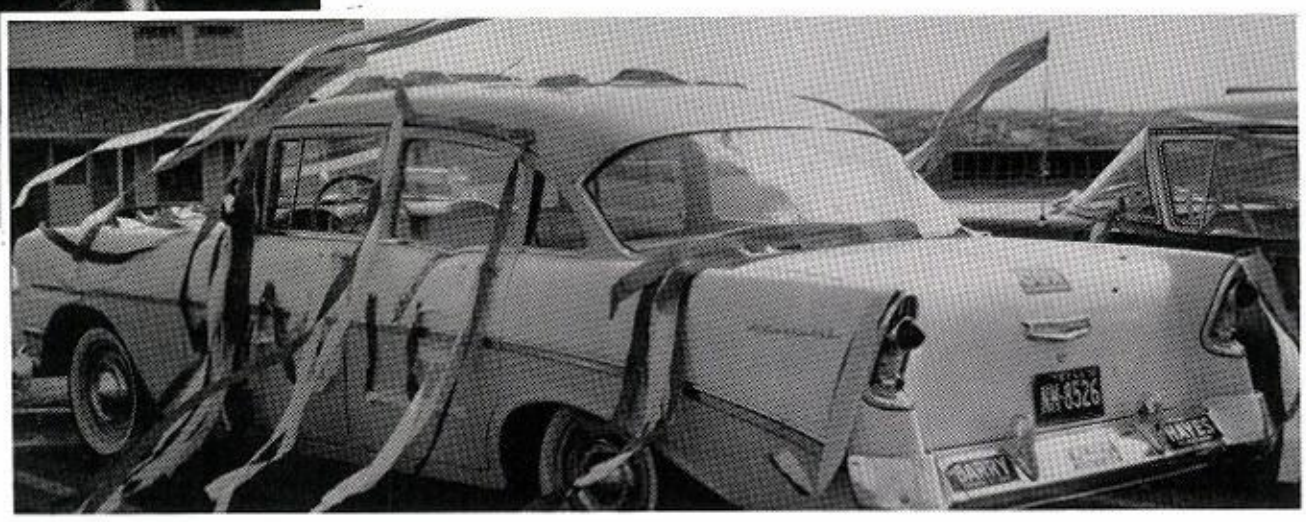
Football games . . . Mother Nature's array of colors . . . Pep rallies . . . First touch of frost . . . A cheerful fire . . . Autumn.

Autumn is a lovely time of year that has a different meaning to everyone. At R.H.S. it is a busy time of school, football games, pep rallies, informal dances, and happiness. Color is added to the school days through various ways of raising school spirit and more variety is added through different activities; such as the Girls' Service League tea to welcome new students, Fair Day, the Playhouse R.H.S. annual production, and several interesting assemblies. Autumn is also a time of making many new friends in both students and teachers.

Yes, autumn is gone at R.H.S., but the students have warm and happy memories they will never forget.



Juniors struggle through their PSAT tests that are to prepare them for future college examinations.



To show spirit during the football season, many students gaily decorate their cars.

Spirit ribbons are another way students support their team. Each wears his from Wednesda· until Friday during football week.

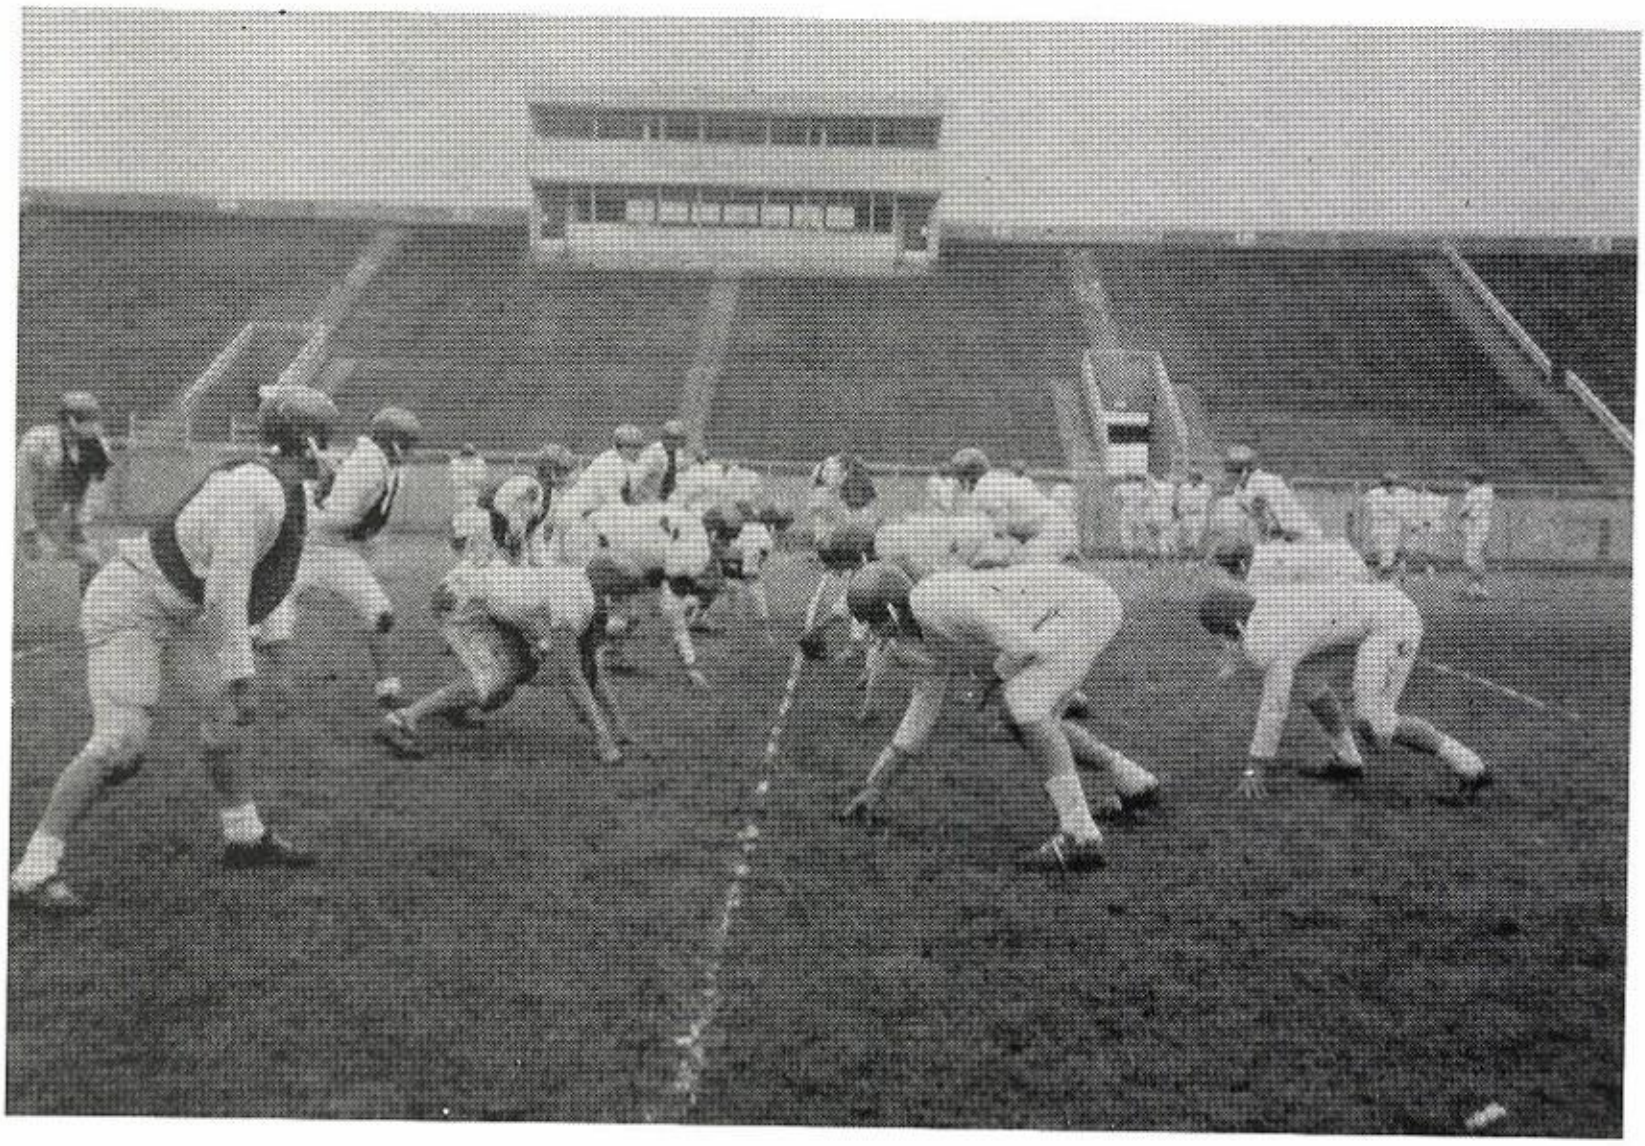
This is "the end" of Eaglette practice on this cold day for Friday's game.

All Week Spirit Climbs High!



It may be cold and wet, but the Eagles still have to perfect their plays before Friday night.

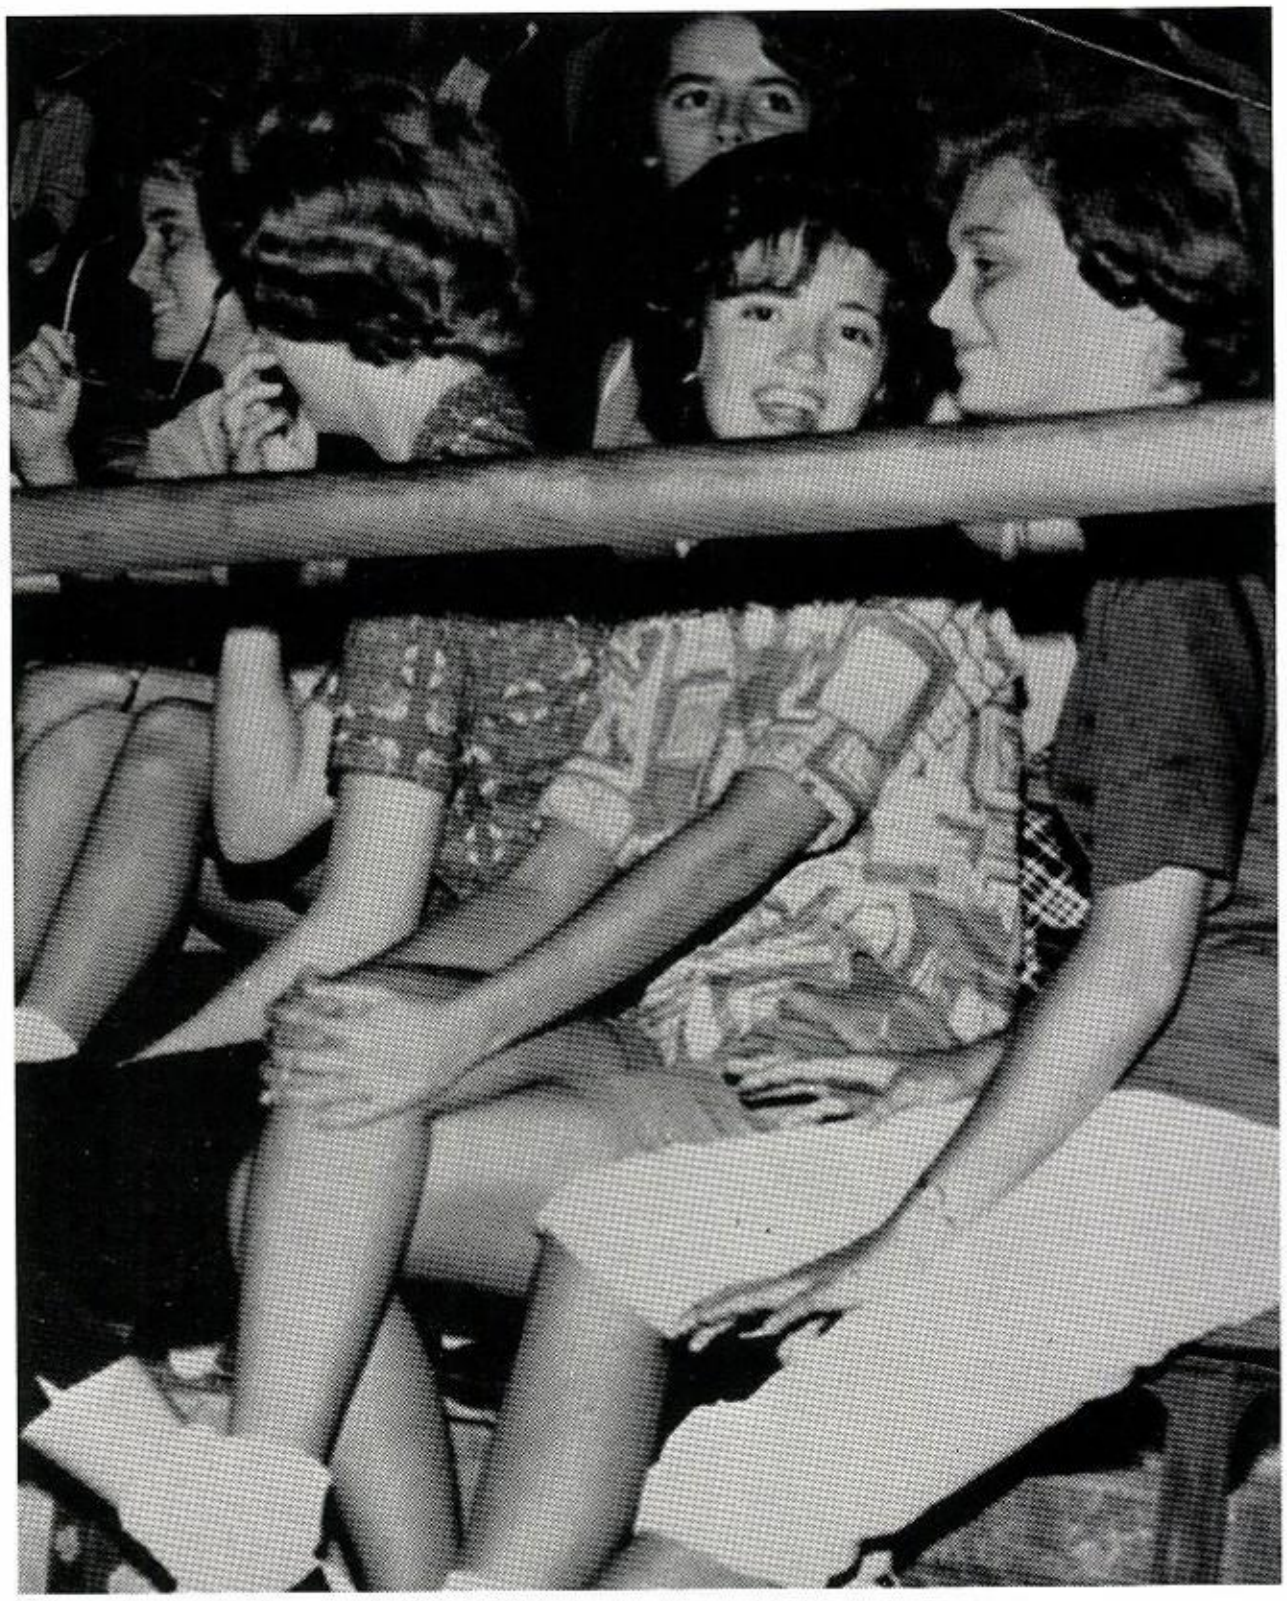
Spirit—that golden word! In Eagleland spirit is shown by various organizations in numerous ways. During first period every day during football season, the Eaglettes and Band can be found perfecting their routines. Of course, the football boys practice long hours after school to bring home a victory Friday night. Clubs, such as the Student Council, aid the cheerleaders in making spirit posters all week; who in turn sponsor such school-wide activities as color day, silent day, mourning day, and a day for the decoration of cars. Yes, spirit is shown in varied ways, but at R.H.S., it always comes from each student's heart.

School spirit is shown in various ways, and this Eaglette got hold of a paint brush to demonstrate his.

It looks as though cheerleaders Barbie, Ginnette, Sharon, and Judy really enjoy using their artistic talents for spirit posters each week.

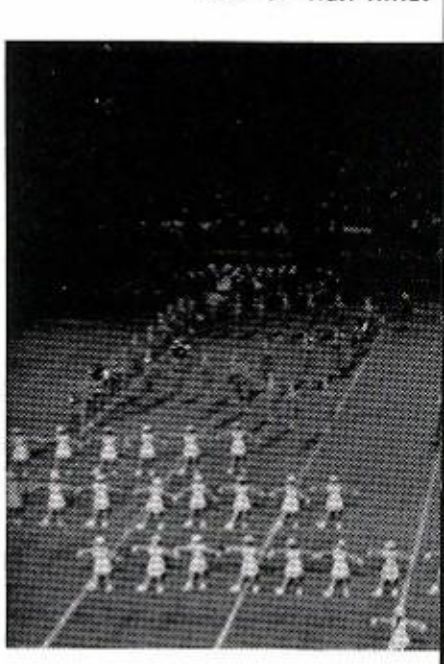
Jack Carrington leads the band in the practice of another of its intricate routines every Thursday morning.

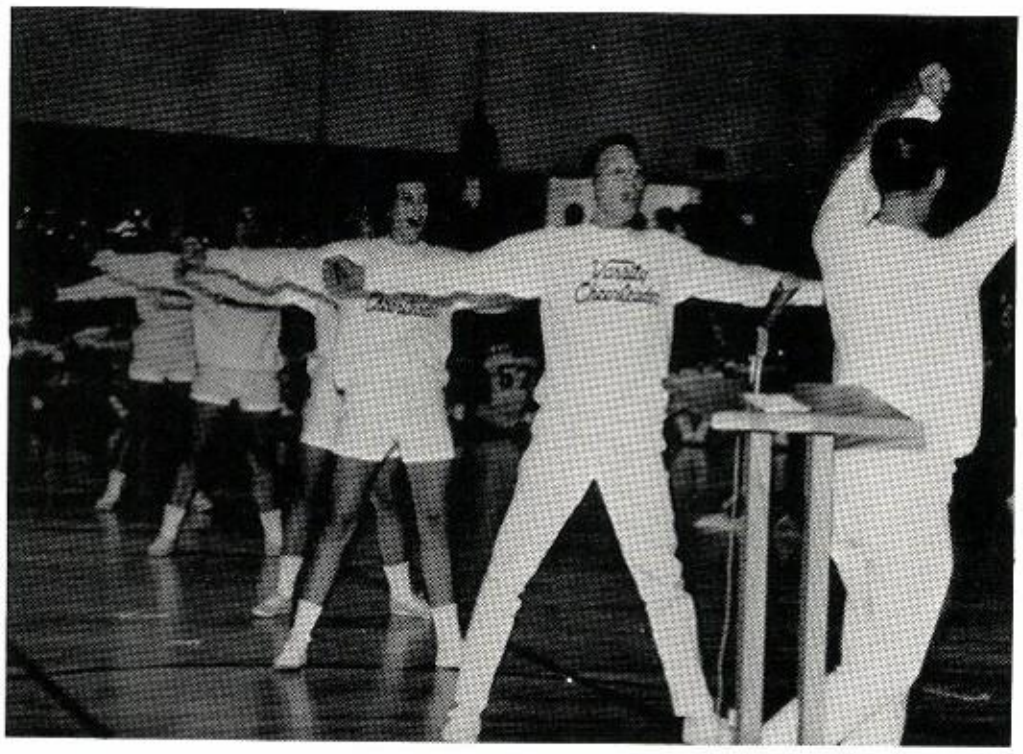
Spirit Reaches Peak on Friday



"I think we're going to win," one sophomore says to another, as Eagleites show school spirit in different ways.

Eaglettes and B
skill at half-time.

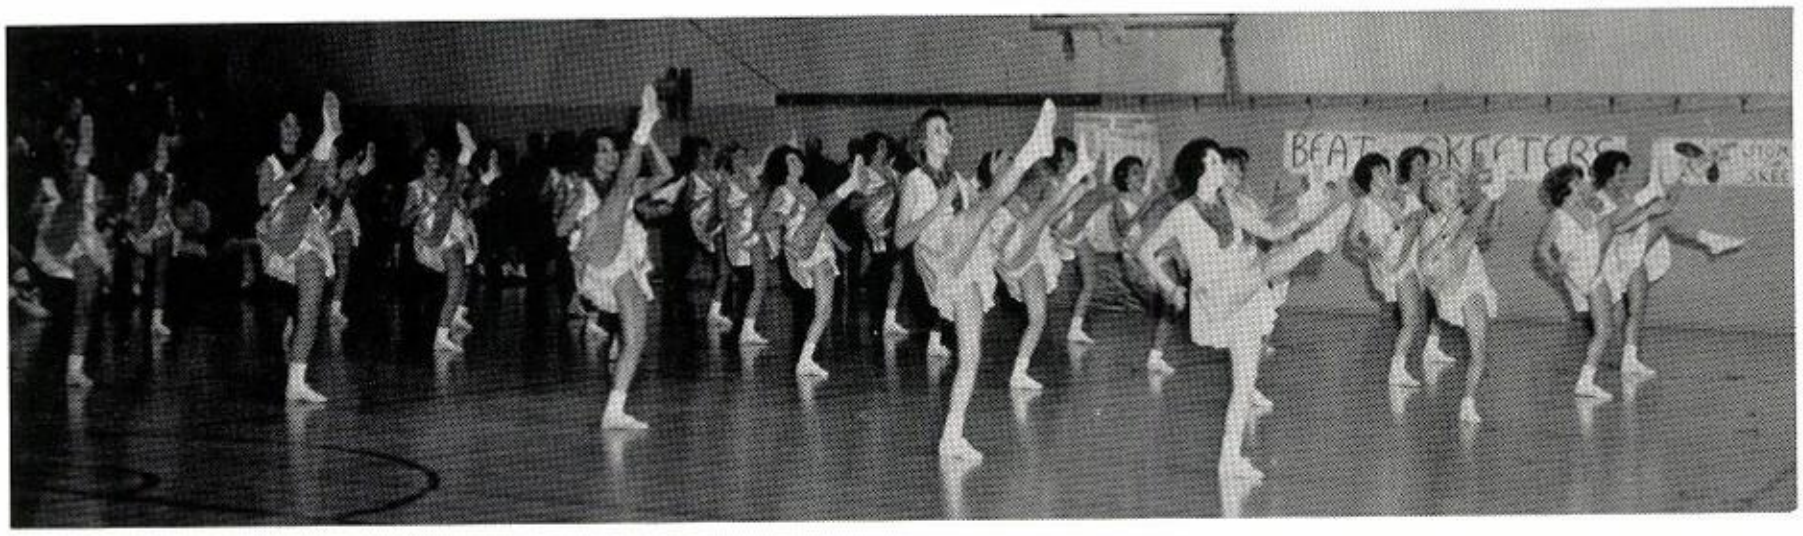




"R.H.S. beat the Lions! R.H.S. beat the Lions!" is this yell at this pep rally.

Friday is the day all this spirit reaches its peak, and around R.H.S. it almost seems as though the school will explode from so much of it. At 2:30 P.M., the highlight of the afternoon comes with the pep rally. These vary from one week to another. Sometimes the Eaglettes perform or a student from our host school visits, but always the cheerleaders lead cheers and the students reply as loudly as they can. Then, the game comes. Thrills and spills are discussed in the stands and much applause can be heard as the Eaglettes and band perform.

After each home game, a Victory dance is held in the gym, which gives a friendly and perfect ending to a perfect day.



"Step, kick, step, kick," the Eaglettes think as they perform at a pep rally.

Playhouse R.H.S. drew in a full house for its first production of the year, the fun-filled "Bernardine" by Mary Chase. From the first parting of the curtains until the last bow, the cast kept the audience breathless with laughter throughout the play.

Bernardine, is described by the boys in the play, was the imaginary perfect girl whose vocabulary consisted of one word—"yes."

Wormy suffered through overprotection from his mother, teasing from his friends, and an entanglement with a young divorcee in his search for Bernardine. As the curtain closed, the enthusiastic applause revealed that the funniest play in the history of R.H.S. was a hit.

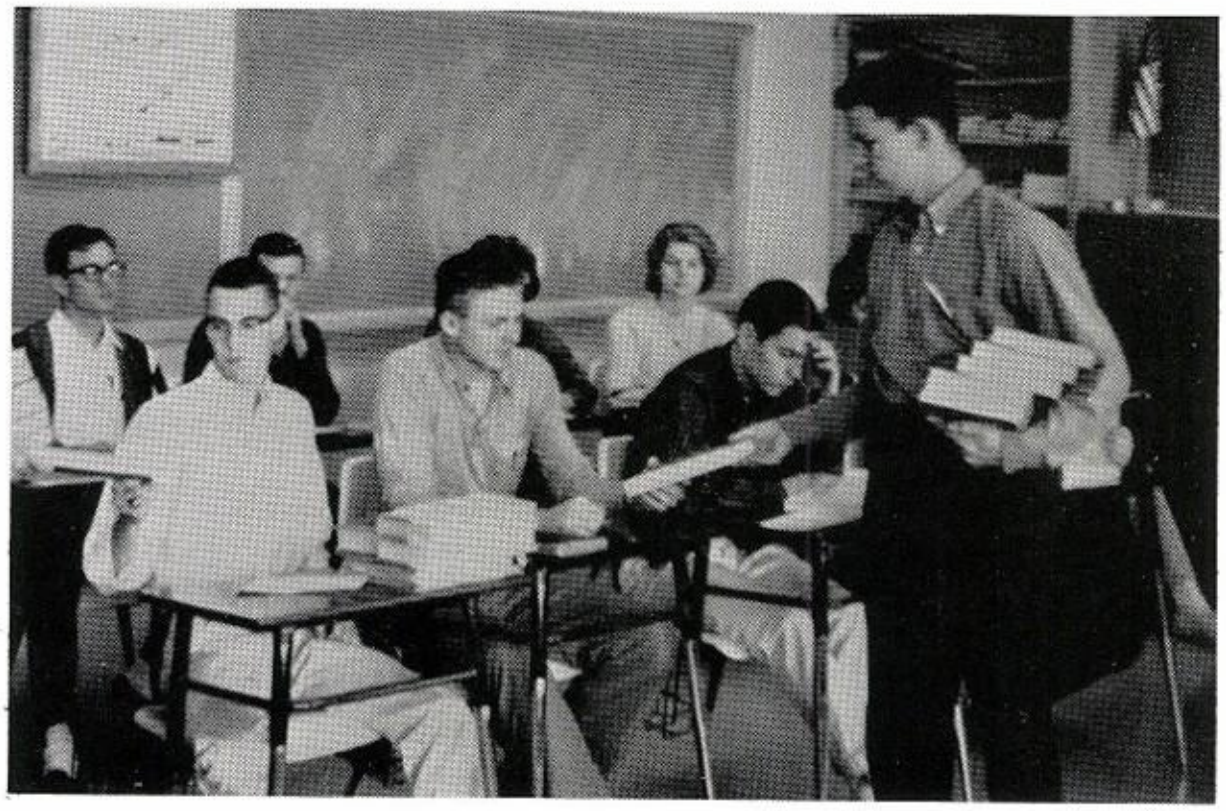
Winter is a happy time of the year highlighted by Christmas, anticipating snow and cold, a roaring fire in the fireplace, long walks on a crisp day, and popcorn. To these highlights R.H.S. has added the Christmas dance, basketball, Eaglette officer try-outs, various assemblies, exams, and the Key Club Prom.

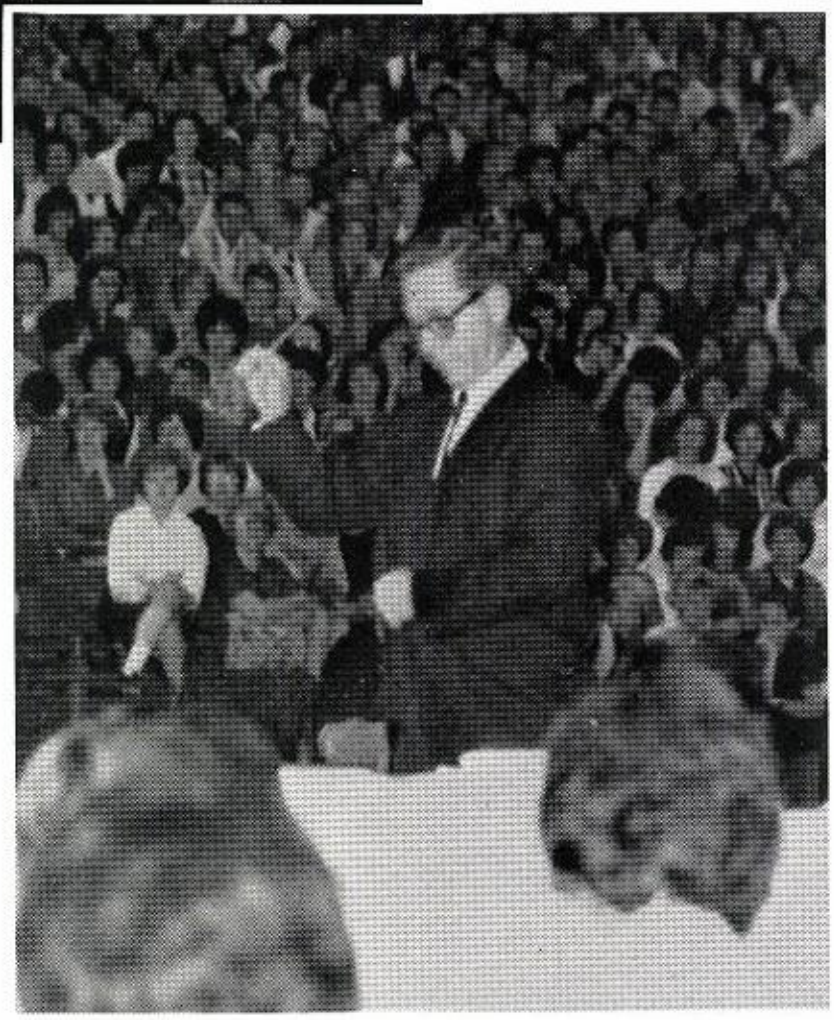
Basketball is always exciting in Eagleland and more interest was added through the new district 7-AAAA. Assemblies were numerous and varied from a talent assembly to pep rallies to the brotherhood assembly. Spirit built through the season and reached its climax the romantic evening of the Key Club Prom.



With the new semester come many new subjects such as this class—Advanced Social Science Problems.

While the band played a twist, the chaperones decided to rest.

Four R.H.S. clubs combined in order to make the Christmas dance an outstanding hi-lite of the '62 holiday season. The crowning touch was added by the long anticipated announcements of class favorites, Junior ushers, and the members of the 1963 Hall of Honor. The dreamy atmosphere made everyone feel that they could have danced all night.



Richardson Golden Eagle Band added a musical note to the holiday season.

A raise of an arm and a thundering chord marked the beginning of the Golden Eagle Band assembly. During the concert, students were thrilled with the perfection of the pieces. This program was climaxed with the entire school singing Christmas carols.

Winter 1962-63 was exciting at R.H.S. as new Eaglette officers were chosen and several assemblies were presented.

After teaching an original routine to the Eaglettes, leading in marching, and drawing on the blackboard how their routine will look, the five new officers were chosen. Led by captain Nena Thompson, the lieutenants are Sharyn Staecker, Barbee Deering, Nanette Hasty, and Linda Eppright.

Assemblies were varied and numerous. Presented by Playhouse R.H.S., the Christmas play instilled the true Christmas spirit in all students and the talent assembly was enjoyed by all. On a lighter note, the "Miss America" pageant was received with gales of laughter.

So, winter was a happy and busy season this year in Eagleland.

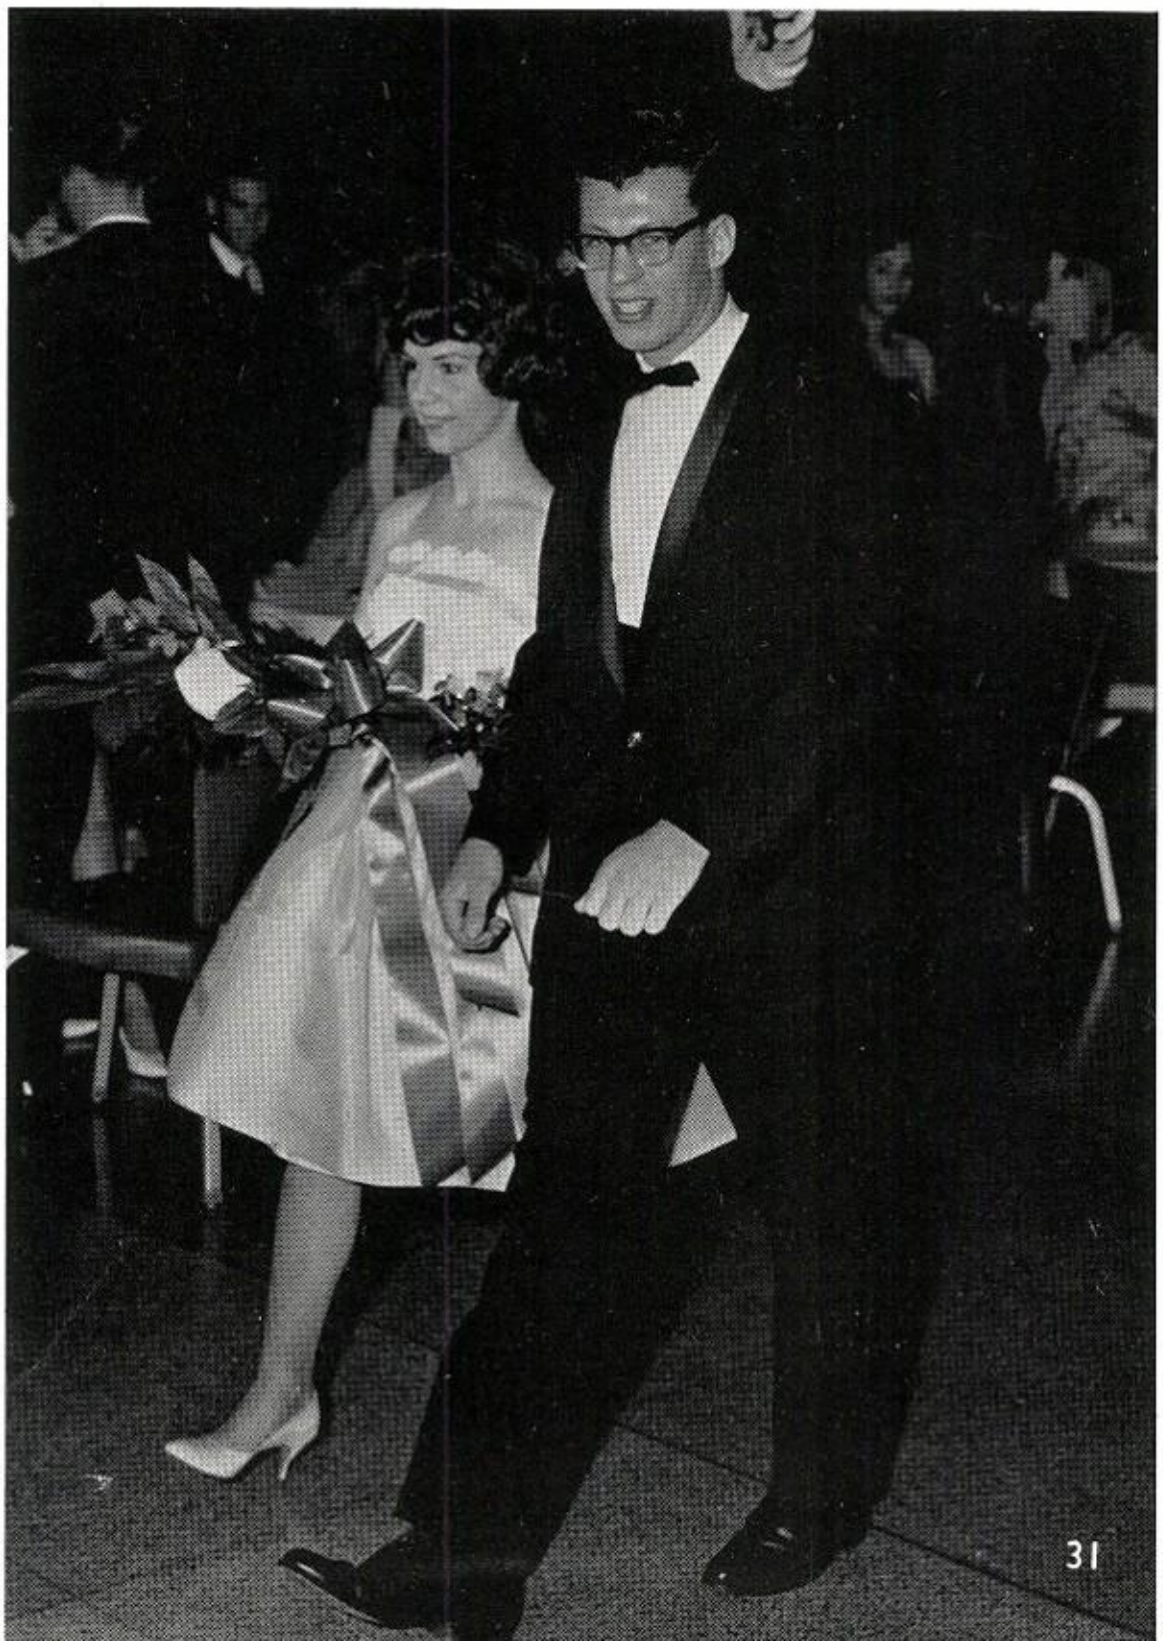
Highlights Day

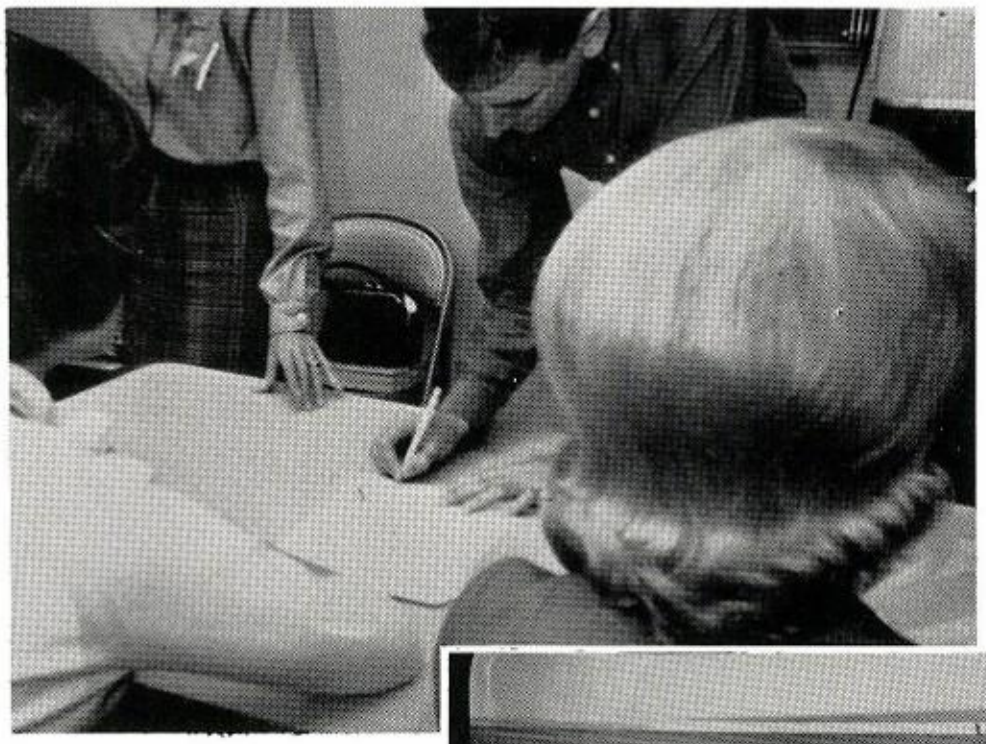
While walking through the large carnation hearts on the way to the Regency Room in the Adolphus Hotel, the romantic atmosphere of the Key Club Prom surrounded the students of R.H.S. and their dates. This atmosphere was increased through the soft music made by a seven piece combo.

Each year the Key Club Prom is given near Valentine's Day to honor the Key Club Sweetheart, who was Susan Keyes this year. Susan was presented by Key Club President Rick Harlow, and club sponsor Mr. Howard Starr gave her the traditional red roses. Rick and Susan then waltzed in a spotlight dance to "My Funny Valentine."

As the evening grew old, the music became softer, and by the end of the festivities, all the guests declared that the Prom had been a dream come true.

Sweetheart Susan Keyes is escorted by Key Club President Rick Harlow.



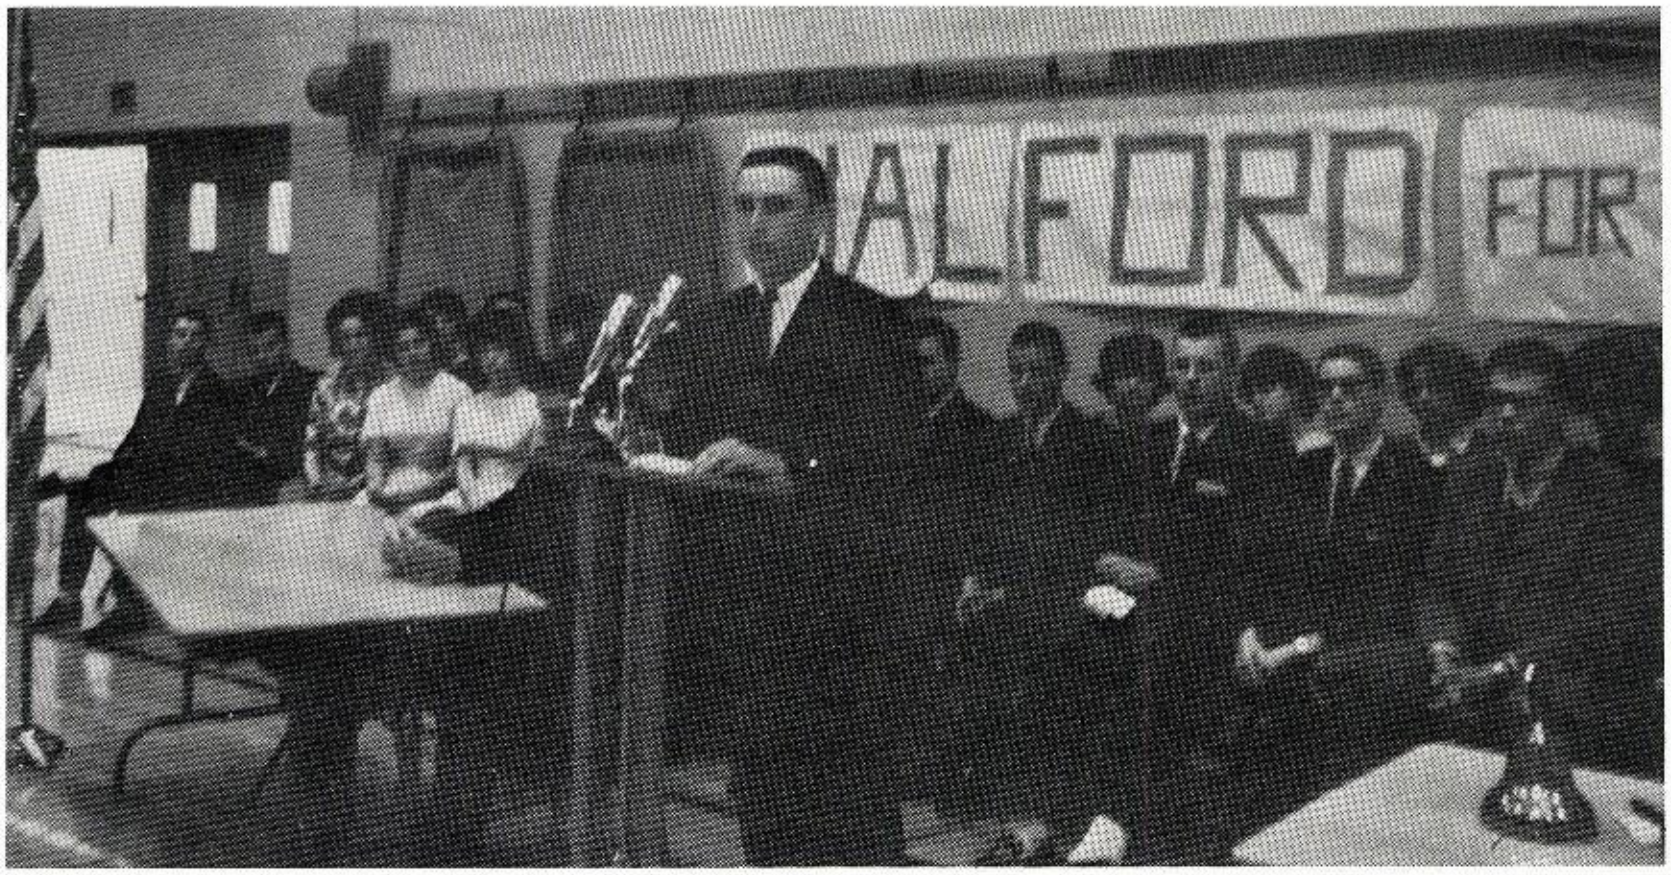


Each student must sign his name before voting to assure that no one votes twice.

Sam Martin demonstrates voting procedure to Madeline Peace.

Cathy Paikowsky hangs another poster for her campaign.

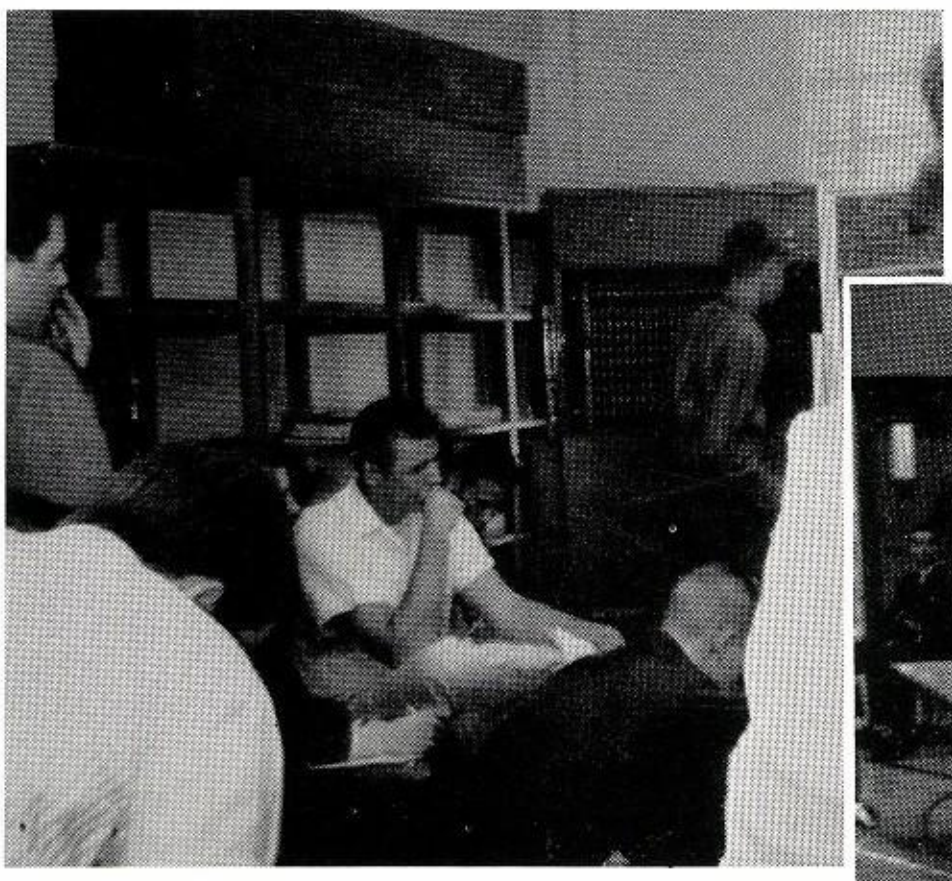
Waldrod to Head Student Council



Larry Waldrop was elected president of the Student Council. The platform which he presented to the students during his speech was for school unity.

With the flurry and hurry to sign candidate's petitions for student council officers, the annual campaign and election got under way to fill the offices of president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and historian. On March 4, posters for all the candidates filled the halls after uncountable poster parties held the preceding week. At 6:30 A.M. students arrived at school to put up posters, and thus the trend of hard work which prevailed throughout the week began.

Many new ideas were mixed in with the old during this year's campaign. The peak was reached on Wednesday as the political rally was held. Memorable speeches were given for the candidates and students had a tough decision to make when they went to the polls on Thursday. Final results were announced after the voting machines were opened and the officers of the 1963-64 student council are: President, Larry Waldrop; Vice-President, Chris Noble; Secretary, Patty Lipinski; Treasurer, Mike "Big Daddy" Oliver; and Historian, Donna Foster.



Each candidate and campaign manager waits tensely as student council members post the amount of votes.

Senior cheerleader, Ginnette King, distributes numbers to those underclassmen who are trying out for next year's cheerleaders.

With the coming of new flowers, green grass, and balmy weather, a new surge of activities burst out with the freshness of Spring. Activities are wide and varied, moving from Student Council elections to the Junior-Senior Prom, to Eaglette and cheerleader try-outs, to baseball and finally to graduation of the Seniors.

Old traditions were renewed at R.H.S. with Western Day and Kiddie Day being enjoyed by all the participants. As always, the Seniors enjoyed being Seniors and they got real kicks out of the Senior play and the Senior Trip. Finally, May 30 came and the Seniors left their alma mater to go to unknown successes and Spring activities were ended on a slightly romantic and sad, but optimistic, note.

Honors

During the first semester, Eagle-ites start to look around to see who does the most for R.H.S., who is best looking, who the best athlete is, who supports the athletic teams, and who has the best personality. In addition to these outstanding people, others are recognized in the Hall of Honor.

Honor is brought to R.H.S. by students who score high on achievement tests. These people are equally important to this school.

This year we have three foreign students who also bring honor to Richardson. These people are not only wonderful to talk to, but also provide our halls with a new atmosphere.

Hall of Honor

For the third year, eight students of RHS were selected as being outstandingly active in school affairs. Placed on a list of upperclassmen, not including favorites, who were thought to best represent leadership and scholarship qualities, they were elected by the votes of the faculty and Student Council.

Jane Amend

Jane is recognized as president of Playhouse RHS and captain of the Eaglettes. She also is a member of the Student Forum and the National Honor Society.

Suzanne Bealle

Editing the Eagle is one of the many jobs Suzanne does. She is a member of the Girls Service League, vice-president of the Student Forum, and president of Future Teachers.

Judy Doersam

Judy is vice-president of Chapter II of the Girls Service League. She is a member of the Student Council.

Liz Blankenship

Liz, senior class treasurer, is also an Honor Society member. She is an Eaglette and president of the Girls Service League, Chapter II.

Bob Roundtree

Bob holds the job of vice-president of the Key Club. He is a member of the National Honor Society and the Student Council.

Mike Connors

Being president of the senior class and the band keeps Mike busy. He still finds time, however, to serve on the Student Council.

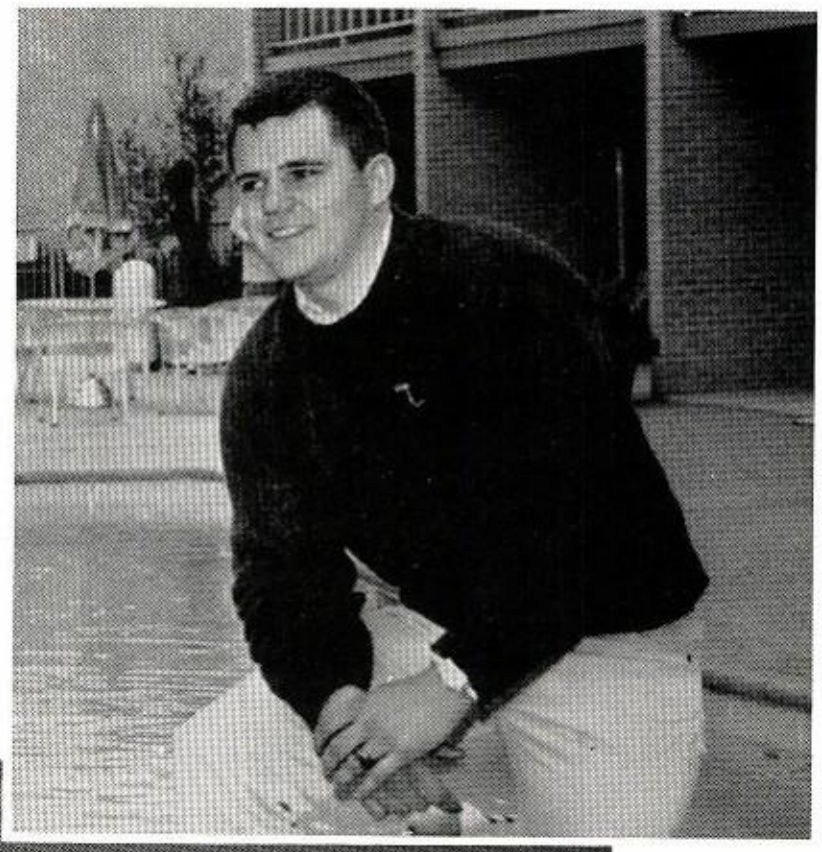
Diane Marsalis

Diane is secretary of Playhouse RHS. She has been an Eaglette for two years.

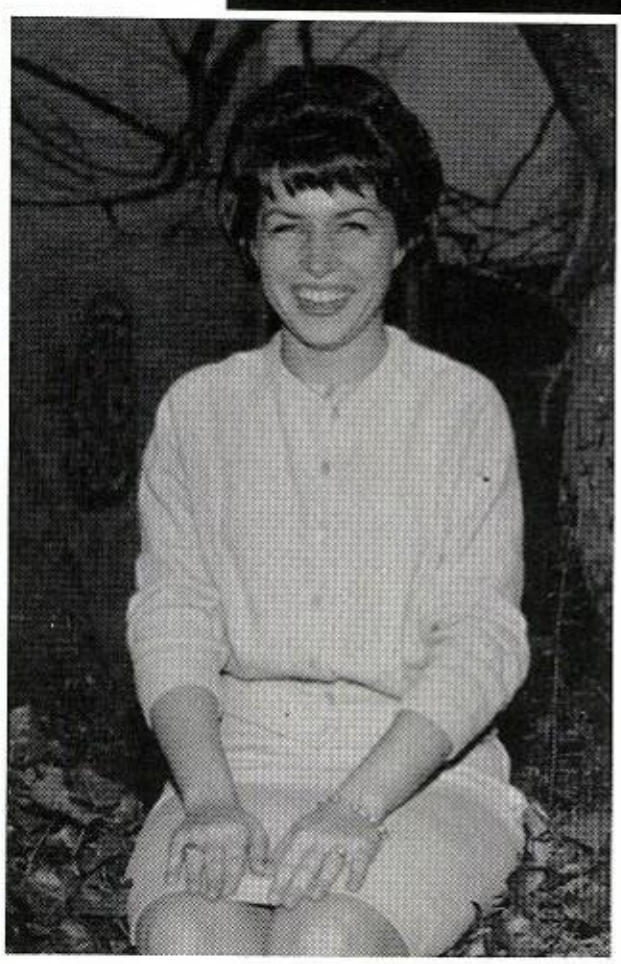
Susan Keyes

Susan is president of Chapter I of the Girls Service League. In November she was elected Eagle of the month. In February the Key Club chose her to be this year's sweetheart.

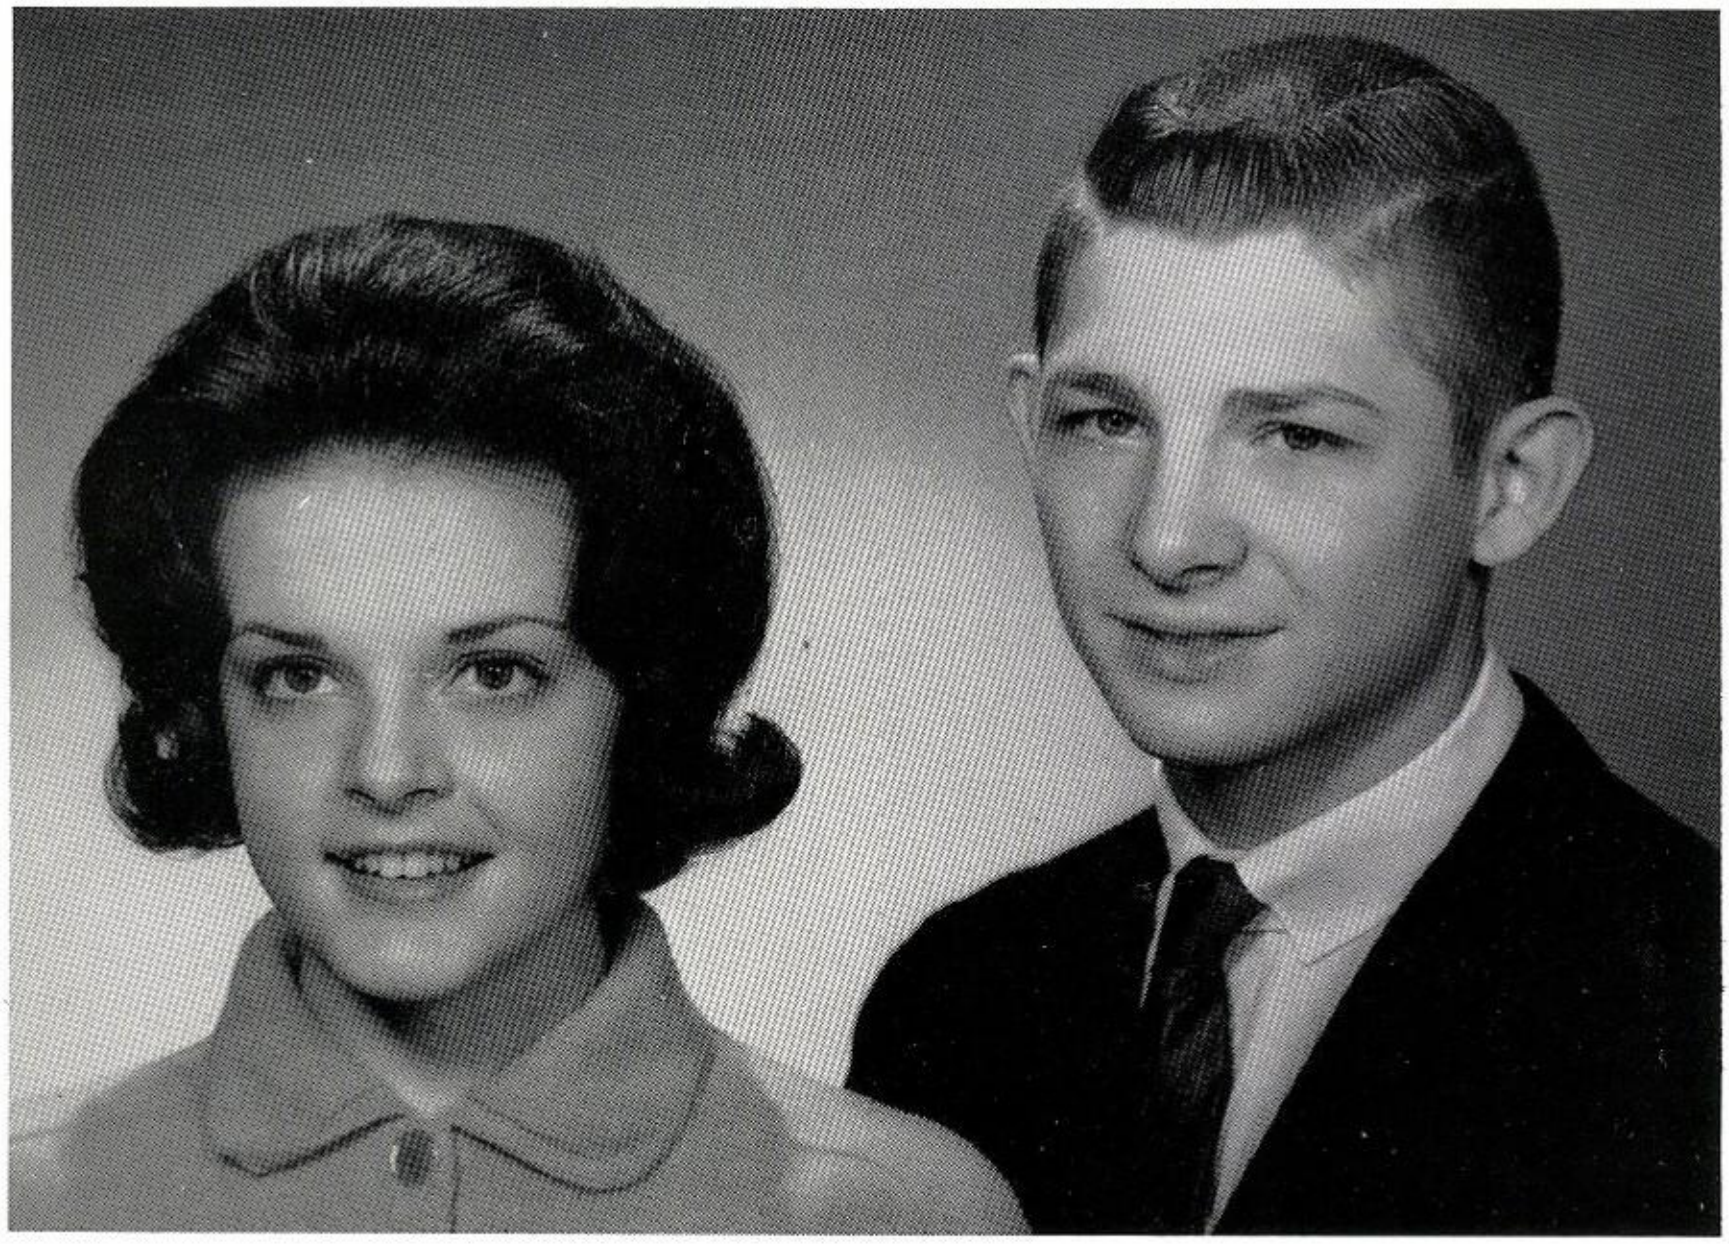
Senior Favorites



Senior class favorite Teddy Chandler is well known at R.H.S. for his four years' participation in football and track. He has been a representative of the Student Council and the club's treasurer. Previously he was also class favorite as a freshman.



Diane Chilton, class favorite for the Seniors of '63, has been her class secretary for three years. She is an Eaglette and member of the National Honor Society, P.A.S.F., and Girls Service League.

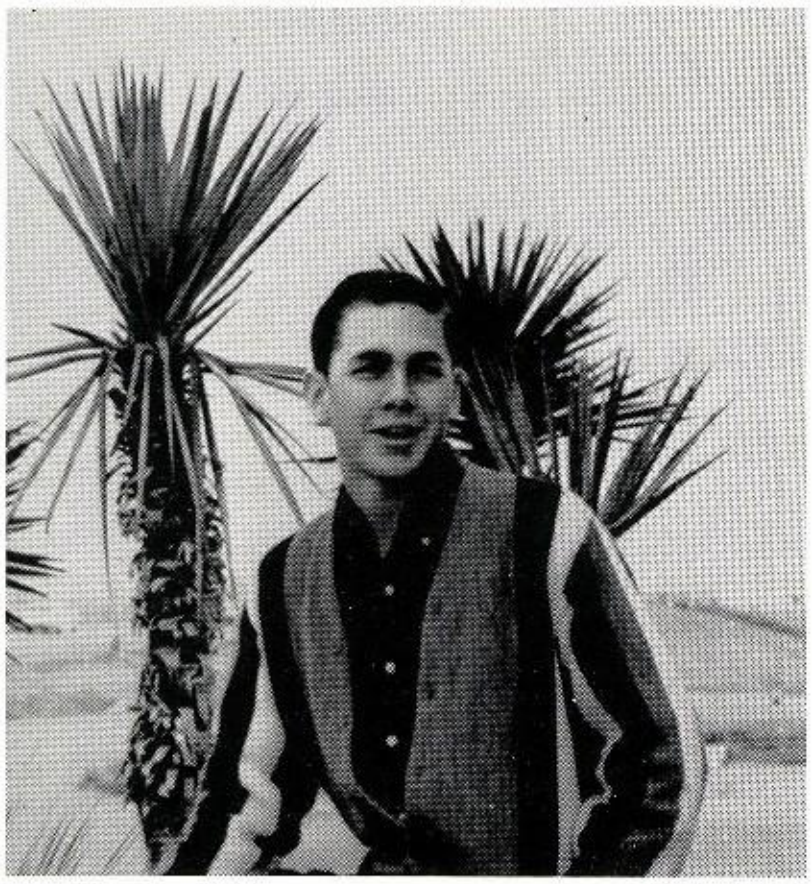


Junior Favorites

Junior favorite Tommy Hutton is Student Council Historian and Vice-President of the P.A.L. club. A former class president, he holds positions on both the football and track teams.

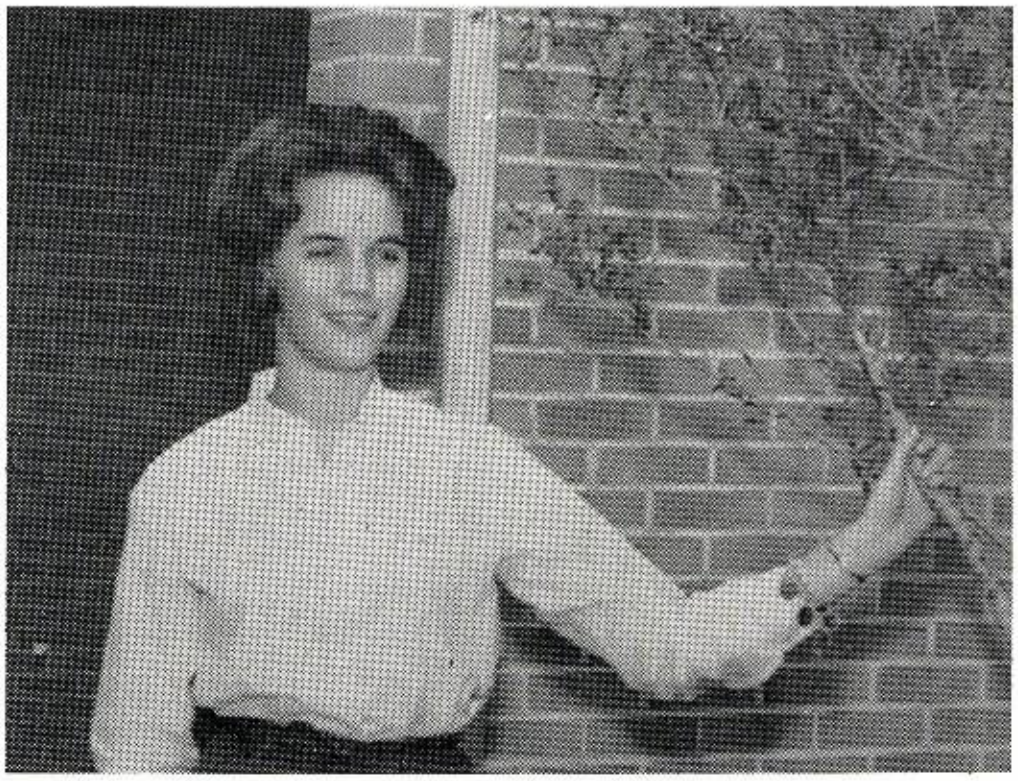
Nena Thompson, who represents the Juniors as class favorite, is a 2-year member of Eaglettes and the Girls Service League. While serving as class secretary, she also takes part in Student Council and Playhouse R.H.S. activities as members of both clubs.

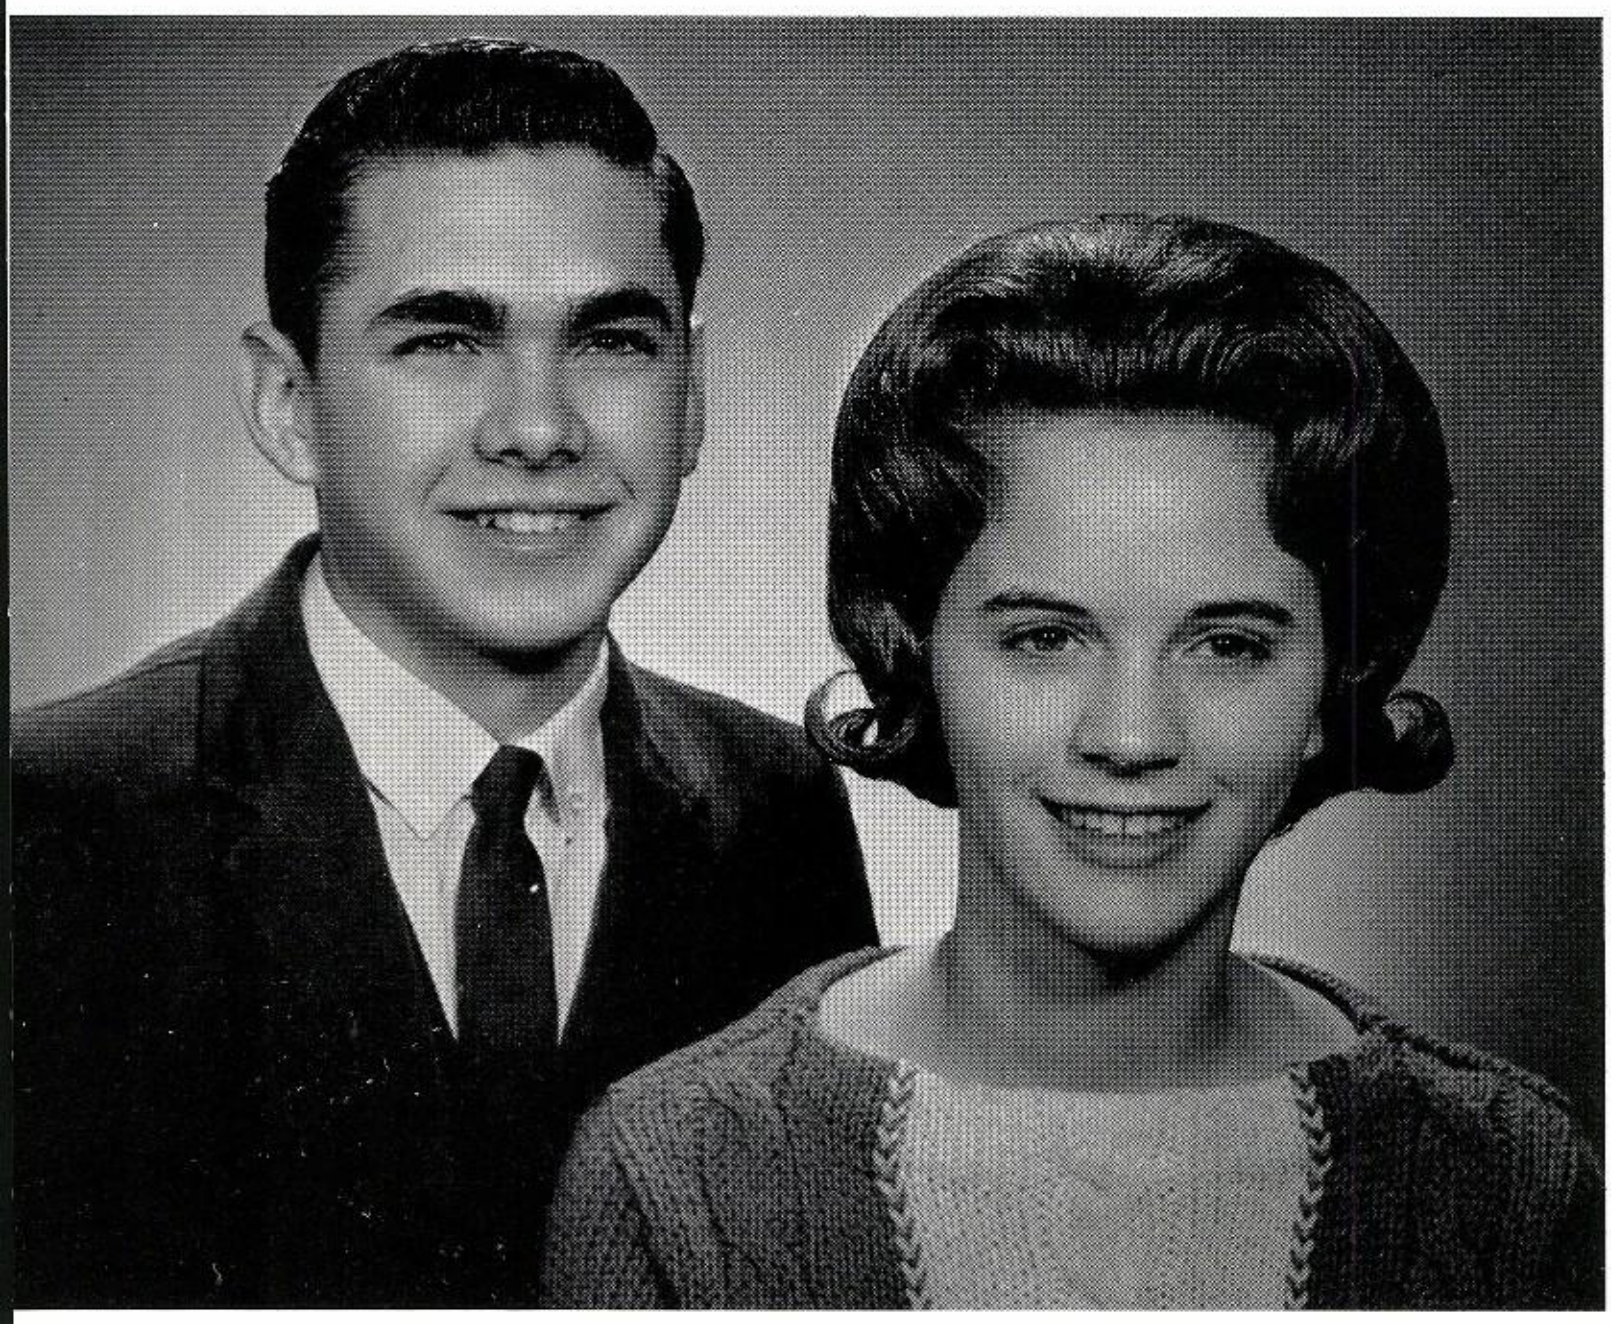
Sophomore Favorites



Terry Lumpkin is well known as a supporter of Sophomore activities and sports. He participates in the Key Club as a first-year member.

Marilyn Tipton's winning smile is seen in the halls of R.H.S. and in the Eaglette line. She is a member of the Girls Service League, Junior Classical League, and American Field Service. Her varied responsibilities include the vice-presidency of her homeroom.





Terry Lumpkin and Marilyn Tipton

This year Judy Handley was chosen as Richardson's representative for the National Council of Teachers of English. Her writing of the necessary autobiography and impromptu essay, plus her score on the required test, earned a college recommendation.

The Eagle of the Month title is given to a high school student who has contributed much to RHS but has received limited recognition. The honorees are nominated by a Student Council committee, voted on by the faculty, and finally selected by the Student Council as a whole.

RHS-ites Earn Scholastic and Extracurricular Honors

Susan Keyes, Eagle of the Month for November, was new to RHS as a junior. She showed her leadership quickly by becoming Girls Service League president and French Club vice-president.

Eagle of the Month for December was Betty Mullenweg. A former officer, Betty has been in Student Council work throughout high school. She is a member of the Student Forum and an Eaglette manager.

January's Eagle of the Month was Bob Roundtree. He serves as vice-president of the Key Club and worked in that capacity to promote the CARE project with Belt Line Jr. High. He was the November Lion of the Month honored by the Richardson Lion's Club and member of the Hall of Honor.

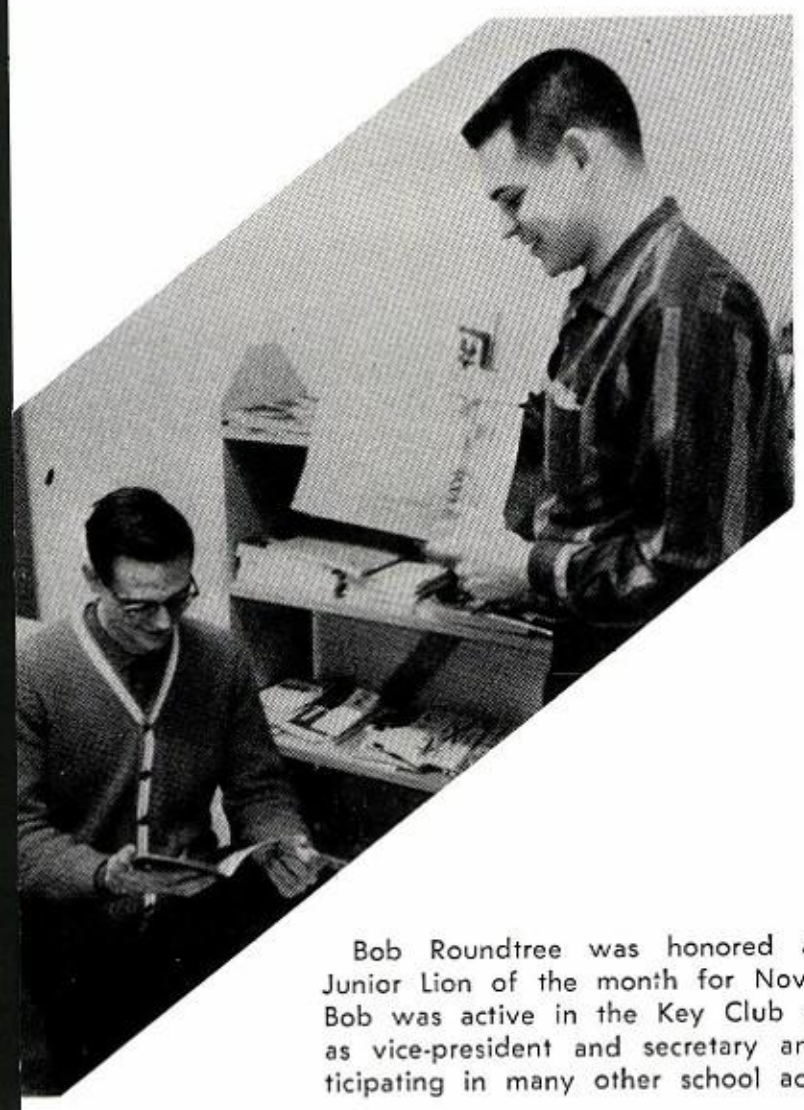
Ken measures Bill as Lynne and Mike watch approvingly.



Bob Roundtree was honored as the Junior Lion of the month for November. Bob was active in the Key Club serving as vice-president and secretary and participating in many other school activities.

Scholastic jacket awards were given to RHS juniors and seniors for the first time this year. Jackets are awarded for grade points earned during the first two six weeks of the current year and the preceding spring semester. Two per cent of the junior class and four per cent of the senior class can receive jackets. This year the maximum, eight juniors and twelve seniors, were honored.

Two RHS seniors, Virginia Carter and David Kennedy, were named semi-finalists in the 1962-63 Merit Scholarship competition. These two are among 11,000 seniors throughout the country who qualified by making high scores on the National Merit Scholarship tests. The Qualifying Test was given in more than 16,000 high schools last March.

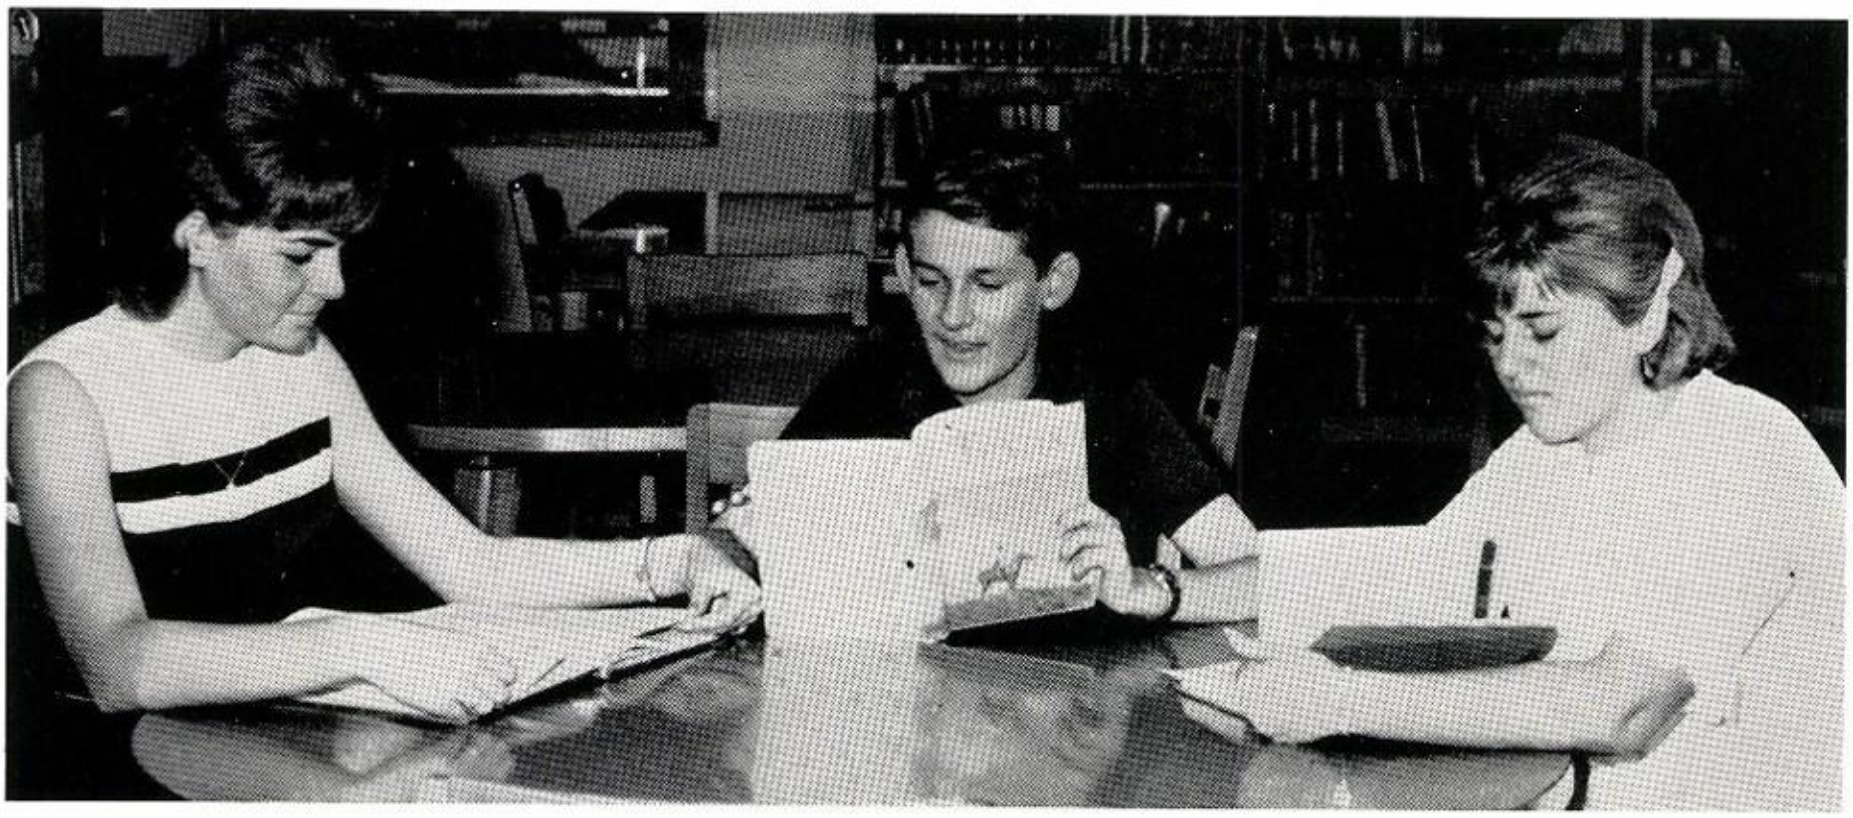
Arthur Boyer was also honored as Junior Lion of the Month or the month of January due to his outstanding work as co-ordinator for "Operation Christmas Gift." His work with he German Club, Chem-Phy Club and National Honor Society contributed to his recognition as Junior Lion.

Lena Gentzel is from Goteborg, Sweden. She came to this country on a Rotarian scholarship. Now, she resides with the D.U. Parker family. Lena and Claes Myrin, also from Goteborg, are very close friends. They both have had translation difficulties, but seem to make out fine with their English when necessary.

"Just think, Shelia," exclaims Lena, "I'm an official senior now that I have my pin."

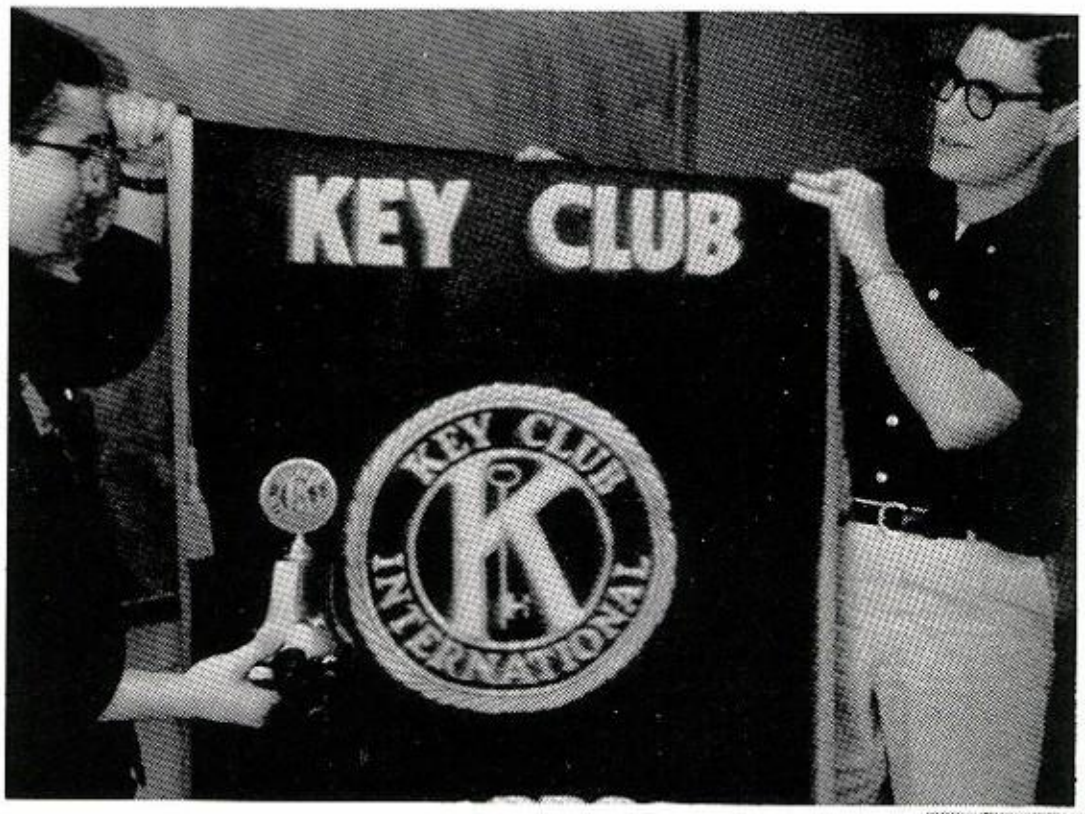
Foreign Studen

Sandy Spires, left: Lena Gentzel, right; Niyazi Oktem, left standing; and Claes Myrin present a program for the newly established American Field Service Club. Each one gave a delightful talk on their country and their impressions of America.



"All those things we heard about Texas were true!" remarks Claes Myrin to Lena Gentzel and Sandy Spires.

Bring Culture to RHS



Niyazi Oktem is another American Field Service scholarship student. Istanbul, Turkey, is his home where he took fourteen subjects in school. This year Niyazi is taking trigonometry, French, algebra, American literature and history, and second semester track. He is an active member in the Key Club and La Cercle Francaise. From help of his father who teaches Turkish geography and history and his uncle who is a lawyer, Niyazi seeks to enter the field of foreign relations.

Sandra Spires came from Chingola, Rhodesia, in South Africa as an American Field Service student. Since August she has been living with Betty Mullenweg. In the Rhodesian high school where she graduated last year, Sandy took fifteen subjects. This year at R.H.S. she is taking American history and literature, civics, typing, and art. She attended the football games this season, but confesses that she actually prefers rugby.

Sandy's tour of the R.H.S. by "sister" Betty Mullenweg includes the office and the routine of the teachers.

Sports

From the gymnasium to the stadium, the scene of purple and gold spirit is ever present. Athletic events at R.H.S. are the main extracurricular activities. Eagle-ites fill our new stadium during football season to enthusiastically cheer their team. The same spirit continues during basketball season.

This is our first year in 4A; Eagle teams have done a fighting job to hold their own.

Our athletic program has improved through the years and will continue to do so. It not only trains the physical body, but also co-ordinates the mind with the body. The boys on the teams practice hours a day to prepare for their competition. With the entire student body backing our football and basketball teams, the Eagles will win!

Eagles Tak

The Eagles took the long awaited step into 4-A this year. They fielded probably the best team in R.H.S. history, with 15 returning lettermen and a good squad of juniors up from the B-team. As the season got underway it appeared that the Eagles had the material to take the district crown, with a front defensive line averaging over 200 pounds and an offense which lacked only four of last year's starters. The team did have the material and with just a few lucky breaks could have gone all the way, but luck was not within the Eagle grasp. Out of ten hard-fought games, the Eagles managed to win only 3; however, they were beaten only once in yardage and managed to outscore their opponents by 25 points for the season.

School spirit was exceptional this year, especially considering the Eagles' losing season. R.H.S. students did a great job in our pep-rallies and were supporting the team right up until the last game of the season. The band also did a fine job of marching during half-times and in pep-rallies. Of course the Eaglettes did a tremendous job of entertaining during the season as well as promoting school spirit.

Much should be said for this year's coaching staff. It was led by head coach Bill Atkins who was assisted by head line coach Charles Broom and Jack Harris. These men spent more time than has ever been spent on a R.H.S. football team, and they should be commended for a job well done.

First year in 4-A is always the hardest and the years to come will be much better than this first experience. With a fine group of eager boys moving up next year, and this year's experienced juniors, the Eagles will move into a position of power in the 4-A ranks.

Rough Pre-District Schedule Tougher

Eagles

PRE-DISTRICT

R.H.S. Eagles faced the hardest pre-district schedule that a Richardson team has ever come up against. They opened their season with a trip to McKinney. Through poor officiating and other bad breaks, the Eagles lost 7-6. They came home determined not to let either referee or Bulldog stop them, and they didn't. North Dallas fell 28-0 to an aroused Eagle team. The Eagles then met a great Irving team. After the Tigers took an early twenty-three point lead, the Birds got back on their feet and outplayed Irving during the remaining three quarters of the game; final score 23-14. In the last game before district, the Eagles observed their homecoming with Grand Prairie. Leading 8-7 at the end of the third quarter, the Eagles fumbled deep in their own territory and were defeated 20-8. Although losing three out of their first four games, the Birds appeared ready to take the district route.

Eagles opened district play by meeting top-ranked Denison here. The team was at a disadvantage even before the opening kick-off, losing the services of star D. J. Moore because of a severe back ailment, and Bill Kinder with a sprained ankle. Denison was led by All-State fullback Mike Jordan, who scored 3 out of 4 of Denison's touchdowns. The lone Eagle tally was made after Mike Morris took a third period kick-off 73 yards setting up a 14 yard scamper by Andy Rooker.

inal Seconds

Half a minute was the difference between a tie and a loss for the Eagles in their third district game against Garland in a 21-14 final.

Recovering two fumbles deep in Richardson territory, the Owls led 14-0 at the half.

The second half saw the Eagles come alive with two touchdowns. Mike Morris scored first, completing a 68-yard series. Moore plunged over for the second after an 81 yard drive to tie the score. With only forty-five seconds left, however, Garland scored to break the tie.

As the Mesquite game got underway, the Eagle found himself near the end of the season with a 1-7 record. Determined to win, the Eagles caught fire. On the first play of the second quarter, Moore exploded over left tackle for seventy-five yards and a touchdown. Kinder picked up the extras with a pass from Rooker. Five minutes later the score was 16-0 due to a score by Morris and extras by Melton. In the third quarter Mumaw recovered a Mesquite fumble which set up a score by Kinder and Moore running for the extras. Shortly afterwards, Durham surrounded a fumble setting up the next score, a Rooker to Moore pass; Rooker swept end for the extras. The last score was a thirteen yard run by Franklin. The 38-0 defeat was the worst in many years for Mesquite.

Vith Win

For the last game of the season the Eagles traveled to Denton. The first score came in the first quarter when Rooker threw 37 yards to Moore. After a long Eagle drive, Rooker plunged over from the 3 for the second score. The last tally came on a one yard dive by Chandler. The final score was a 22-6 win, which salvaged a fourth place tie in our district. This win allows next year's team to begin the season on a winning streak; we only hope that this will be an omen of good-luck in future 4-A competition.

A pep rally before the game with Grand Prairie set the stage for the selection of the candidates for the Homecoming Queen of 1962-1963. The student-filled gym became silent as the three captains, Ricky Harlow, D. J. Moore, and Andy Rooker along with Joe Gray went into the audience to select the lucky girls. The four candidates selected were Linda Moore, escorted by D. J. Moore, her brother; Ginnette King, escorted by Ricky Harlow; Teresa Floyd, escorted by Joe Gray; and Jane Amend, escorted by Andy Rooker. The team had voted on these girls by secret ballot the preceding week. During the half-time of the Grand Prairie game Linda Moore was crowned 1962-1963 Homecoming Queen by D. J. Moore, her escort and brother. Linda is a senior member of the Eaglettes as well as an active participant in school activities.

Richardson B-team football squad moved up to 4-A with his big brother varsity. They proved to be a fine team with a season record of 6 wins and 3 losses. The B-Eagles played the same schedule as did the A-team, playing varsity opponents B-team the night before the varsity game.

The team was led in scoring by halfback Tom Blasutta, followed by Ronnie Martin and Wendell Housley. The rest of the backfield included Langeloh, Frazier, Higgins, McGeehee, Collier, Petty. Line positions were held by ends Penix, Foos; tackles, Stowe, Prickett; guards Fincher, Linn; centers Cowan, Murdock.

Coach Max McClearin and Clyde Van Sickle coached the team. This team should add greatly to next year's chances for a championship.

Sue Price Chosen Basketball Sweetheart

Early in the season each year, before the Dr. Pepper Invitational Basketball Tournament, a girl is selected by the basketball team to represent them during the tournament and the remainder of the season.

The game against Kimball set the scene for the selection of this year's sweetheart, Sue Price. This year's team presented Sue with a gold charm and a dozen long-stemmed roses during half-time.

Sue is a senior member of the Eaglettes and an active participant in other school activities.

Eagles Finis

The Eagles found tough flying in their first year of 4-A basketball competition. Due to lack of interest in some of last year's players, the team had only one man returning from last year's varsity squad, which was unusual for any team.

Although the team lacked much experience and size, they showed great hustling and spirit in compiling a 4-8 record, which could have been a winning record with just a few breaks. It seemed as if R.H.S. was really jinxed this year, losing Andy Rooker to a broken ankle, and then losing D. J. Moore during the last part of the season, also to a broken ankle.

This year's team was led in district scoring by senior Andy Rooker with 64 field goals and 32 foul shots for a total of 160 points. He was followed by senior Alan Mochel with 49 field goals and 17 foul shots for a total of 115 points. Lew Brewer led this year's team in percentage of shot completions with an impressive 58.5%. He was followed by sophomore Tom White with 45.9%. This year's backboards were controlled by Alan Mochel, who got 47 offensive rebounds, and 74 defensive rebounds for a total of 115. Tom White and Lew Brewer were next with 84 and 79, respectively.

Different captains were chosen for each game during the year, but at the end of the season Andy Rooker was chosen the team's choice for the entire year. Andy was a three year letterman and a two-time all district team member.

The Eagles were coached this year, as they have been for many years in the past, by Mr. Randall Herman. Coach Herman, who was honored as Dallas county's 3-A Coach of the Year, for 1962, did a fine job of coaching the team, and should be commended for a job well-done.

t Dr Pepper Tournament

After a very slow pre-district start, the Eagles seemed to jell into a really fine looking team in the annual Dr. Pepper Invitational Basketball Tournament. The Eagles lost their first game to Hillcrest but did very well in the next two consolation matches, beating Fort Worth Northside and Greenville. In their next game they were matched against highly rated Texarkana. The Eagles fought hard and were out in front for the first quarter, but Texarkana just had height on the Eagles—over three inches per man, and so the Eagles fell. This tournament was a great team effort under big odds; odds that were increased with the loss of Andy Rooker, who had broken his ankle.

In their second encounter with the Highland Park Scotties, the Eagles played about their best game of the season. This was the most exciting game of the year. It was anybody's game from the first quarter until the second overtime period was over. A different team led at the end of every quarter until the end of the fourth period when the score stood at 59-59. During the first overtime it looked as if the Eagles would be sure victors, but the Scots got the ball somehow scoring in the final seconds to tie the game and cause another overtime. In the second overtime the Scots proved victorious, and the final score was 59-63, a Highland Park victory.

Andy Rooker led the Birds with 24 points; he was followed by John Smith with 11, Allen Mochel with 10, Brian Lemons with 8, and Leu Breuer with 6.

Win Over Denison

The Eagles spread their wings on the basketball court for the last time during the '62-'63 season with a win over Denison. This game was in the Eagles' grasp all of the way. After getting an eleven point lead in the first quarter, the Birds held on to this lead and increased it to a thirty-three point lead at the game's end. The team was led by Tom White, still recovering from injuries received in an automobile accident, with 21 points. Andy Rooker followed close behind with 20 points. Other scorers were Leu Brewer with 9 points and Gary Grant with 8 points.

Coach Herman Honored

R.H.S. basketball coach Randall Herman was named AAA Coach of the Year for 1962 in Dallas County.

Coach Herman was honored at the annual Sports Achievement dinner at the downtown Y.M.C.A. in February, 1963.

Coach Herman guided the 1962 R.H.S. team to a bi-district championship and the regional finals where the Eagles were defeated by Waxahachie, runner-up for the State Championship.

The Eagles won twenty-six and lost four, running away with District 5-AAA with fourteen consecutive wins.

Carroll Hoosier, who was named All-State and AAA athlete of the year, was honored with Coach Herman and a flock of others.

Coach Broom's B-Team "Bombers" ended the season with a great 13-5 record. This was a tremendous season against very solid 4-A competition in our new district. This year's team was led by Gary Grant, Ed Olenkamp, Don Blackwell, Greg Langloh, Brian Schroeder, Rick Hosea, and Joe Frazier. The leading scorers were Don Blackwell and following close behind was Greg Langloh.

These boys showed a great deal of hustle, ability, spirit, and a lot of potential for next year's squad. If they play to their potential next year, the Eagles' chances for a district championship will be great.

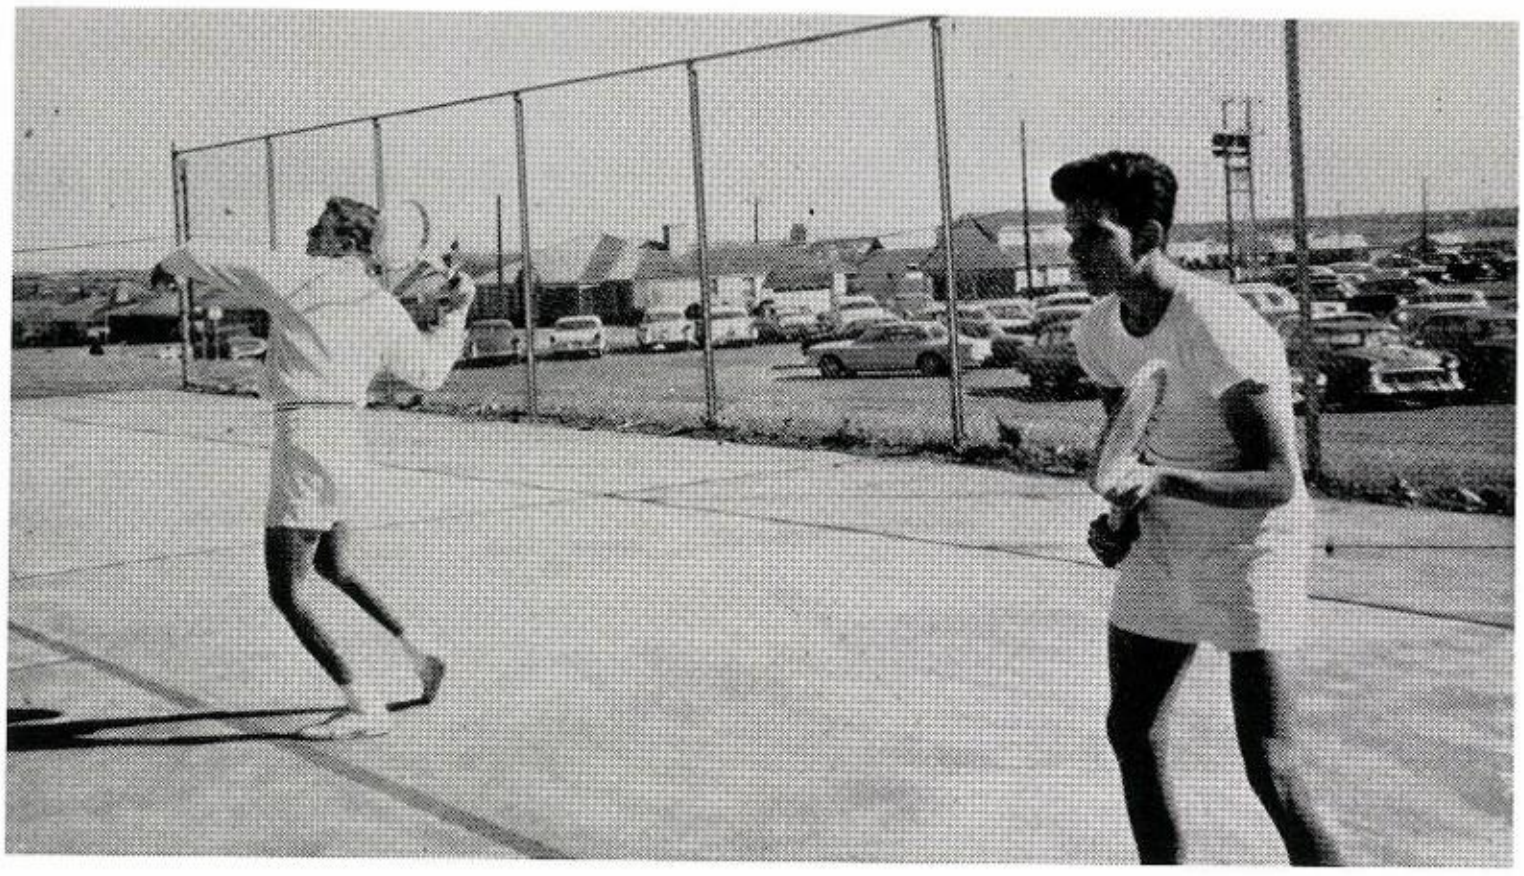
Tommy Maupin finishes first

In the second year in history of the R.H.S. cross-country team's existence, the Eagles came through with a brilliant season. Finishing first in three meets and second in two, R.H.S. was thought of as the best team in Dallas County.

Richardson began the season by going to White Rock for the St. Marks Invitational Cross-Country Meet. In this first effort the Eagles finished second to Arlington Heights. Afterwards, the team won a first in the Kimball meet, and then a third at Hillcrest, which came right before the State meet at Austin on December 8. In this meet, the team finished seventh, which was very good, considering the number of participating schools in the field. Tommy Maupin was the top Eagle finisher with a seventeenth place. After State the team had, perhaps, their best meet traveling to Jesuit. Richardson won first place beating Arlington Heights of Ft. Worth, who finished third in the State meet. For the last meet of the season R.H.S. held the Richardson Invitational when they finished second behind Kimball.

This year's team was led by senior captains Dave Montgomery, David Russell, Martin Lumpkin, and Gary Quick; juniors Mike Wooten, Steve Shopoff and Chris Noble. Chuck Conner was the manager and Mr. Jack Harris was the coach.

Although Cross-Country is a relatively new and unknown sport to R.H.S., the team did much to increase the popularity of the sport as well as R.H.S. prestige. This year's team collected a total of five team trophies, putting a 4-A gleam into our trophy case.



Tennis team braves freezing weather to work-out.

Spring Athlet

As winter's soft bite softens and spring eases in, so do the many sports that spring always brings. The time for baseball, track, tennis, and golf is now at hand. This is a great time for those who enjoy athletics because there is a place for every one with the great variety of sports going on.

Even early in the season it appears that R.H.S. is headed for spring victories. Our baseball team has played four games against rough competition and they remain undefeated. Our track team has also made a very good showing thus far. Niel Matzen took second place in the Dallas Invitational Indoor meet's highjump. We also made an unusually fine showing in the Southwestern track meet in Ft. Worth.

The high school division of this meet drew contestants from three different states. Due to the efforts of Bill Stokes and his school record breaking 49.5—440 dash and our relay team's excellent performances, we came in sixth place in a field of thirty schools. So far the golf and tennis teams haven't really gotten under way, but their practices look extremely hopeful. All evidence so far seems to point to a spring full of Eagle victories.

Faculty

Various personalities perform a job in many different ways. Each teacher has a different method of presenting material, testing, keeping discipline, and grading. For this reason each teacher's classroom is somewhat different from the previous ones.

Teachers back Eagle-ites by not only teaching, also by sponsoring clubs and bus trips.

Conventions, seminars, and special classes are set up for teachers to keep abreast with the latest educational devices in their particular field. The teachers at Richardson take full advantages of these opportunities.

The administration is the executive branch of the Richardson Independent School District. It is the job of the administrators to organize and co-ordinate the activities of their particular division in the district. These executives, both those in high positions and those with smaller divisions of authority, have done such an outstanding job that the schools have become among the best in the state despite rapid growth.

Mr. J. J. Pearce helps decide the policies under which the Richardson schools will function. As Superintendent of the district, he is the top official in seeing that the decisions are carried out.

Administrators Execute School Board Rulings

Members of the School Board are elected by the voters of the school district. They serve without pay and use their experience, skills, and time to promote the educational welfare of Richardson children.

The only member of the board who has served four years is Mr. G. M. Crittenden, the present president. Henry B. Atkin, Jr., has served three years and is vice-president. Shown in the picture from left to right are Mr. James R. Crews, Dr. Ben P. McCarley, Dr. Chas. Stringer, Mr. Robert E. McCarley, Dr. F. E. Brooks, and Mr. J. J. Pearce.

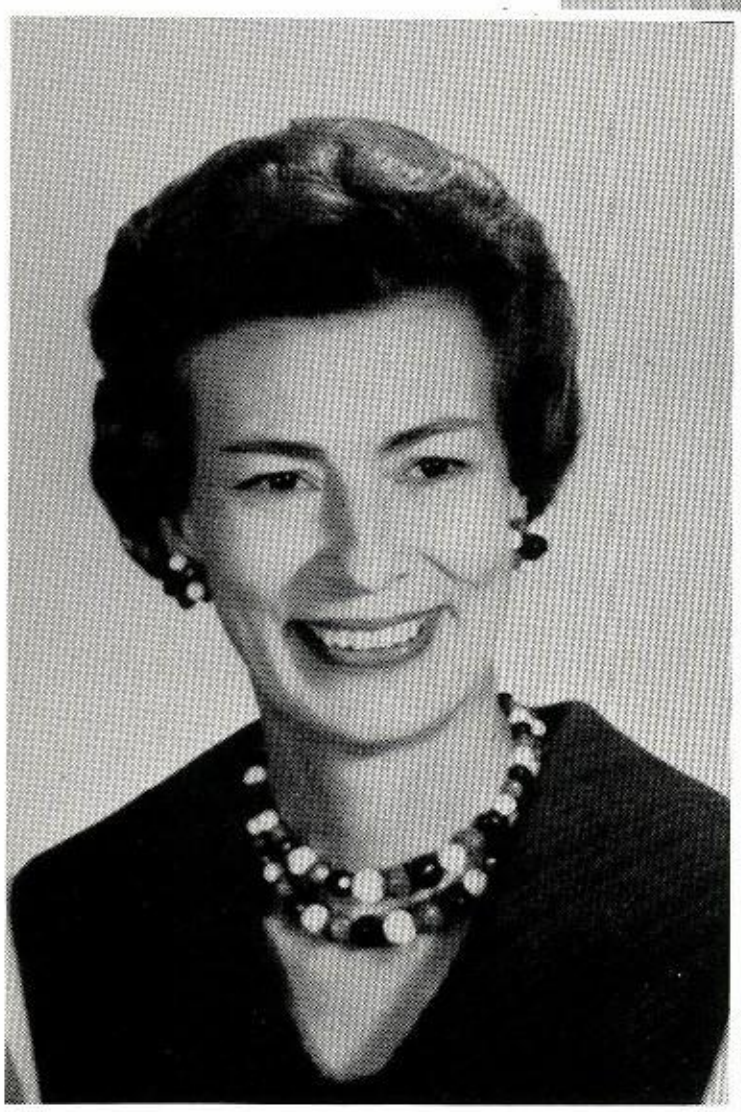
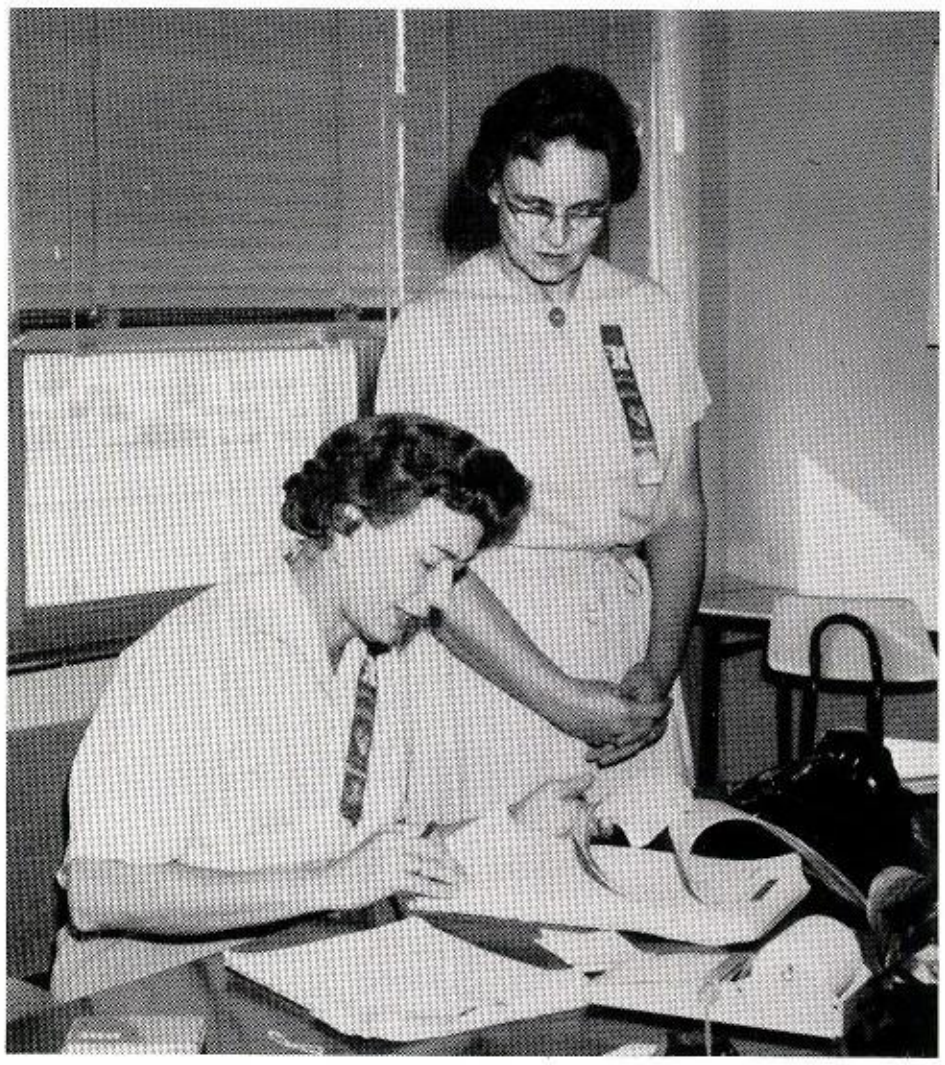
Mrs. Louise Dooley is serving as a counselor at R.H.S. for her first year. She helps all students with a wide variety of problems, and particularly helps them in going on to higher education.

Mrs. Dooley, and junior-high counselor Mrs. Fickertt, look over some recently acquired data.



Mrs. Nadyne Martin is secretary to the assistant principals, primarily; but she also helps in keeping attendance records orderly and managing the multitude of smaller office jobs.



Mrs. Mary Beebe works with Mrs. Martin in managing general office affairs; she is also secretary to Mr. Passmore.

School Smoothly

Working with the principal and vice-principals are the unsung heroes of R.H.S., the people who use their talents to assure co-operation between the various R.H.S.-ites.

The secretaries keep all school records, from attendance to scheduling, correspond for the school, and operate office machinery.

The counselors serve as "substitute" parents with special skill in handling problems concerning the choice of higher education. They are available to help a student with any problems that may face him in high school life.

Besides helping students in the capacity of counselor, Mr. Howard A. Starr also instructs second year biology and sponsors the Key Club.

Mathematics Promote Logical Reasoning

The recent emphasis on mathematics prompted by the space race encourages R.H.S. students to meet the mathematical challenge.

Armed with compasses, protractors, rulers, and other vital necessities, students grapple with square roots, polyhedrons, and cosines. In geometry pupils overcome triangular trouble; algebra brings the mysteries of equations to light. Awesome trigonometry develops into a stimulating conversation article.

The students' diligent work results in constructive thought habits that will be valuable throughout life.

Mr. James Swann is in Richardson for his second year and teaches solid geometry and Algebra II.

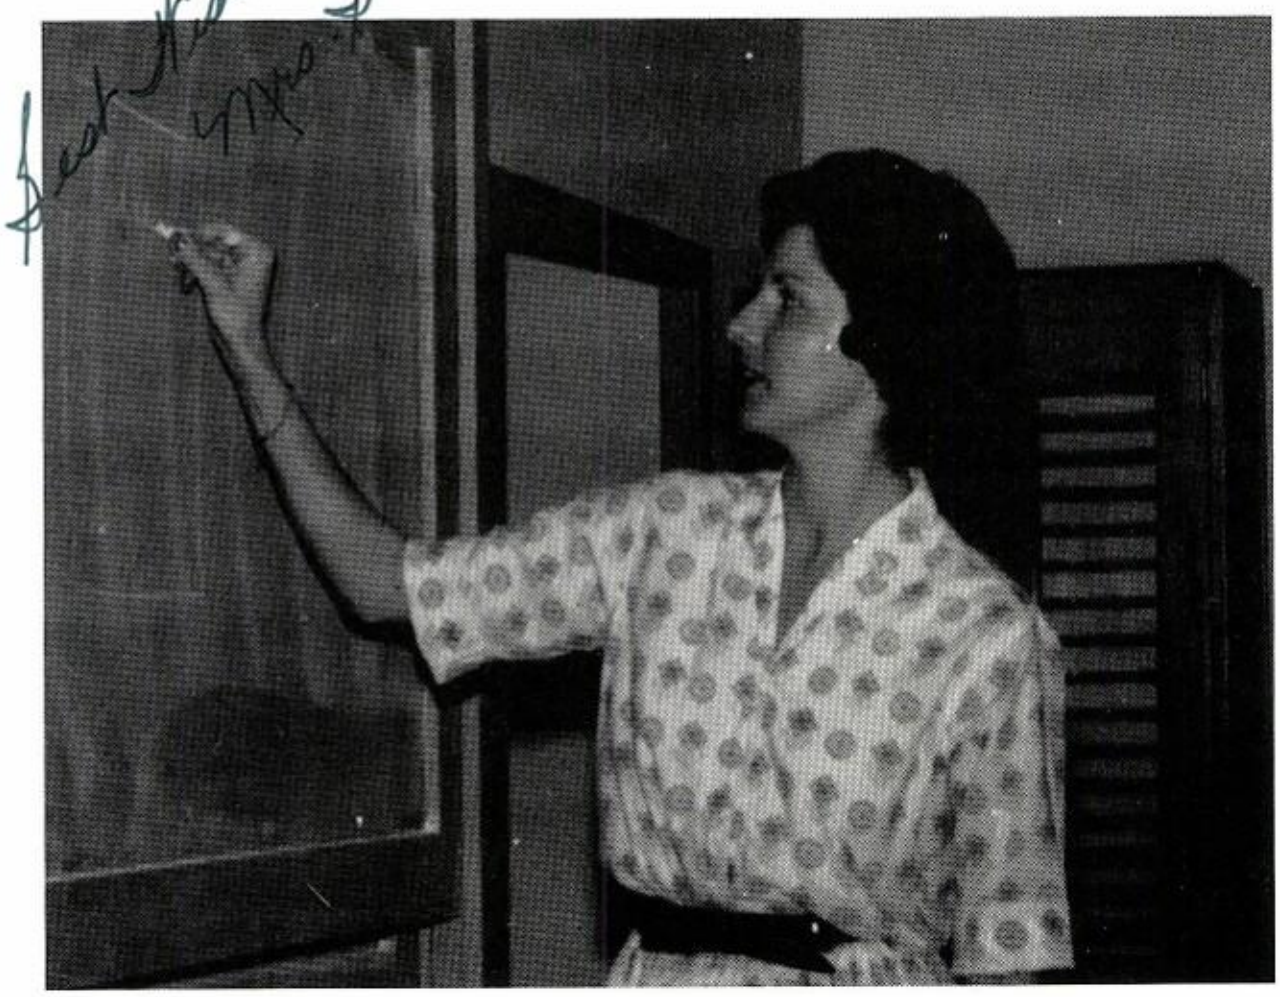
Why? This is the unanswered question in the motivating force for science students as they enroll in biology, chemistry, and physics. At the fingertips of these prospective students are large stores of information to help them solve questions concerning life and matter.

First year biologists become familiar with formaldehyde and dissecting kits, while their advanced colleagues analyze nature's more complex mysteries. Valences are mastered and matter is broken down as chemistry students seek problem solutions. Molecular motion and jet propulsion keep those in physics moving rapidly. Lab work makes everyone wonder what can possibly be brewing in the test tubes and beakers that smells so awful.

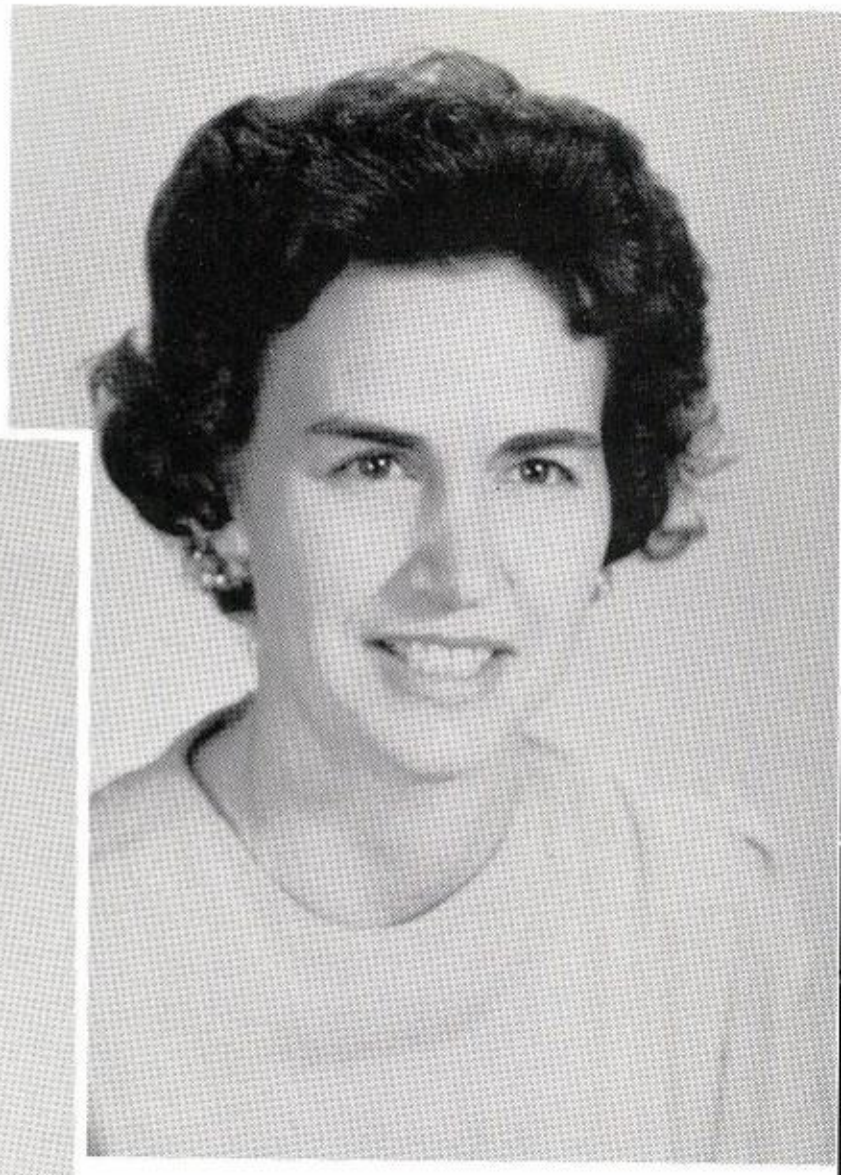
By the end of the year many "why's" will be answered, but the explanation will only serve as instigators of further investigation. During the year students gain respect for past and present scientists and curiosity about science in the future.

Mrs. Christine Keasler instructs biology and sponsors the Bio-Sci Club. She enjoys reading and gardening.

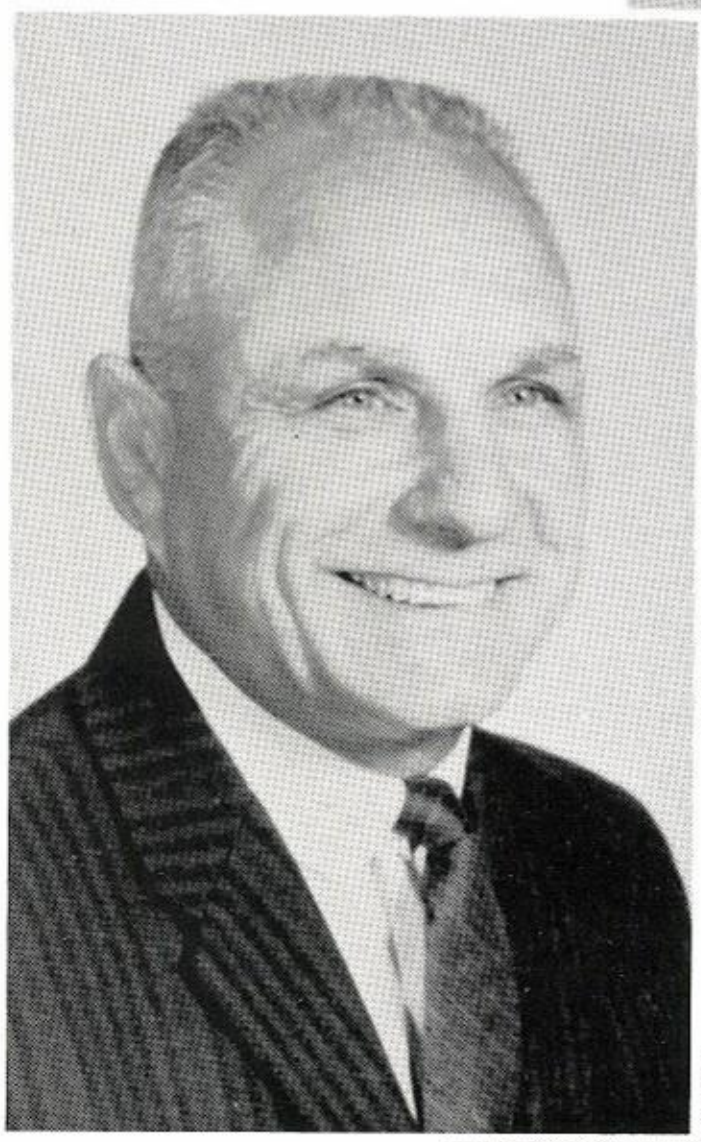
Mrs. Barbara Hester teaches first year biology. She holds a B.S. degree from Sam Houston State Teachers College at Huntsville, and an M.S. from Oklahoma State University.



Physical Education Develops Sportsmanship by Active Participation

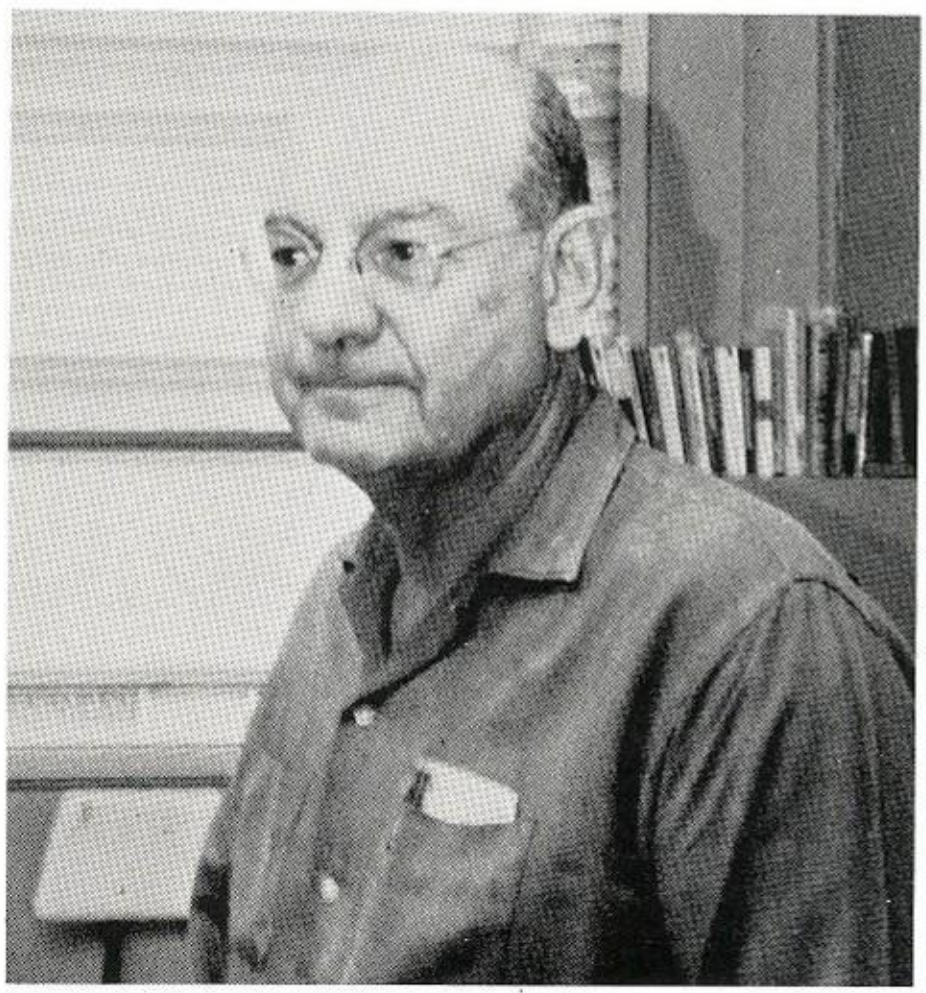


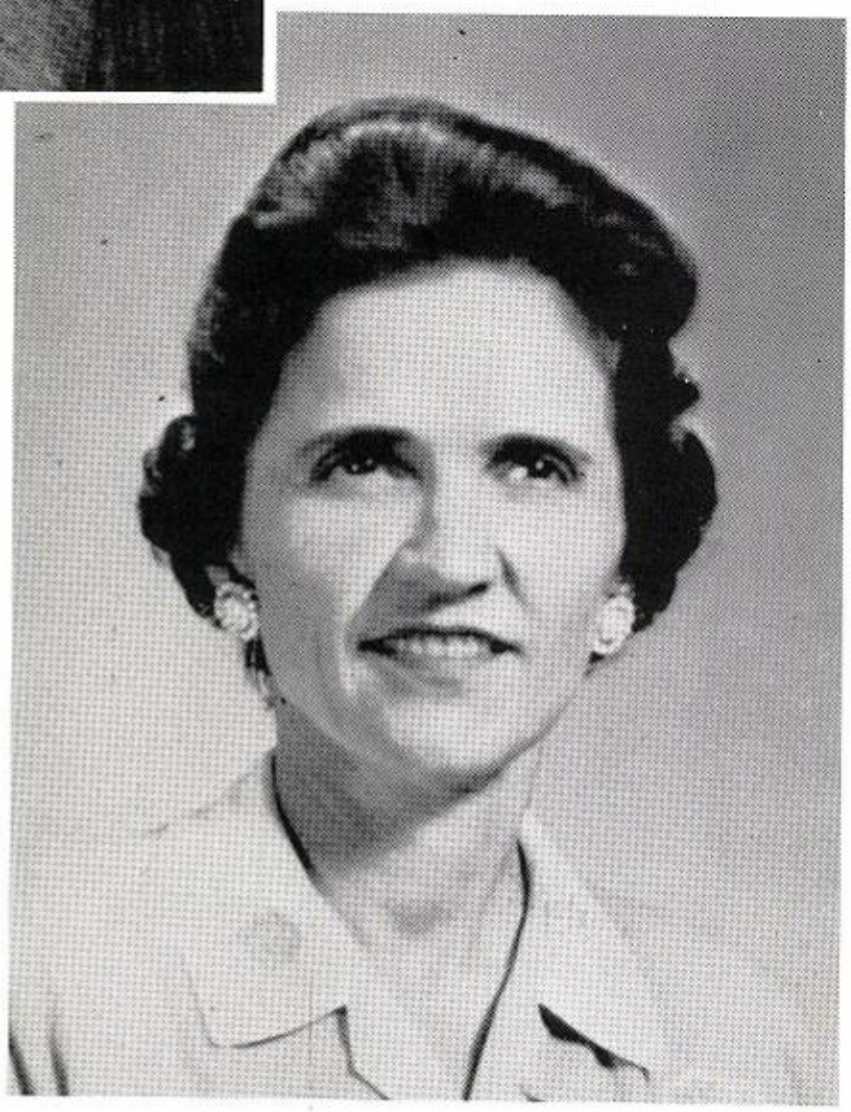
Health and P. E. teacher Mrs. Tunnell graduated from Stephen F. Austin State College with a B.S. degree.



Mr. "Abe" Spangler teaches boys' physical education. He holds B.S. and M.S. degrees from East Texas State College.

Physical education instructor Clyde Van Sickle received his B.S.E. degree from the University of Arkansas.

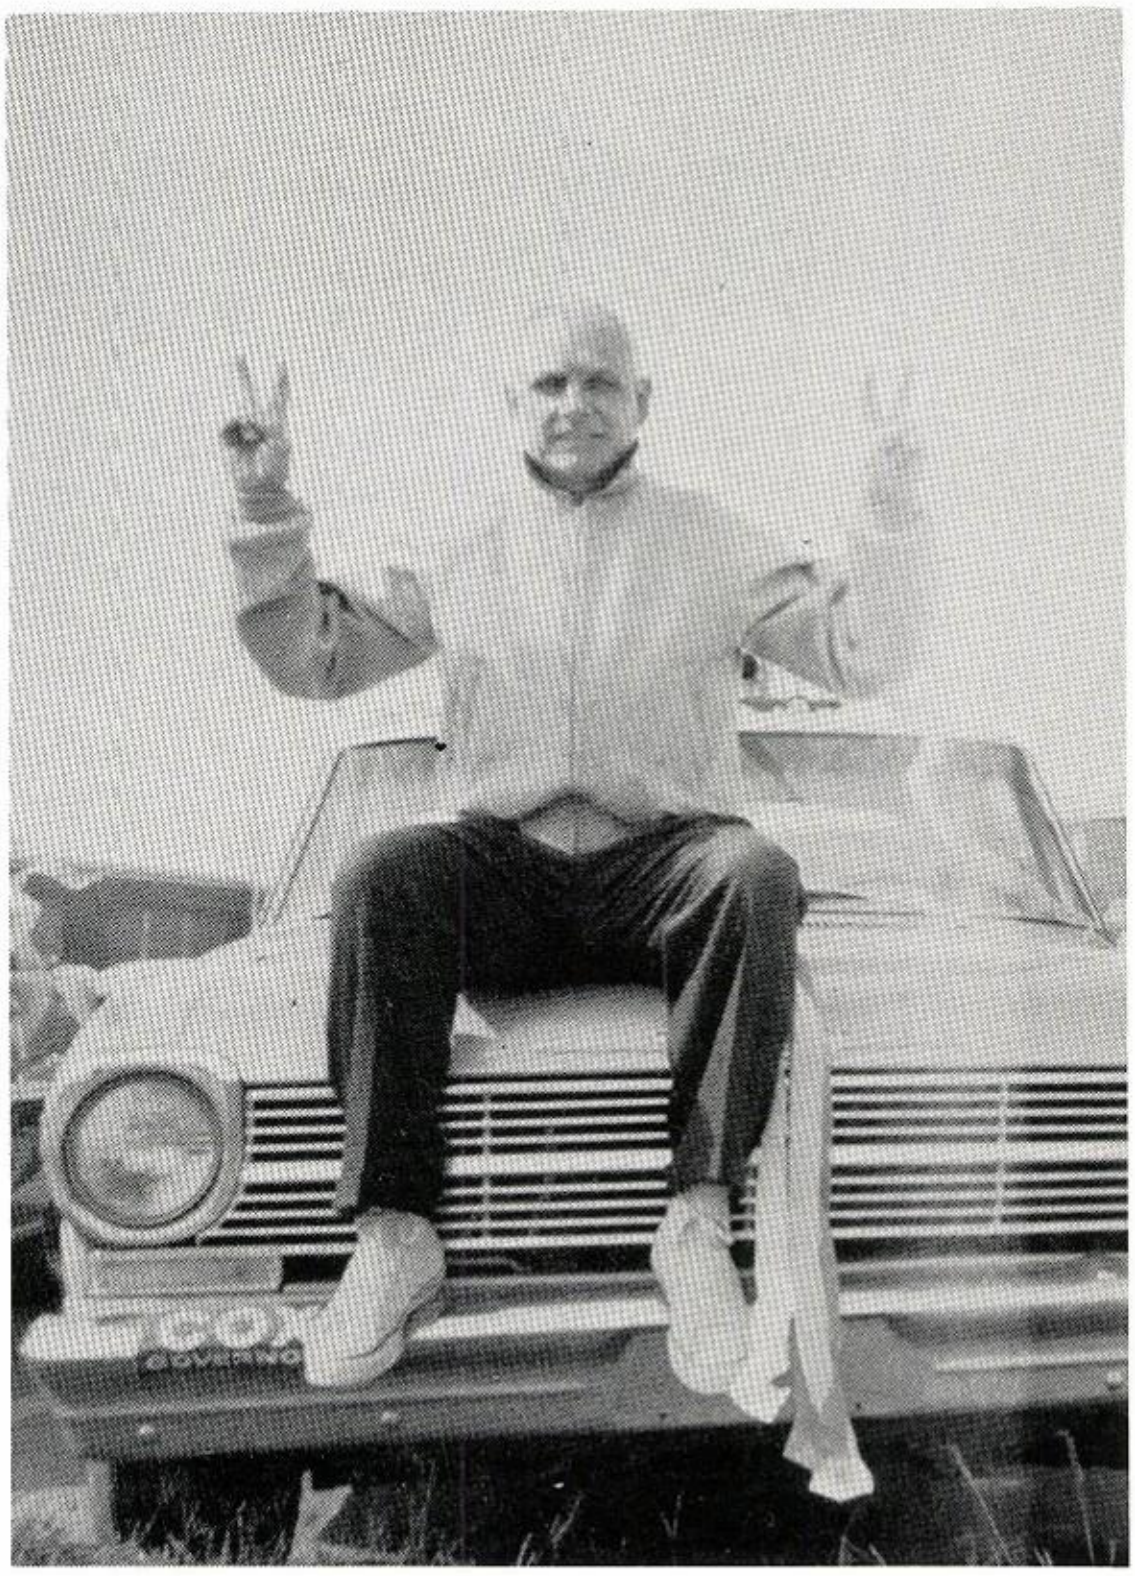




Holder of B.S. and M.S. degrees from North Texas State University, Mrs. Mildred Wheeler teaches P.E., health, and driver training.

All R.H.S. students are required to complete at least two and a half years of physical education. Both boys' and girls' classes undergo annual sessions of volleyball, tennis, archery, tumbling, basketball, baseball, football, and others, including an occasional exhausting game of ping-pong.

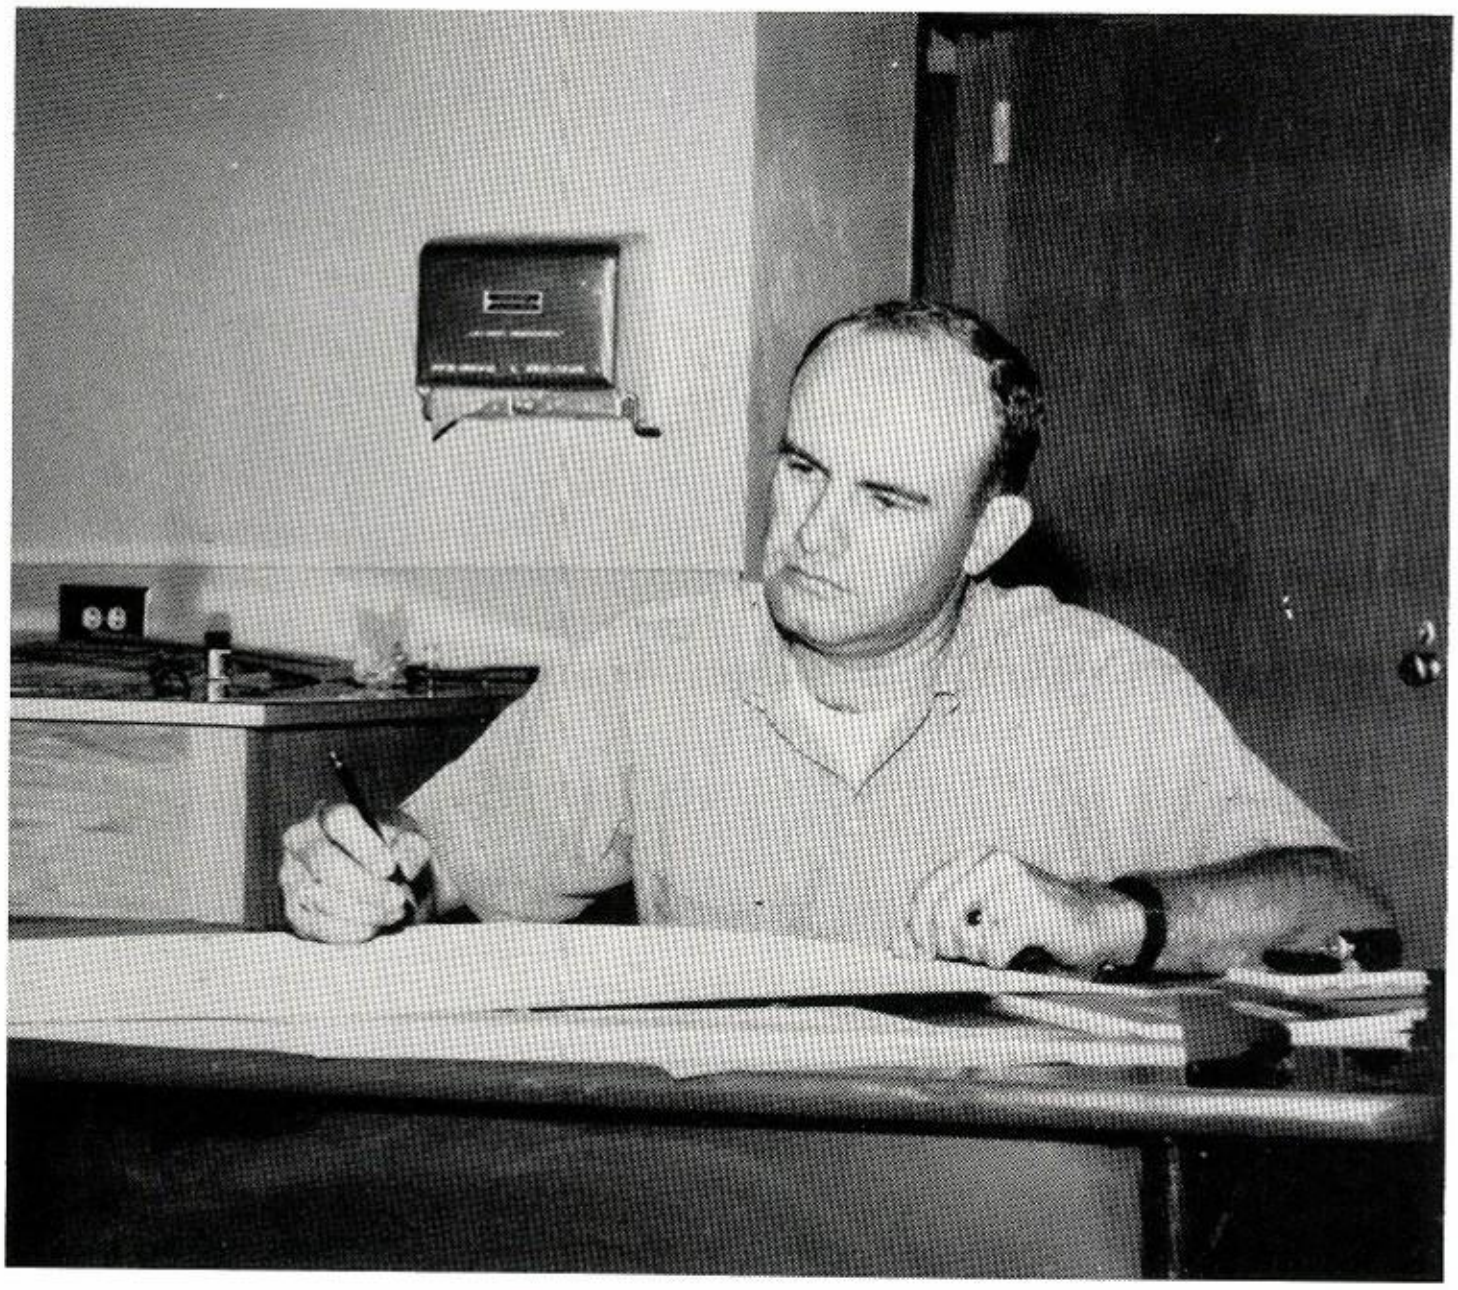
Mrs. Carol Hancock instructs girls' physical education and health. She also is sponsor of the cheerleaders and Eaglettes. She holds a B.S. from the University of Oklahoma.



"V for victory" is the message put across by Mr. "Abe" Spangler.

Mrs. Hancock gets ready to smash a volleyball over the net.

Supplementar

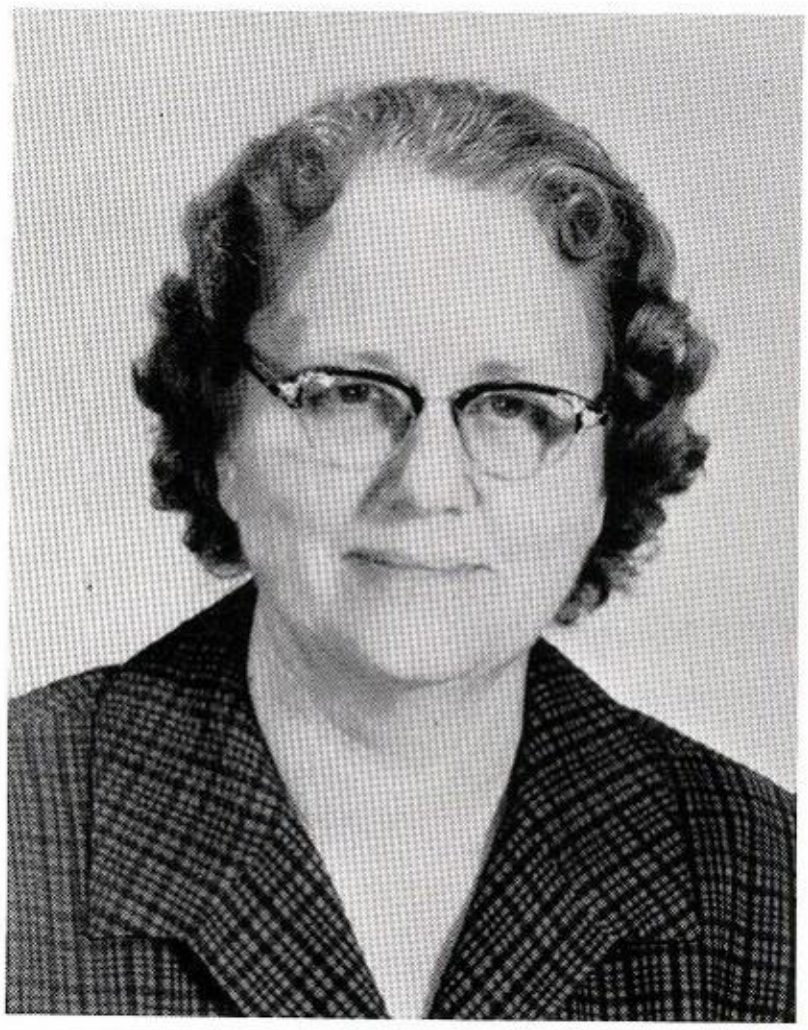


Mr. Johnson gains his perspective by staring into space.

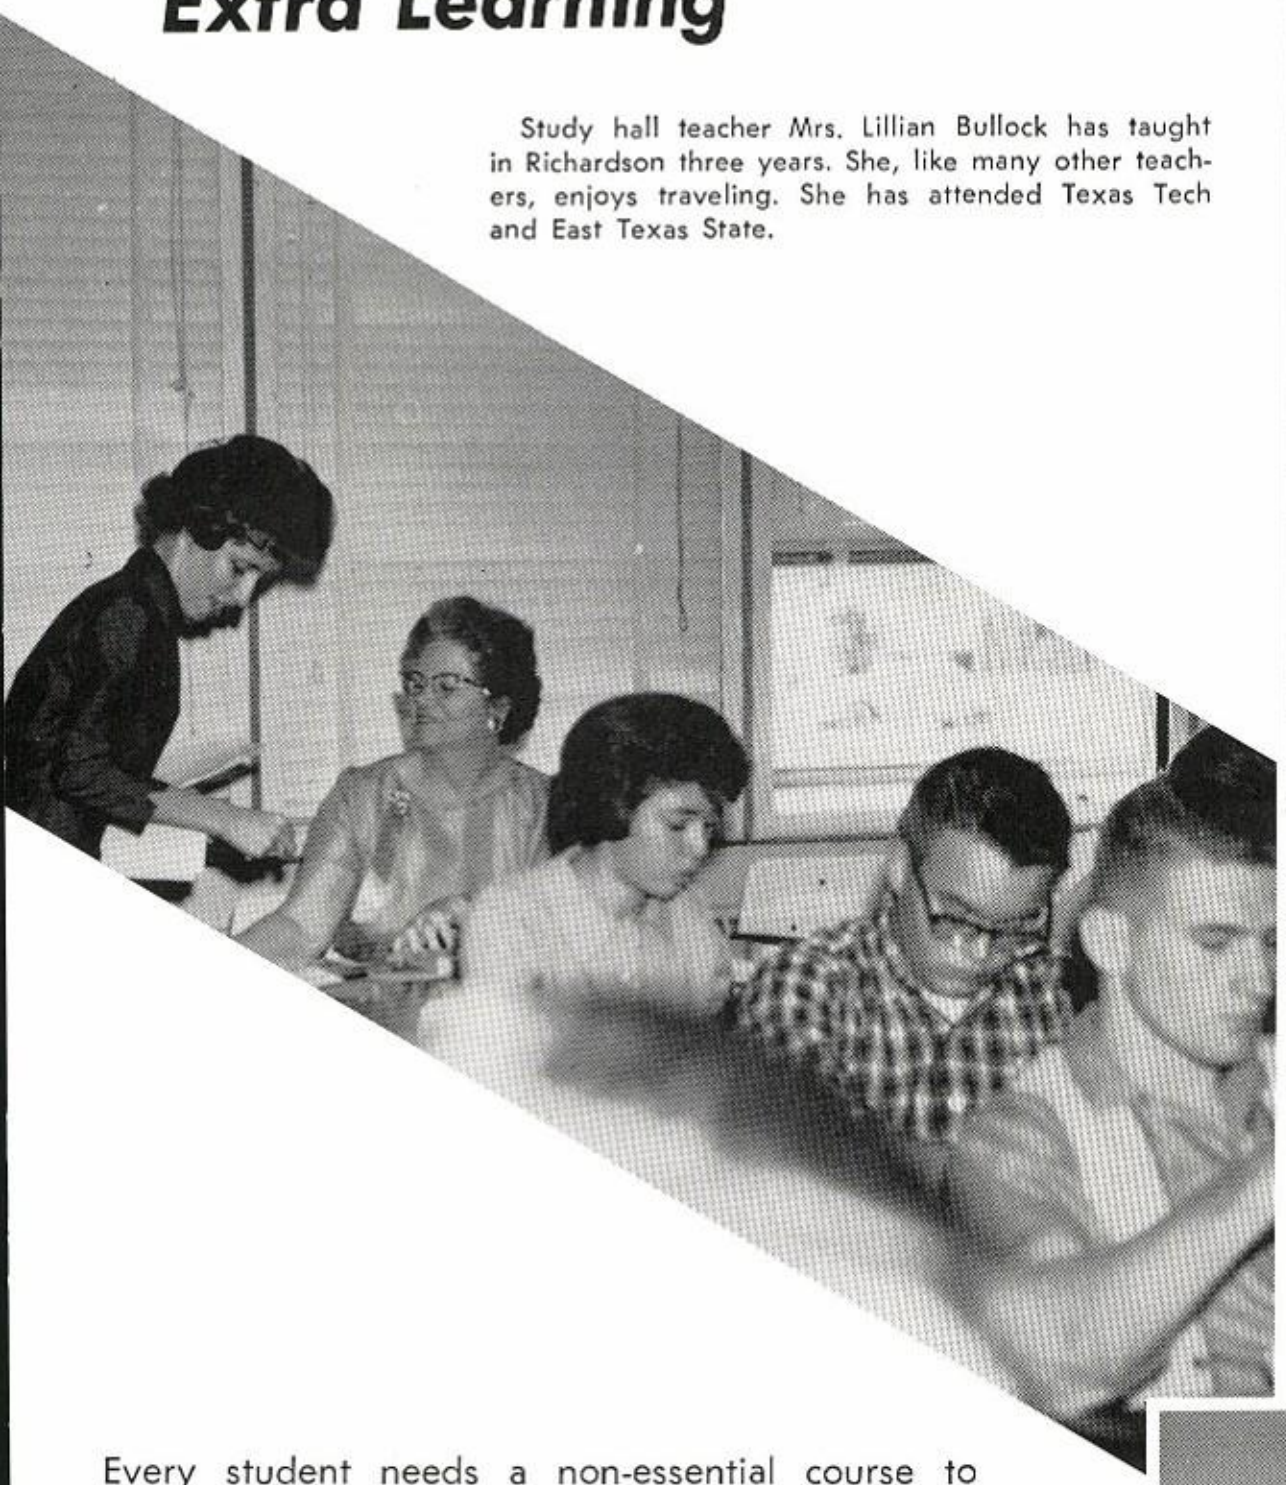
Teaching in Richardson for his fourth year, Mr. Dennis Johnson instructs art. He sponsors the Beaux Arts Club; he holds a B.A. degree from North Texas State University.

Mrs. Kathryn Wright, librarian, sponsors the Library Club. She holds both B.S. and M.S. degrees from East Texas State College.

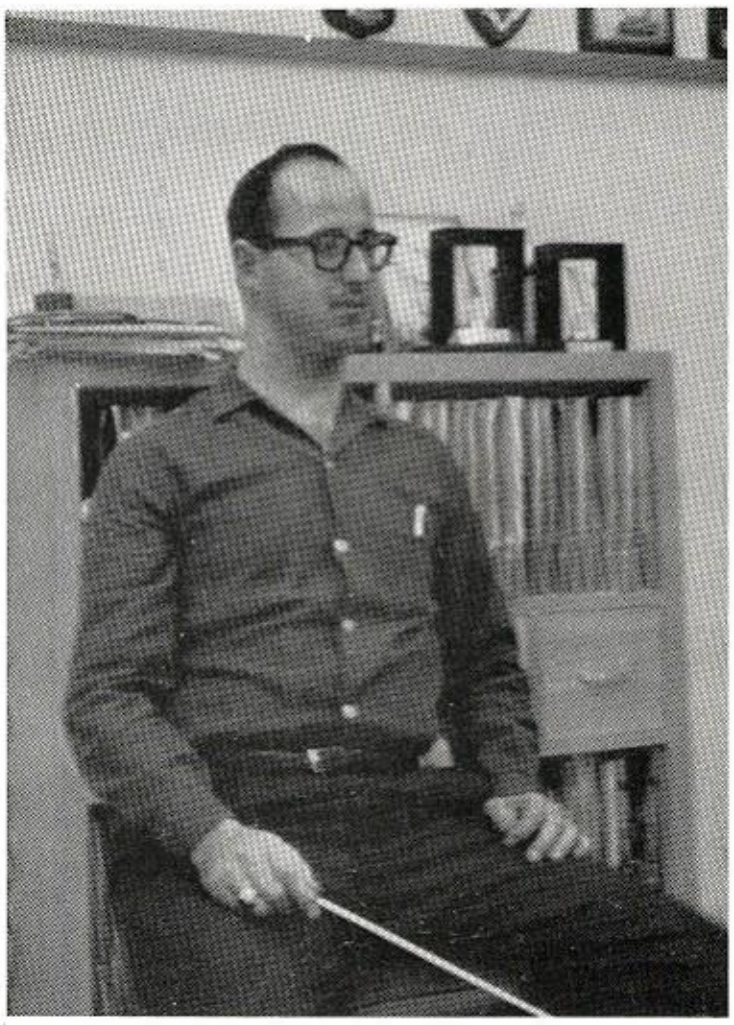
Librarian Mrs. Mabel Nicholson obtained her B.A. and M.A. degrees from East Texas State College and her M.L.S. from Texas Women's University. She has taught in Richardson for nineteen years.



Courses Encourage Extra Learning

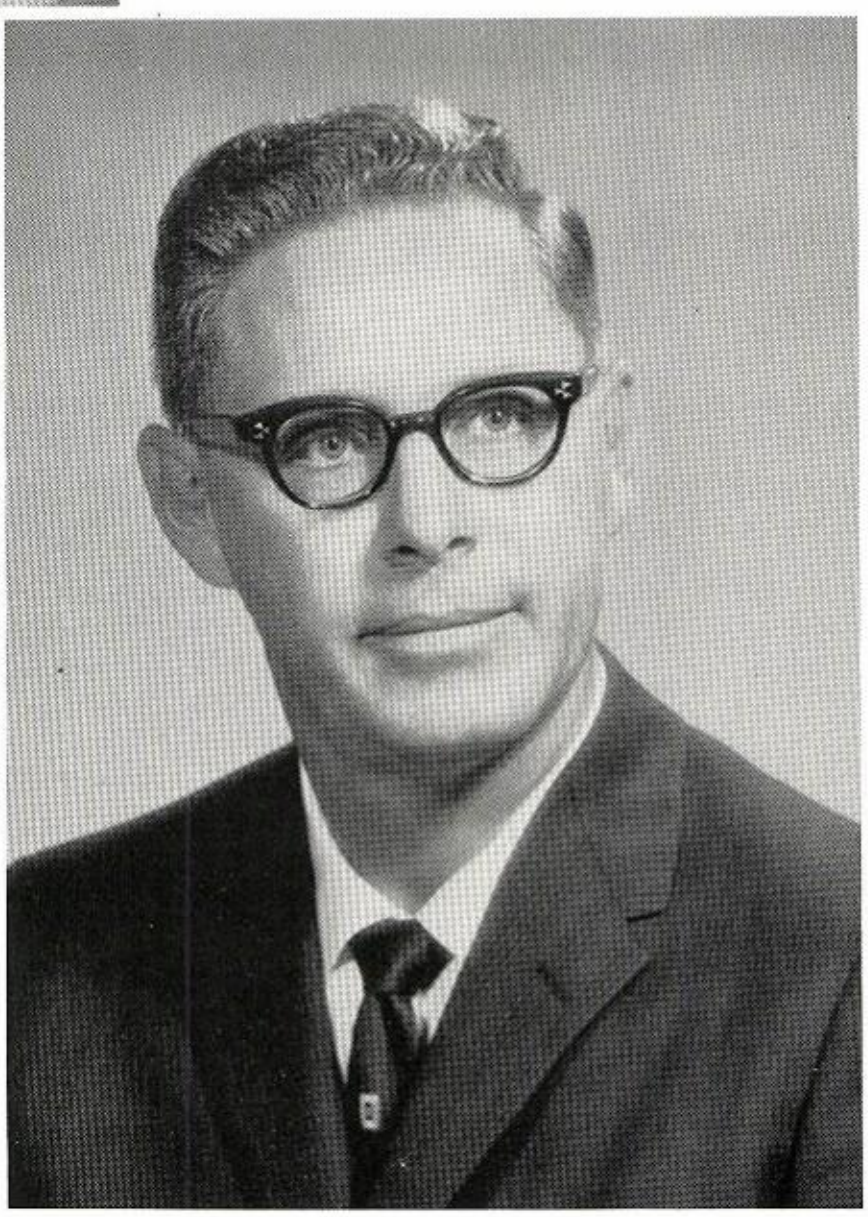


Study hall teacher Mrs. Lillian Bullock has taught in Richardson three years. She, like many other teachers, enjoys traveling. She has attended Texas Tech and East Texas State.



Mr. W. R. Snavely is teaching choral and acting as assistant band director for his second year at R.H.S.

The Eagle Band, the Cadet Band, and instrumental classes are instructed by Mr. Joseph L. Frank. He enjoys music, flying, boating, and water skiing outside class.



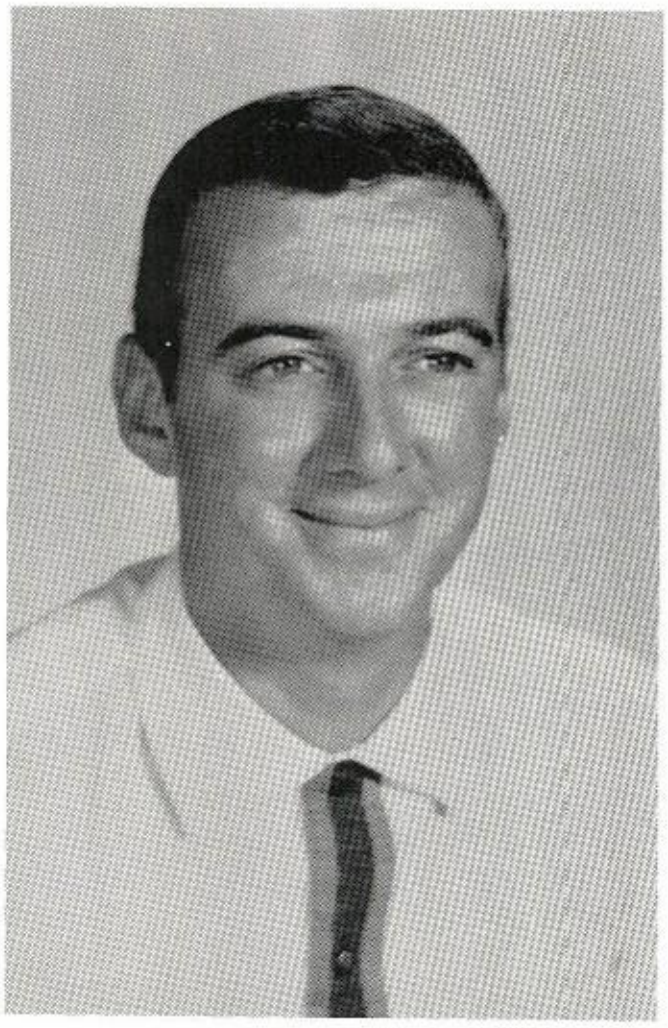
Every student needs a non-essential course to supplement his difficult and often confusing solid courses. He can choose from art, band, or study hall.

In choosing study hall he obtains an hour to be used solely for studying his other subjects. Often he visits the library to use its multitude of informative books, and soon must spend an hour or two figuring out the complex way in which the books are arranged. Art requires at least a little talent and much diligent work. Band is actually hard work, too, disguised by enjoyable music.

Thus the average R.H.S.-ite selects an extra course to escape some work, but he finds that all courses necessitate a little effort. Gradually he realizes that he is subtly being encouraged to refine his abilities and increase his knowledge.

Special Courses Build

Each R.H.S.-ite has the opportunity to take courses which will teach him special skills. These courses include typing, shorthand, mechanical drawing, and bookkeeping. Although fingers stick in the typewriter keys, rulers slip on exacting drawings, and shorthand looks like scribbles, each student works hard and acquires new abilities.



Mr. Joe Carlat has taught Mechanical Drawing and Shop at Richardson for two years. He received his B.S. degree at Southeastern in Durant, Oklahoma.

Coach Max McClearin has taught 7 years at R.H.S. He teaches mechanical drawing and is head basketball coach. Mr. McClearin received his B.S. at East Central College, Oklahoma.

Mrs. Jean Smith teaches Homemaking and is a sponsor of the F.H.A. Her hobbies are reading, sewing, and painting. She received her B.S. at T.W.U.

Mrs. Dean McKeown received both her B.S. and M.S. at N.T.S.U. She teaches homemaking and is a sponsor for the Seniors and F.H.A.

Skills for the Future

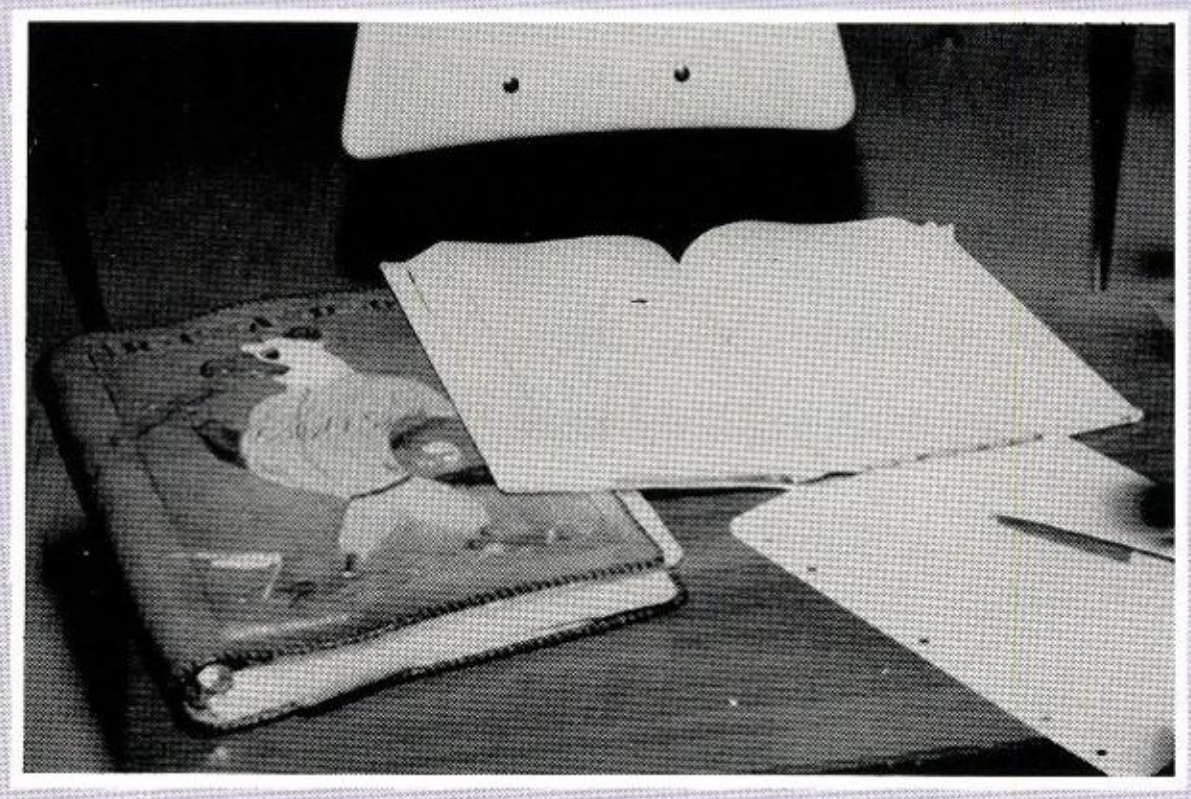
Music and reading are Mrs. Caroline Viswat's outside interests. She teaches typing and bookkeeping and is sponsor for Sophomore Career Girls and the Junior class.

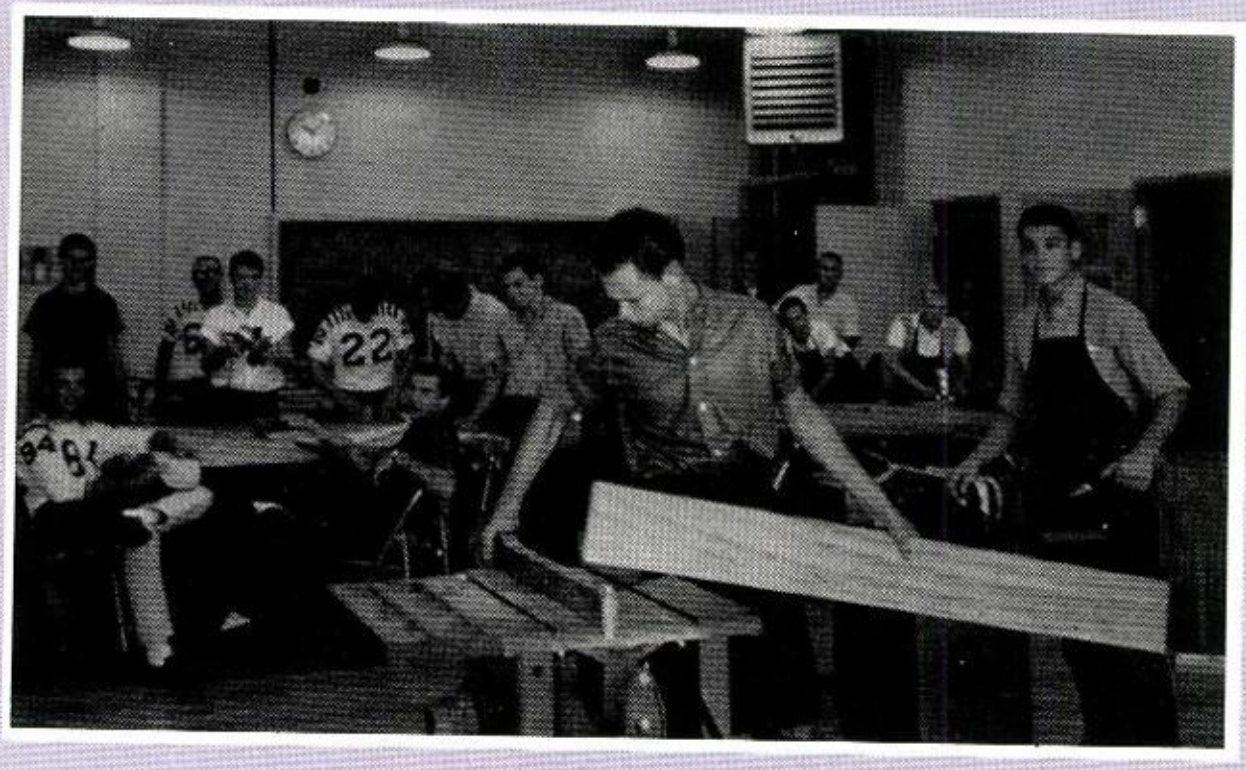
German and typing are taught by Mrs. Lillian Mankus. She received her M.A. at Cornell University in New York. Her hobbies are reading and the theatre.

One of the sponsors for the Junior Class and sponsor of Career Girls is Mrs. Helen Gardner. She teaches shorthand and second year typing.

Mrs. Marimozelle Collander got her B.A. degree at N.T.S.U. She sponsors F.H.A. and teaches homemaking.

Coach Charles Mo Broom sums up his hobbies by saying "all sports." He is a football coach and teaches driver's training and general business.





Classes

Often the real purpose of school is buried in an avalanche of parties, ball games, and poster parties. When these activities are completed, however, Eagle-ites burn the midnight oil to memorize poetry, learn valences, or study for a decisive test.

Well-trained counselors advise students how to plan their high school years. Some courses are designed for the student who wants to further his education in college; while other courses are created for the student who wishes to start a vocation upon graduation from high school.

Improvements are constantly being made on classes. For example, second year biology and chemistry were added to the curriculum this year.

Classes are like people in that no two are alike.

Seniors '63

Seniors '63 . . . a fabulous year, one of memories and excitement. A year filled with firsts and lasts. Our first football game, the dedication of the stadium, the last victory dance, the Christmas dance, and the Junior-Senior Prom, choosing the class motto and flower, planning and waiting for graduation and the future. All these things composed our greatest year . . . our last year.

In June we'll be graduates; we'll leave R.H.S. with its fun-filled memories forever. When we return we'll only be visitors, never participants. But we'll be ready for the future because we're the R.H.S. Seniors of 1963.

Junior Class

Greatest attraction for the juniors this year was the new gym. Working hard for the Prom by earning money at the Victory Dances and in the concession stand was the chief activity of the Juniors.

Victory Dances were held in the gym after every home game.

Music at the Victory Dances was provided by Juniors who volunteered to play. They made a big hit with those who attended.

Clubs

Every day at activity period, Eagle-ites sign out of homeroom to attend their club meetings. There are clubs to meet every need—service clubs, language clubs, career clubs, and others to further educational interests.

The greatest single project of a club this year was "Operation Christmas Gift," sponsored by the Religious Council. Money was collected for CARE to feed starving people throughout the world. Other organizations picked up the idea and supported this project. We went over our $1,000 goal to $1,170.00.

American Field Service was a newly formed club. Its purpose is to educate students about this Service and the foreign exchange program.

Clubs produce all-around students. It provides a source of relaxation for some. More important, it gives students an opportunity to display their talents, leadership, and ideas.

MARTIN LUMPKIN ..... Secretary
D. J. Moore ..... Treasurer
TOMMY HUTTON ..... Historian

Under the capable leadership of its officers and Mrs. Mann, sponsor, the Student Council has enjoyed another prosperous year. At the beginning of the year, they sponsored a welcoming dance for new students, and after mid-term, they held a tea for students who had entered after the first of the year.

To raise school spirit is a major objective of the Student Council. During football season, members of the council stayed after school one day a week to make posters. Class competition was the basis for the basketball spirit contest. Each class strived to have the largest number in attendance at the games. Winning was the sophomore class with the seniors placing a close second. Favorite elections are held annually by the Student Council, and this year was no exception. As usual, they were conducted fairly and efficiently.

Christmas time was a pleasant one with our first Christmas dance. The dance was semi-formal and was organized by the Student Council with the active participation of several other clubs.

Left in memory of the Student Council is the Bronze Eagle which they donated to the school.

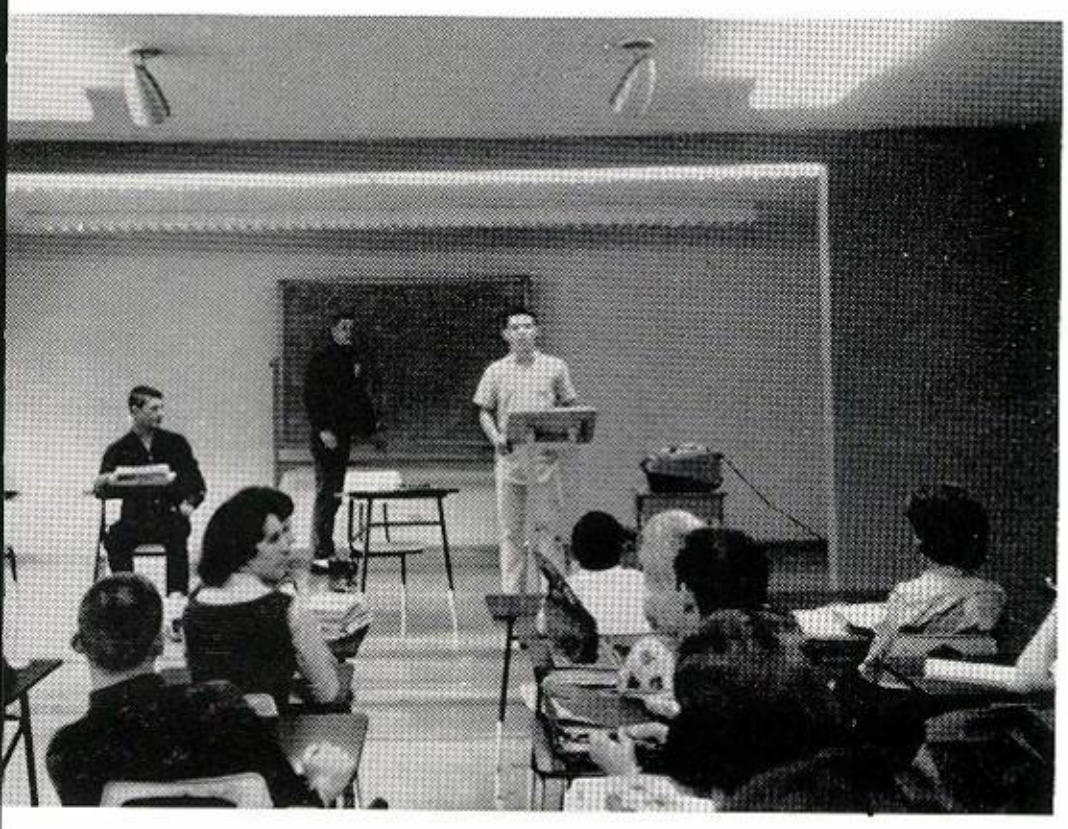
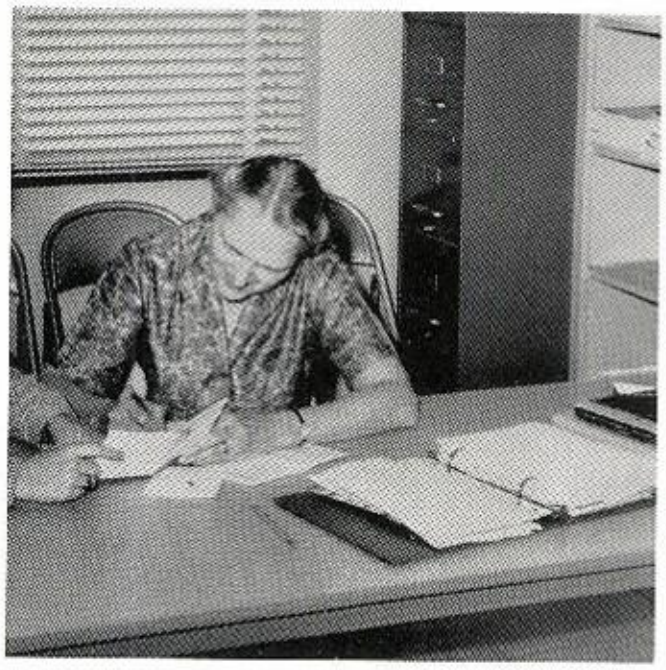
Council Forms School Activities

Student Council officers D. J. Moore, Treasurer; Tommy Hutton, Historian; Andy Rooker, President; Martin Lumpkin, Secretary; and Shirley Baccus, Vice-President consult with Mrs. Mann in an officer's meeting.



President Andy Rooker presides over the regularly scheduled Monday meetings.



Mrs. Mann, Student Council sponsor, plans a project with Betty Mullenweg.

Each week during football season, Student Council members devote one day a week to painting posters to help raise school spirit.

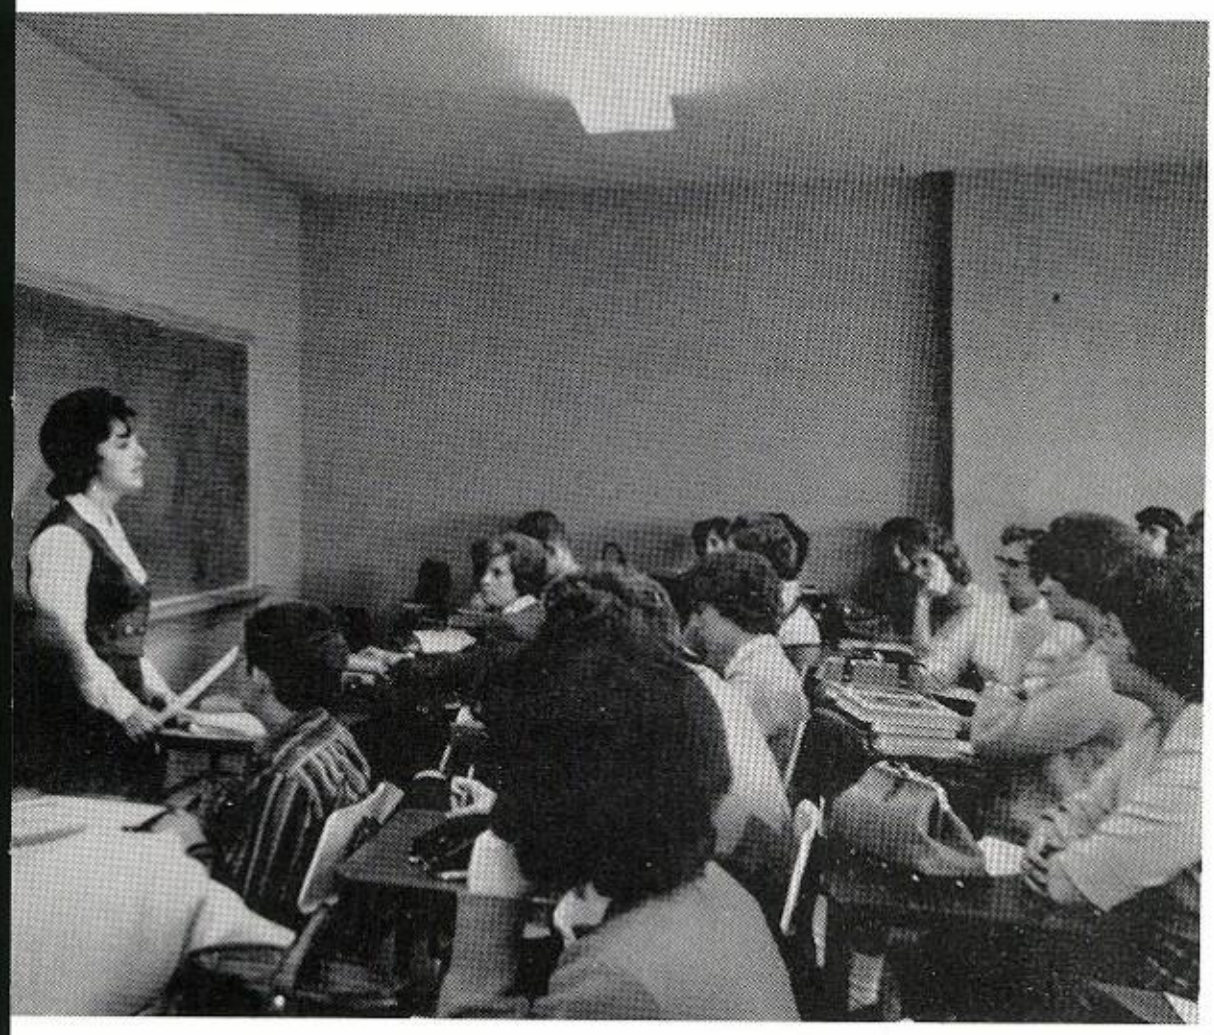
Led by Gary Quick, the National Honor Society began the year by installing a new chapter at Duncanville in early October. The next project of the National Honor Society was the induction of its own new members. In November, thirty-eight new members, both junior and senior, were installed.

Shortly thereafter President Gary Quick was forced to step down because of his being transferred. Mike Reed succeeded him as president of the Richardson Chapter of the National Honor Society.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Julia Darnall and Mrs. Madge Barnett, Operation Christmas Gift, its own scholarship fund, and a tutoring service were successfully carried out this past year. The tutoring service started shortly after the beginning of the second semester.

N.H.S. Starts Tutoring Service

Lynn Rigley benefits from the tutoring of Honor Society member, Joyce VanDer Wal.



Donna Green, President of A.F.S. was an exchange student to Crete last year.

Under the leadership of Donna Green the AFS Club has had a profitable first year. Donna, who was an exchange student to Crete last summer, has joined with other R.H.S.'ers to enable more foreign students to come here.

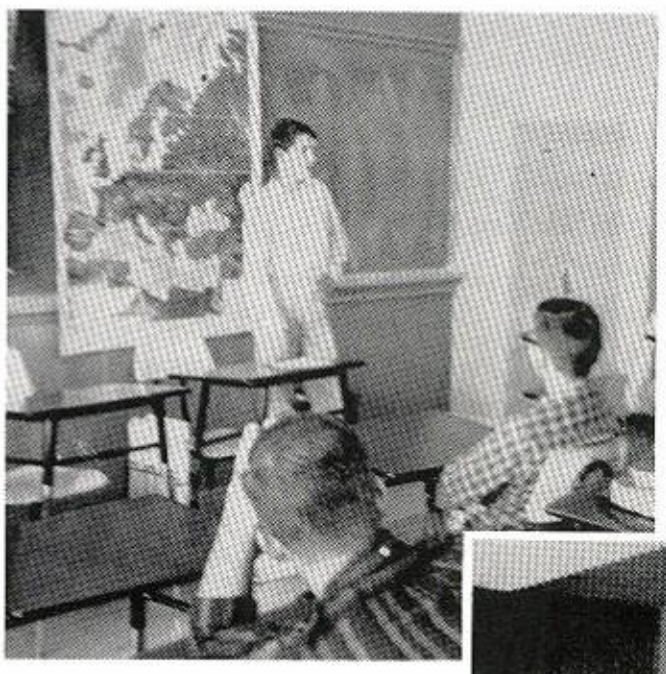
Sale of stock has been an AFS club project. It is designed to raise money to enable R.H.S. to have another exchange student next year.

Promoting Richardson interest in the exchange student program, increasing understanding of various customs and cultures, and helping exchange students make social adjustments have been some of the club's major objectives.

Officers are Donna Green, President; Bob Rountree, Vice-President; Sylvia Schaelling, Secretary; Bill Harrison, Treasurer; and Donna Foster, Historian.

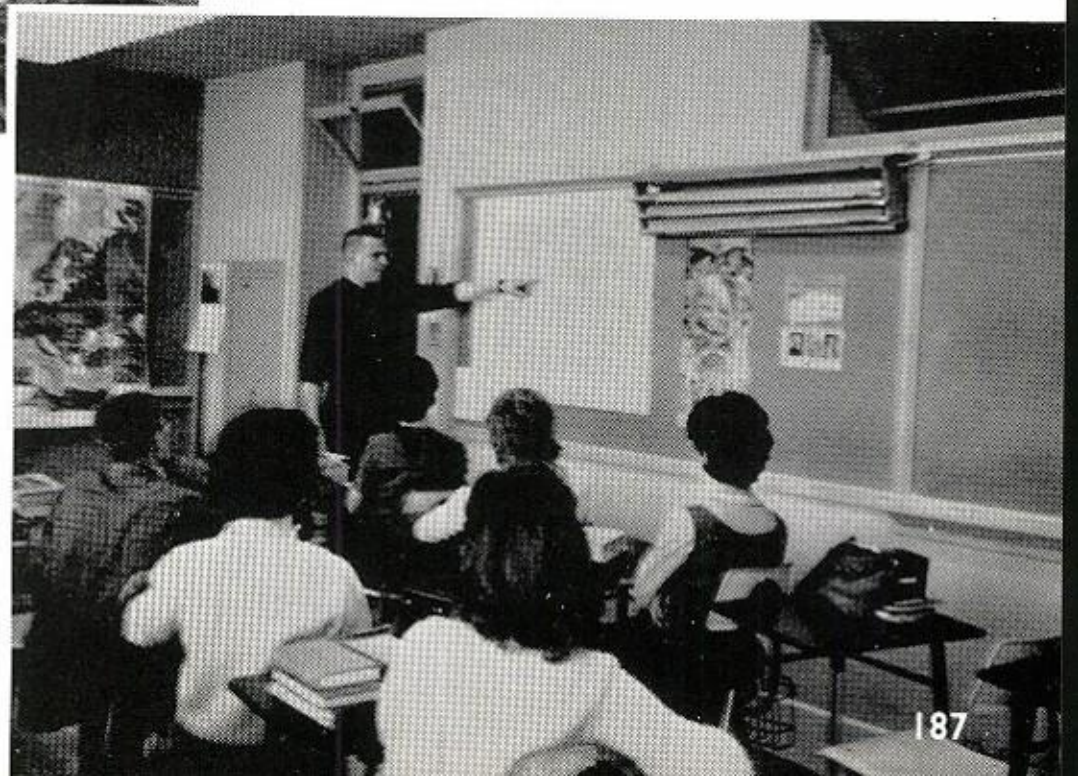
AFS Has Successful First Year

U.N. Club Studies Different Countries of World



Claus Myrin, exchange student from Sweden, speaks to the U.N. club on his native country.

Various countries of the world provide study for the U.N. club.



Governments of countries in other parts of the world is the study of the U.N. Club. It also serves to introduce young Americans to the various functions of the United Nations. Problems of our country and others help add interest.

Club programs this year have consisted of discussions on areas such as Germany, South East Asia, and Switzerland.

Thanks to sponsor, Mr. Keathly, and officers Craig McMullen, president, Jon Scharber, Vice-pres. and Mary Lou Hooser, Sec. the club has had another successful year.

Future Nurses

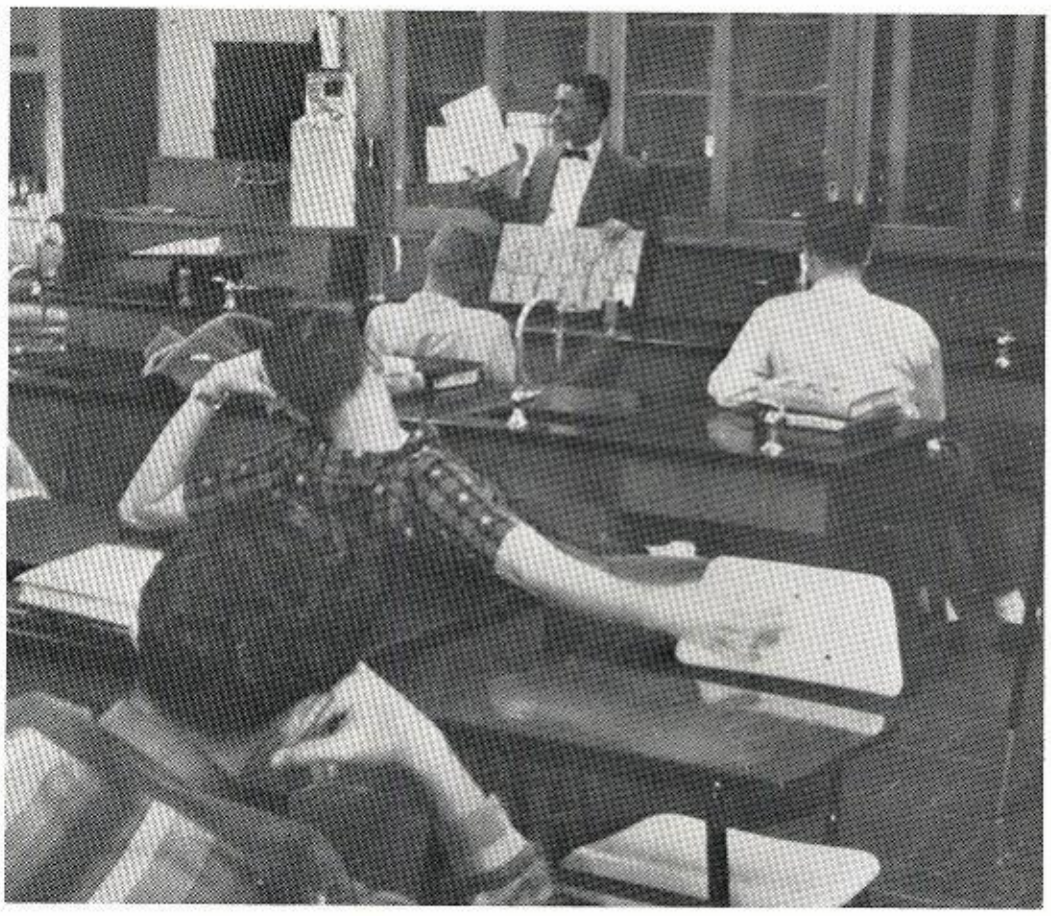
Officers are: John Howie, President; Mark Buehler, Vice-President; and John Heitmeyer, Secretary.



Sponsor, Mr. J. G. Thompson, speaks to the members about a modern science development.

Career Girls Study
Varied Professions

Career Girls have many speakers during the year.

Different careers which are available for young women are explored by the Jr.-Sr. Career Girls. The year's program is made up of guest speakers representing varied professions.

Beulah Salisbury, President of the Richardson Business and Professional Woman's Association, is responsible for many of the direct and rich experiences with interesting women in the business world.

Officers include: President, Judy Erwin; Vice-President, Mike Lovelady; and Secretary-Treasurer, Danna Miller. Sponsor is Mrs. Helen Gardner.

Math Club in First Year

Officers of Math Club try to establish the validity of this problem.

Speaker from Richardson Fire Department instructs the club as to Civil Defense equipment.

Bio-Sci Travels to Zoo

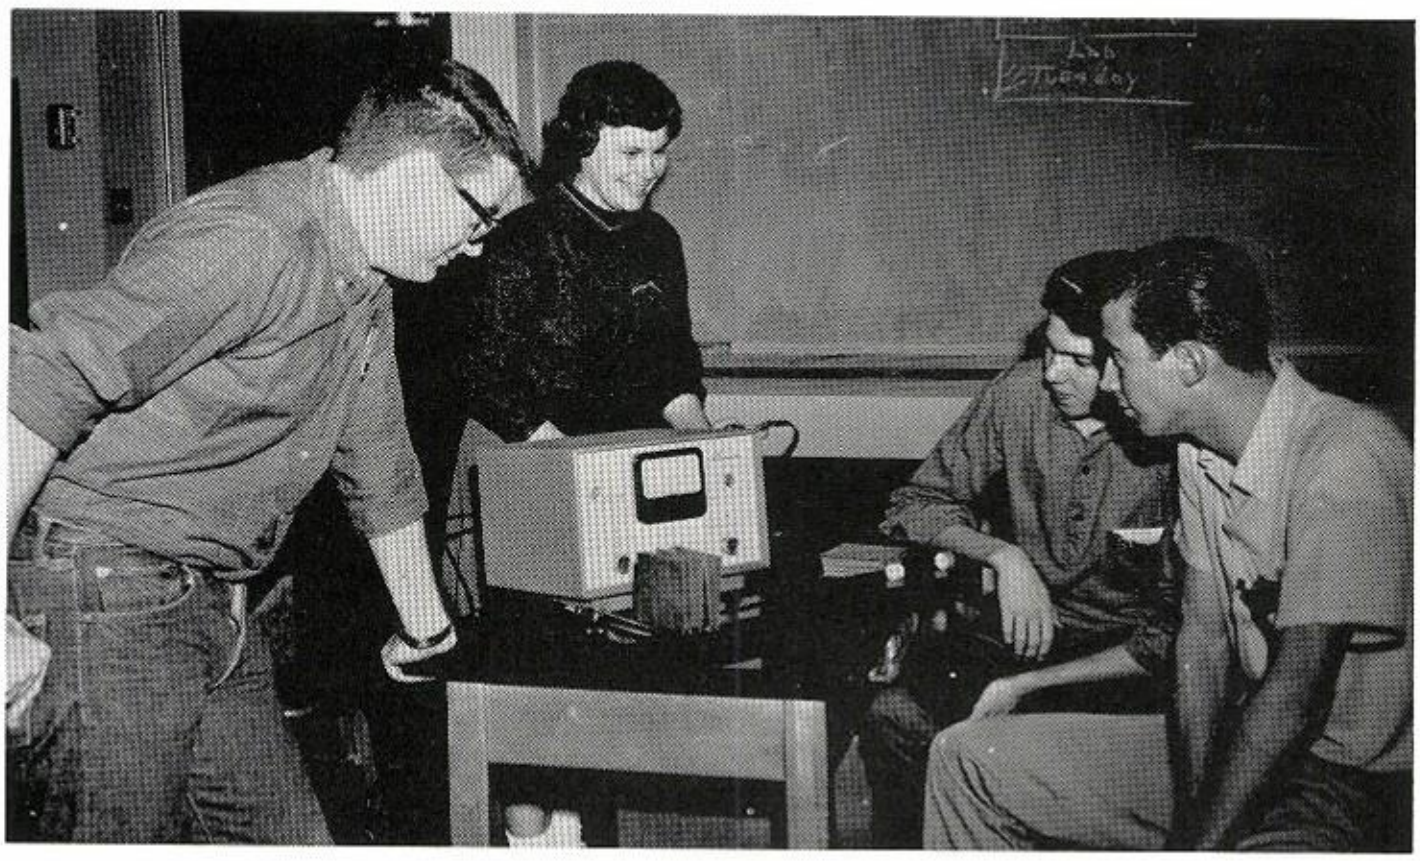
Bio-Sci Club's second year at R.H.S. was a successful one. The sponsor, Mrs. Keasler, has worked with the members in forming three divisions which take care of the program. Research techniques, marine science and genetics-heredity, make up the groups. Tours at Wadley Blood Center and T.W.U. Science Fair Day were undertaken. During the winter and fall the club went to Fair Park where they saw the Natural History Museum, the Aquarium, and the Health Museum. A trip to the Dallas Zoo and a Christmas party at the Keaslers with various teachers as guests were the highlights of the year.

Officers for the '62-'63 Bio-Sci Club included Mac Dethlefson, president; Steve Hutchings, vice-pres.; Angela Blakely, secretary; and Jean Philips, reporter.

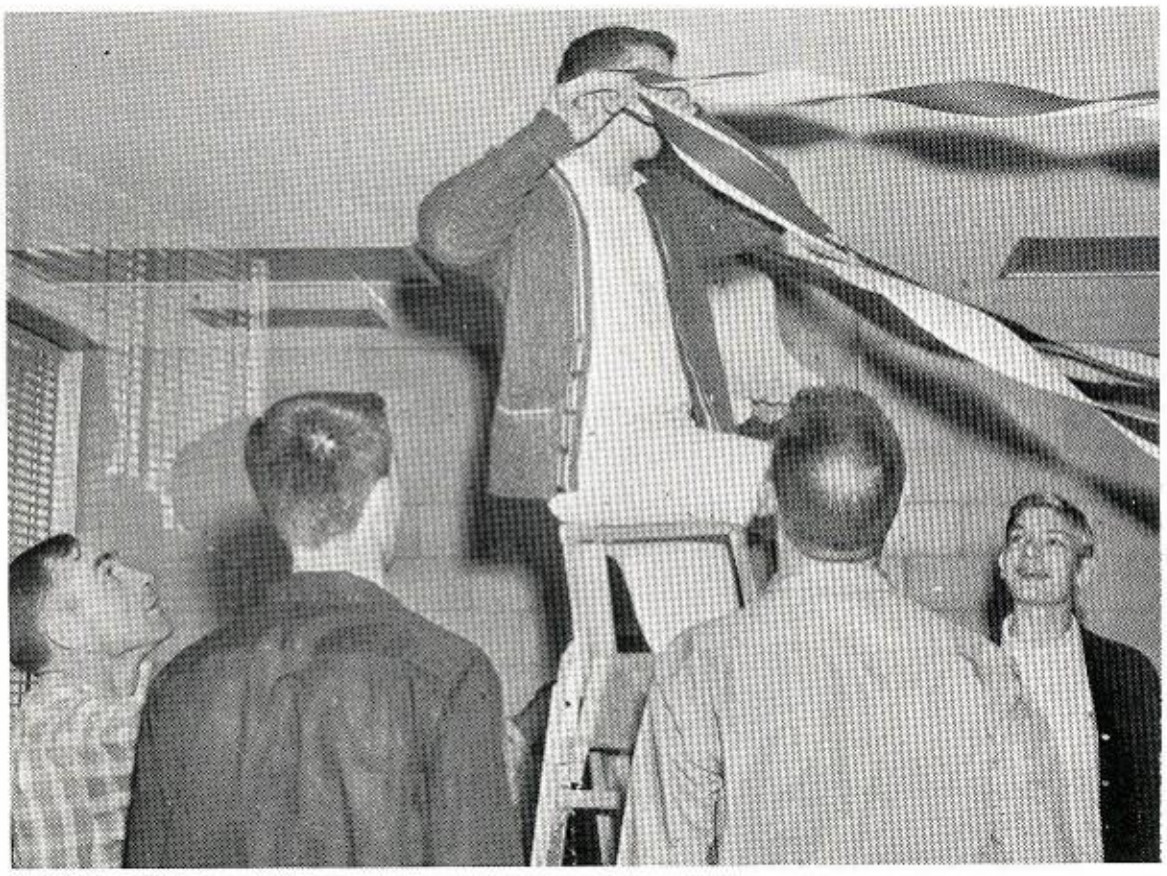
Chem-Phy Visits A&M

To promote science and scientific endeavors in the school and community are the goals of the Chem-Phy club. The highlight of the year was a trip to Texas A&M. Here the members were shown a nuclear reactor. This year the club is sponsored by Mr. G. O. Slaughter.

The club hopes to build a rocket which they will launch this spring.

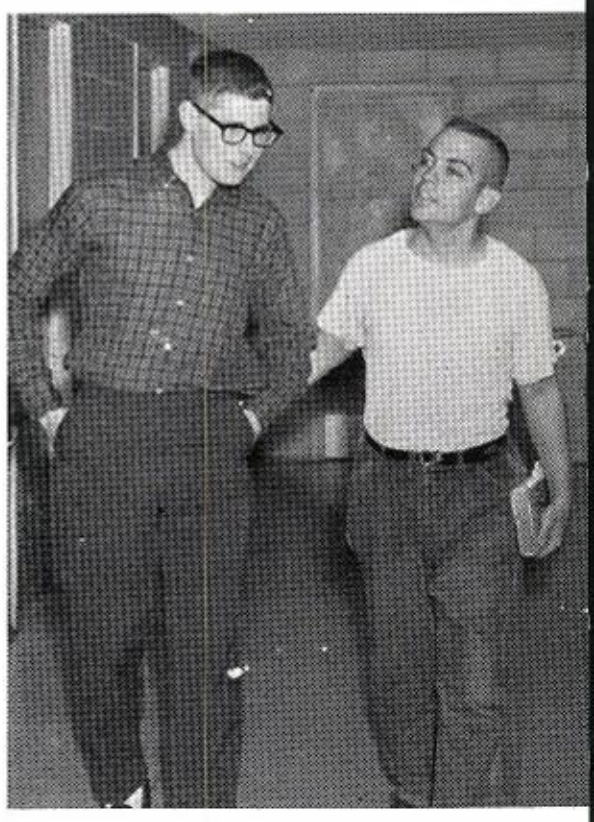


Chem-Phy officers: President, Martin Neil; Vice-President, Mike Reed; Secretary-Treasurer, Don Bailey; Reporter, Beverly Baugh observe some of the school's equipment.



Key Clubbers decorate Denton State School for a party given for the mentally retarded children.

Theron Robinson walks with boy from the Denton school.



Key Club Gives Time to Hospitals, Homes

Along with the Girls' Service League, the Key Club takes pride in being one of the major service clubs at RHS.

Last year the Key Club won third place in the National Single Service Contest with their "Project Buddy" which they continued this year. Once a month members visit the Scottish Rite Hospital to entertain and amuse the crippled children.

Other projects include the annual candy sale, concessions at the football games, a visit to Parkland Hospital, a donation to RHS Christmas Care project, the Sandy Ninninger Scholarship Campaign, and a party for the Denton State School for mentally retarded children. A year 'round project of the Key Club is helping each teacher celebrate his birthday. The women receive corsages and the men, ties or tie clasps.

Three of the four officers of the service club attended the Key Club International Convention last summer in Long Beach, California. They were Rick Harlow, president; Bob Rountree, vice-president; Bill Skocpol, secretary; and Theron Robison, lieutenant governor of Texas-Oklahoma division.

Social events for the Key Club were the Key Club Prom, a hayride at White Rock Lake, and a dinner for the exchange students.

Sponsor Mr. Howard Starr speaks to Key Club members.

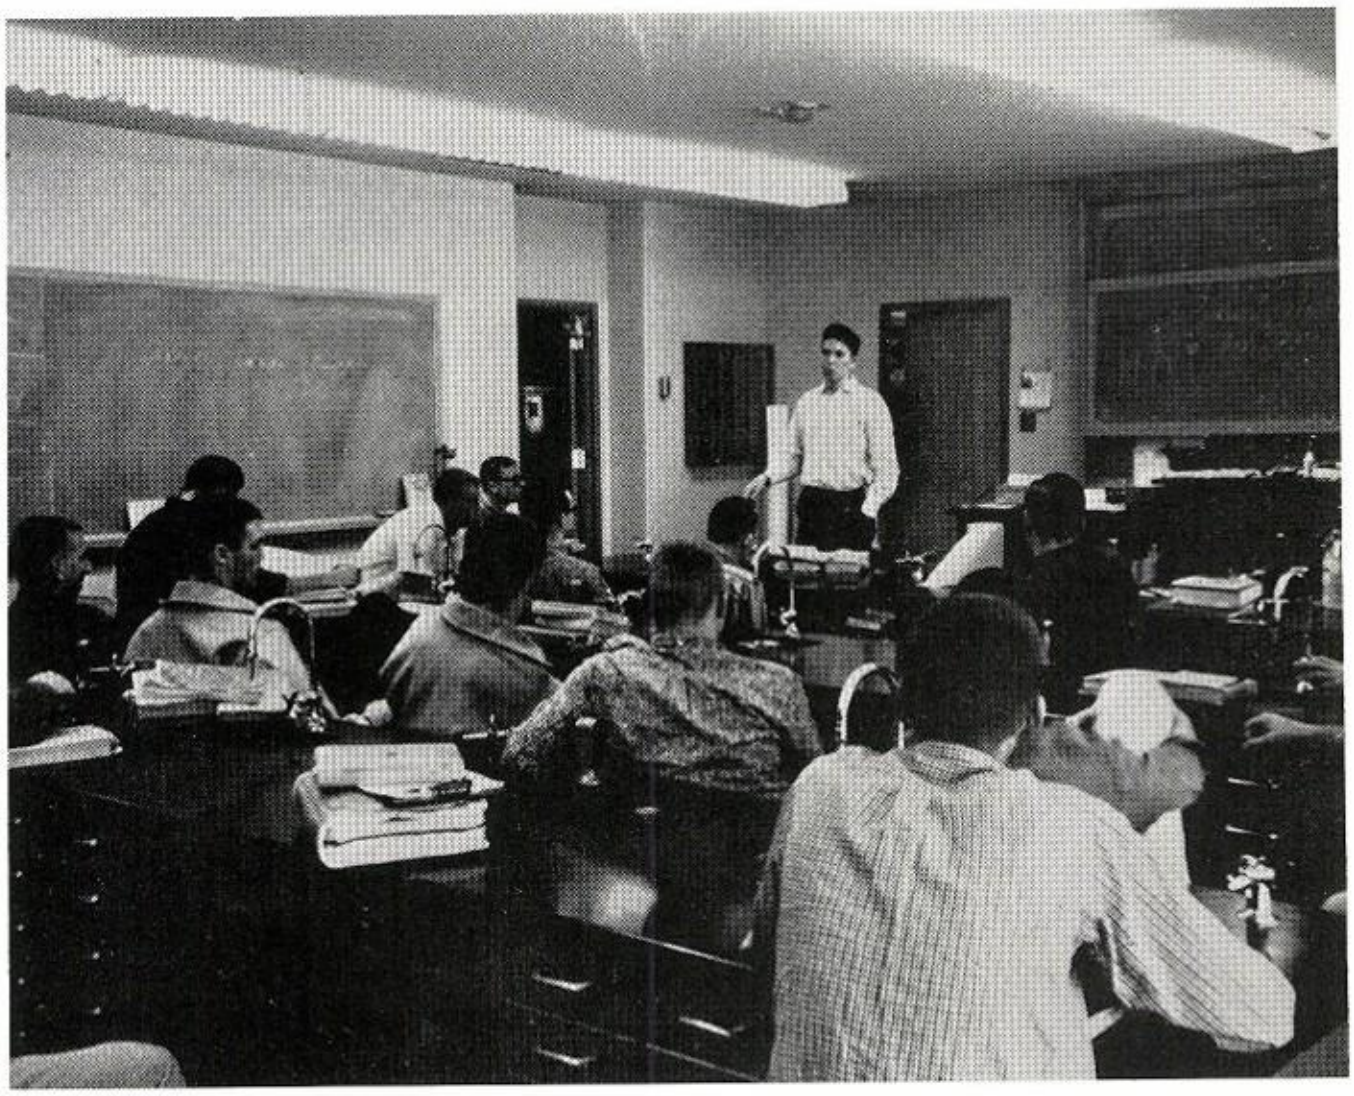
PALS Sponsor Various Projects

PALS, a boy's service club, is sponsored by Mr. J. G. Thompson. This year's activities included the writing of a club constitution which states the purpose of the club . . . "The PAL Club shall sponsor service projects and endeavor to create a more harmonious atmosphere between the student body and faculty." Two service projects performed by the club this year were the painting of an Eagle on the gym floor and the purchasing of wallets for ten boys at Dallas' Boystown for Christmas.

This year's club president, Don Bailey, leads the club in its "endeavor to create a more harmonious atmosphere between the students and faculty."



My, this is a lovely tea!

G.S.L. Forms Two Chapters

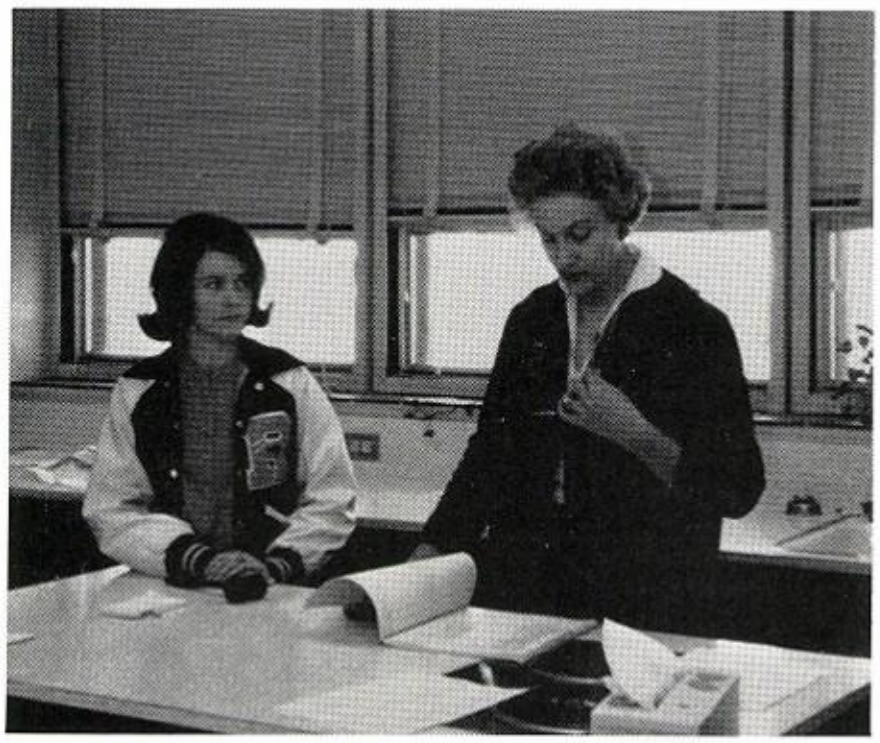
All right, Deanna, let's get to work!

Because of so many applicants there are two Girls' Service Leagues this year. One is under the sponsorship of Mrs. Thompson and the officers are Susan Keyes, President; Teddy Dupuy, First Vice-President; Jean Becker, Second Vice-President; Midge Phillips, Secretary; Diane Marsalis, Treasurer; Susan Fickertt, Historian; and Suzanne Hooser, Reporter. Activities have consisted of a tea welcoming new students, going to the Children's Development Center to help with their Chili Supper, giving a Christmas Party at the Denton State School for the teenagers and an all school festival in the spring.

Mrs. Collander's chapter is under the leadership of Liz Blankenship, President; Sharyn Staecker, First Vice-President; Judy Doersam, Second Vice-President; Lena Gentzel, Secretary; Lynn Stromeyer, Treasurer; Linda Eppright, Historian; and Pat Clutter, Reporter. Activities ranged from going to the Sunny Brook home at Christmas to singing Valentines and helping with the spring festival.

John Swahn looks as if he is really having a good time.

F.H.A. Promotes Individual Leadership



Judy Weesner discusses F.H.A. materials with Mrs. McKeown.

In December, F.H.A. Chapter II honored the exchange students at a Christmas buffet, with the officers serving at the table.

There are three chapters of F.H.A. in R.H.S. and Chapter II is under the sponsorship of Mrs. Dean McKeown with Judy Weesner as President. Chapter III is sponsored by Mrs. Collander and is led by Trudy Chambers.

Each club has a different and admirable purpose; Chapter II's being to promote individual leadership, better family, school, and community relationships and happier family living. Chapter III works together for better and happier home life for everyone.

F.H.A. has had various bake sales this year and Chapter II helped to sponsor the Christmas Dance. Yes, F.H.A. contributes much to R.H.S. life.

F.H.A. members display their lovely table arrangement.

Children look over a basket of food the Religious Council brought them.

Religious Council Promotes Christian Friendship

One thousand two hundred one dollars seems like a great deal of money. This is the amount of the contribution the Religious Council received in the project "Operation Christmas Gift." The money was given to CARE to be used in a way which would be the most benefit. "Operation Christmas Gift" would not have been successful without the wonderful cooperation shown by the clubs and administrations of the Lake Highlands and Hamilton Park schools, along with our own clubs and administration. The Religious Council also took a food basket to a mission in Dallas during the Thanksgiving season to be distributed to needy people.

Red Cross Gives Parties for Veterans, Children, Students

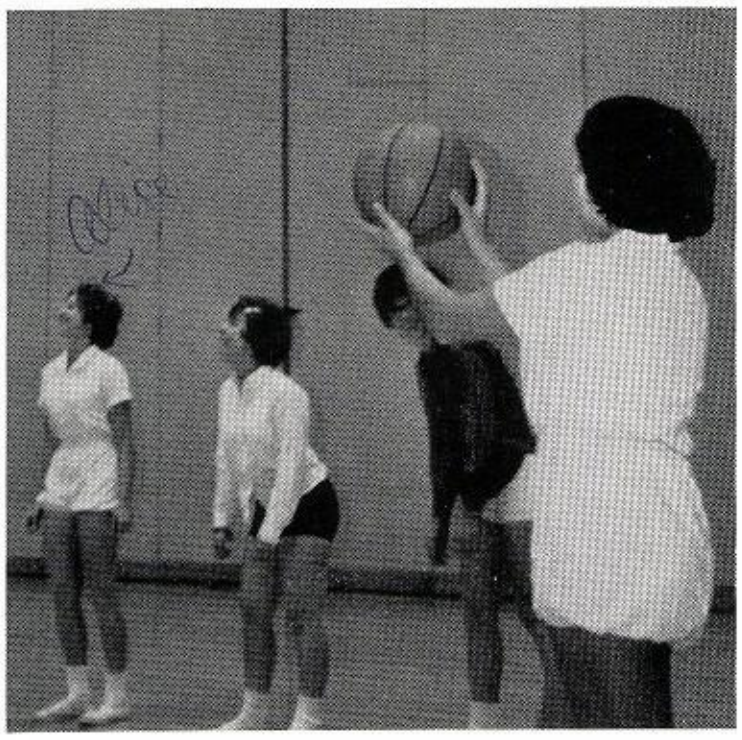
Working with the other service clubs of the school, the Junior Red Cross has contributed to the entertainment and welfare of various organizations.

Projects such as parties and programs for veterans and children's hospitals were undertaken. Members expressed hopes for an art and music exchange program.

Unlike past years when dances have been used as fund-raisers, this year JRC sponsored a talent assembly to enroll RHS in the club.

Red Cross officers discuss plans for future projects.

G.R.A. Enjoy Sports



Members enjoy playing basketball

"Get that net up, girls—out with those volleyballs!" These shouts are synonymous of those heard when members of the Girls' Recreation Association get together for a game during activity period.

"I enjoy getting away from the tensions of school for thirty minutes each day," stated one G.R.A. member. Archery, basketball, volleyball, tennis, ping pong, and softball are a few of the activities.

One of the girls laughingly remarked, "We take time out occasionally for the President's youth fitness program, and embark on a jack's tournament!"

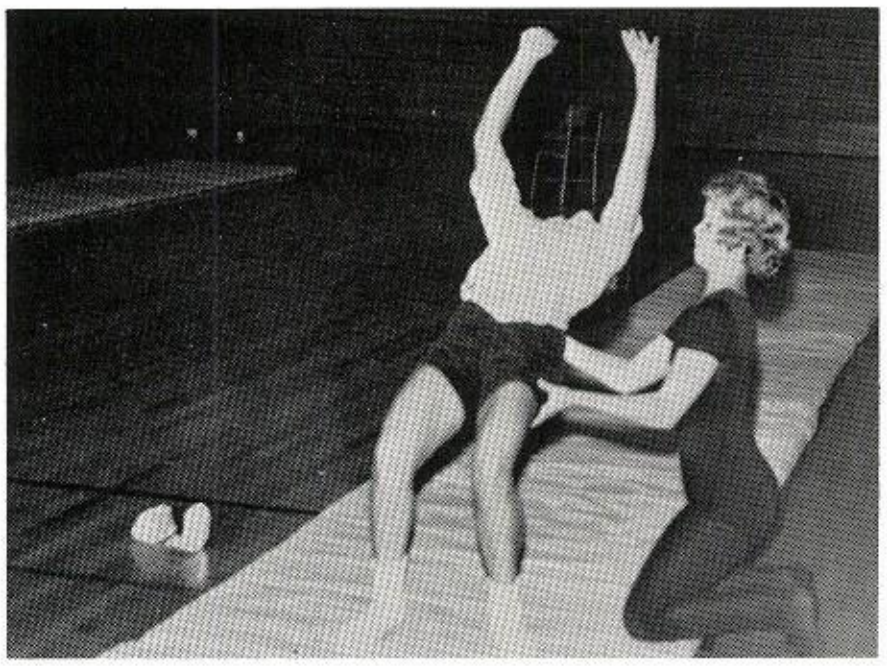
Old members help new Parallels to learn various tricks.

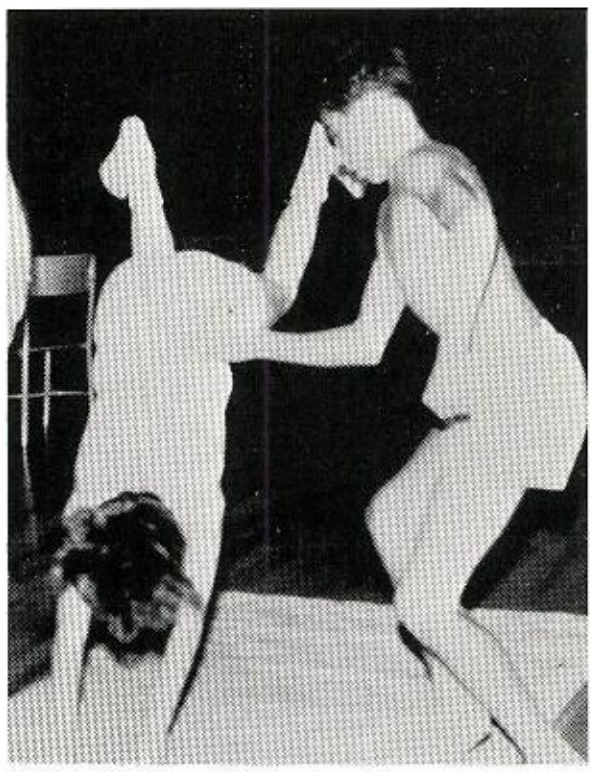


Muscles, Mats Used by Parallels

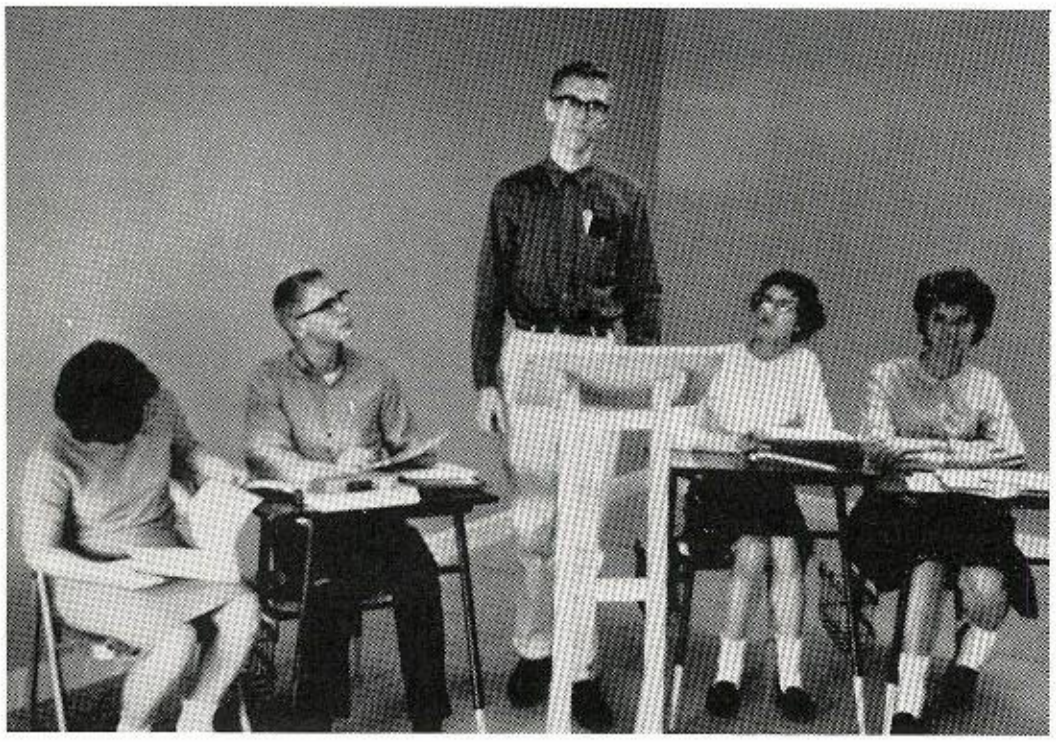
Using many mats and many more muscles, the Parallels, gymnastic club sponsored by Mr. Abe Spangler, limbers up every day between fifth and sixth periods.

The Parallels compete against various groups from other schools, collaborating their many stunts to make an interesting show.

Parallels believe in giving a "helping hand."



Debaters Enter I.L. Contests



Two debate teams show their prize-winning skills.

When a speech tournament is seen in the near future, RHS debaters hurriedly assemble current controversial subjects, and practice mock debates.

Meeting stiff competition at tournaments such as Hillcrest, Bryan Adams, and Garland, the debaters found their efforts were not in vain. The debate teams took all honors at the Richardson Speech Festival.

Students use library magazines for relaxation and resources.

Library Club Cites Book Services

Mrs. Nicholson and Mrs. Wright, our librarians, have helped to build the library to 10,000 books. All types of books and approximately 30 different magazines are now used by the students. Every week new books come in to be carded, filed, and put on the shelves. These books might be those suggested by teachers and sometimes students.

During the summer our library stays open until 12:30 and is open 11 months of the year, but only Mrs. Nicholoson and Mrs. Wright work. The four monitors who work each period enjoy the summer vacation.

Some of these workers who have assisted in the library for three years receive a library award the night of graduation.

Members of Library Club use their meeting to learn modern techniques in library service.

Senior Susan Smith puts the finishing touches on an eagle in the Spirit Hall.

Beaux Arts Paints Spirit Posters

With paint brushes ready, Beaux Arts students are set to render their artistic services.

To promote school spirit and urge students to buy the school paper, the club created posters for the various athletics, as well as, organizations like the Talon, the school newspaper. Displays of members' talents were seen in the show cases. Beaux Arts also decorated trophy cases.

KRHS Heralds News to School

A ringing of chimes, a hush falls over the class, and the voice of one of the KRHS announcers rings out over Eagleland. Each day at second and fifth periods, the voice of RHS heralds the news to the student body.

Taking care of the P.A. system at pep rallies and assemblies, providing music "to study by" during homeroom, and operating record players and tape recorders, are a few of the services rendered by this club. Another of its accomplishments this year was presenting the school with a set of chimes to be rung just before the announcements.

Giving second period announcements is one of senior Hank Kunath's jobs.

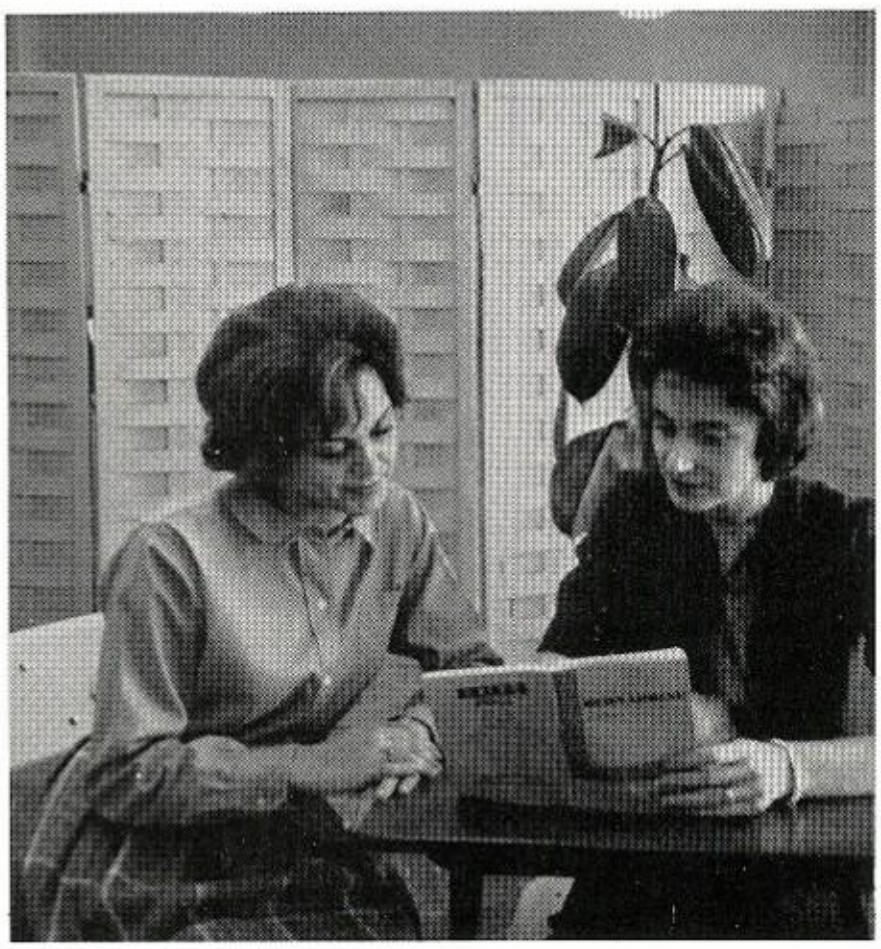
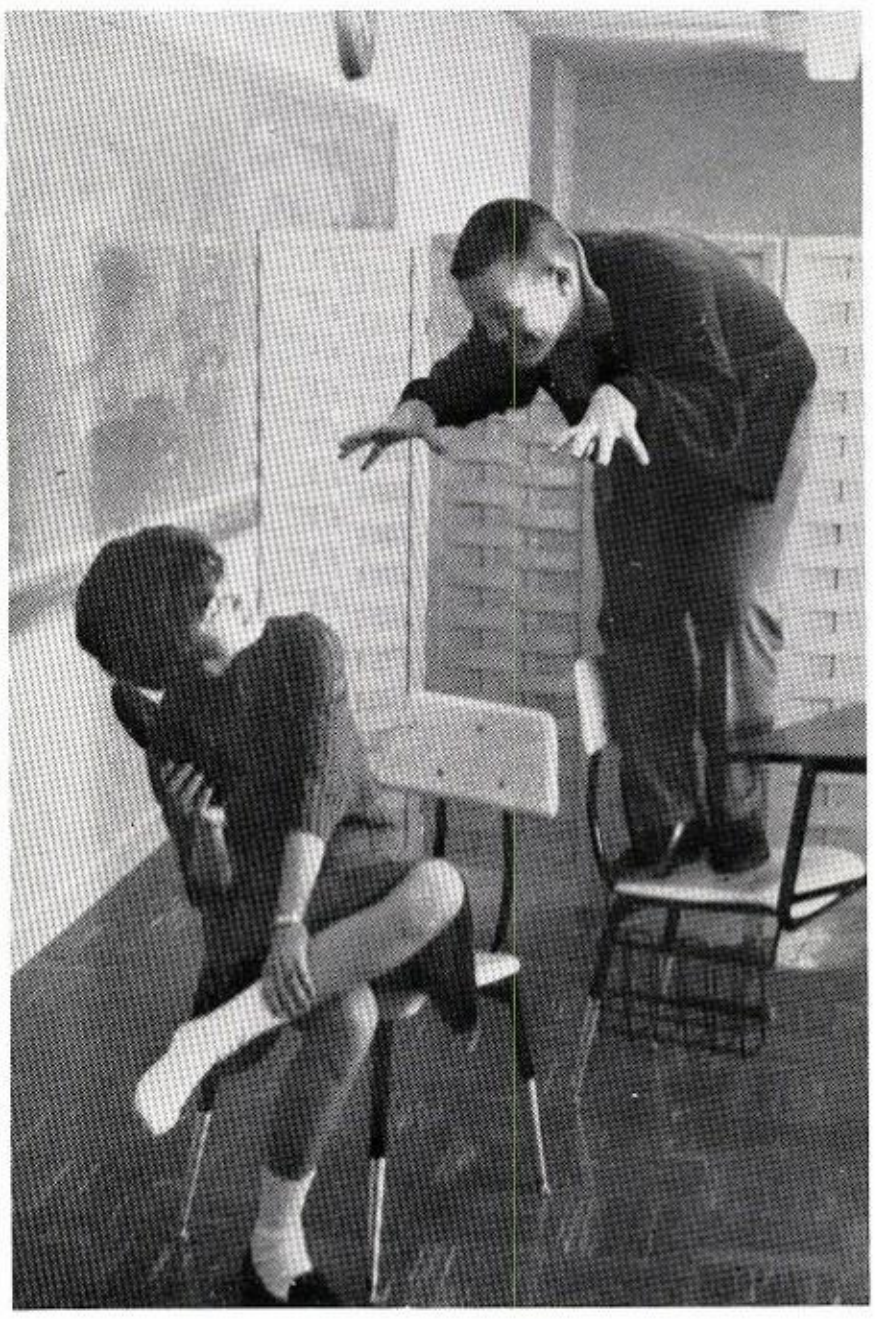
Playhouse RHS Provide

Student director, Jane Amend and sponsor, Mrs. Suzanne Nabours ponder over script changes.

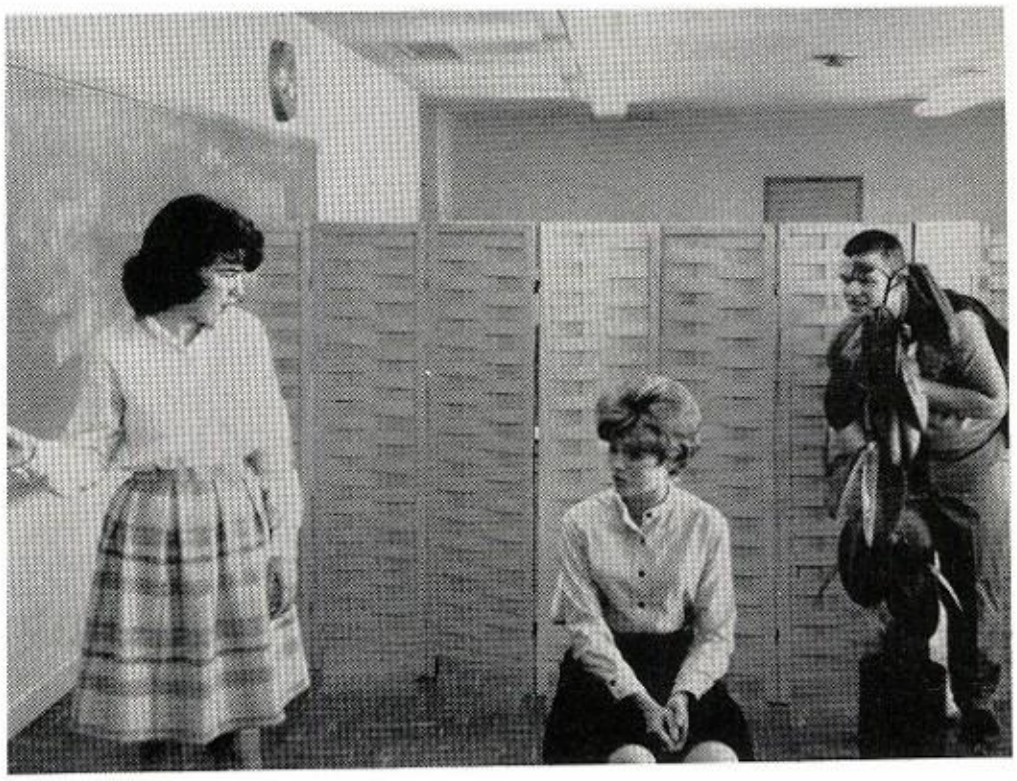




"Wormy," portrayed by Bill Keener, prepares to attack the intoxicated Camilla Agee.

Janice Green gives Bill Keener a cold stare, as Bill wishes hopefully that she would like him.

As "Wormy" watches from behind the potted plant Susan Briggs asks "Jean" the way to the hotel.



Entertainment

"Mother," Diane Marsalis teaches "Wormy" a lesson for "going out with those boys."

Hours of rehearsing, memorizing lines, scene building, costume designing, and last minute anxiety, greet members of Playhouse RHS as a new production unfolds.

Sponsored by Mrs. Suzanne Nabours, English and drama teacher, Playhouse scored a hit with the first production of the year, "Bernardine" by Mary Chase. "Bernardine" portrays the story of a group of girl-crazy boys and their adventures. The name Bernardine symbolizes to them a perfect creature whose only words are "yes."

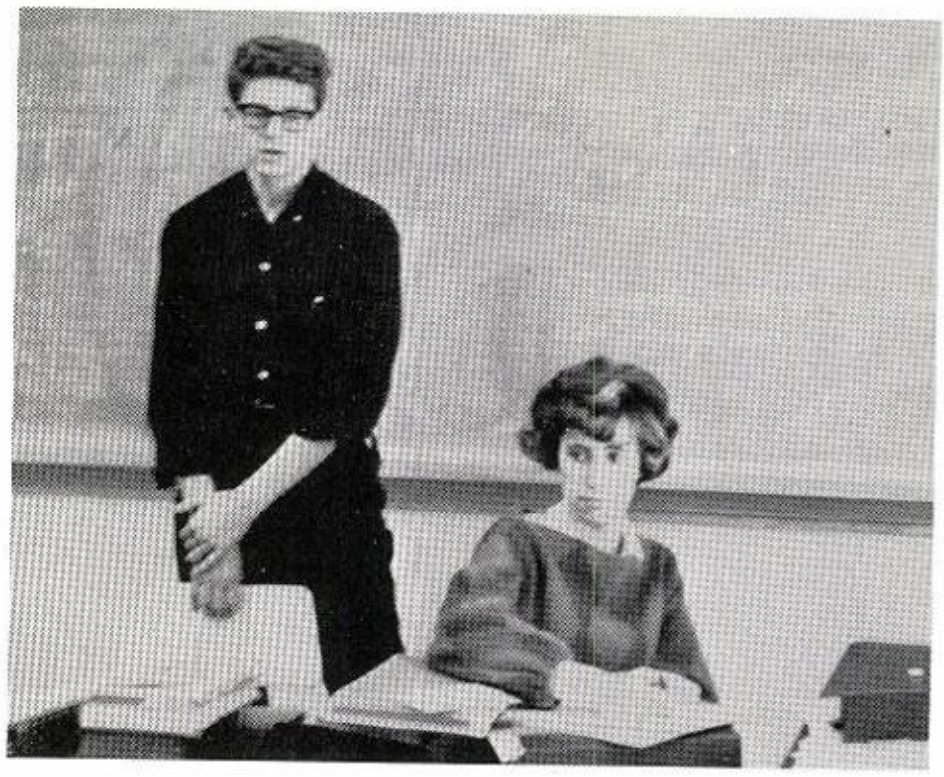
Promoting Christmas spirit, Playhouse reenacted the Christmas story with "Star Song," which told of happenings in the inn the night Christ was born.

Drama class and Playhouse members entertained various classes throughout the year with scenes and monologues assigned for class grades.

New members were chosen by Mrs. Nabours and the Playhouse officers on the basis of material chosen and presentation of scenes. New members were on probation until the accredited ten hours were earned by the first semester.

Playhouse RHS also participated in various contests and Interscholastic League competition.

Le Circle De Francais Conducts Meetings in French



Two of the officers of Beginning French Club discuss plans for their project.

All meetings of the Advanced French Club are conducted in French. The members are able to better understand the French people, their customs, and their language by visits from guest speakers, exchange students and people who have traveled in France. Pen pals, movies, slides and French magazines also help the members to learn about life there. A second chapter of the club is Beginning French which is for members of the first year class. Their aims are the same as those of advanced French Club.

Advanced French Club discusses plans for decorating the display case during Christmas. The club also enjoyed refreshments at this meeting.

P.A.S.F. Entertains Various Speakers

Students who wish to know more about Spanish-speaking people, and those who are studying or have studied the language are members of the Pan American Student Forum. This year's members are concentrating their efforts of the countries of Bolivia and Guatemala. Sponsored by Mrs. Cardwell and Mrs. Patterson, this year's club participated in such activities as helping to sponsor the Christmas dance, the Girls' Service League festival, holding a slave sale, and attending the P.A.S.F. convention in San Antonio. Meetings were highlighted with various speakers and films on Pan American countries and several panel discussions given by students.

Mr. Rangel, of the Mexican Consulate, spoke to the club about the Posada, which is part of the Mexican Christmas.

An annual banquet, held at the Spanish Village Restaurant, highlighted the Christmas season for members of P.A.S.F.

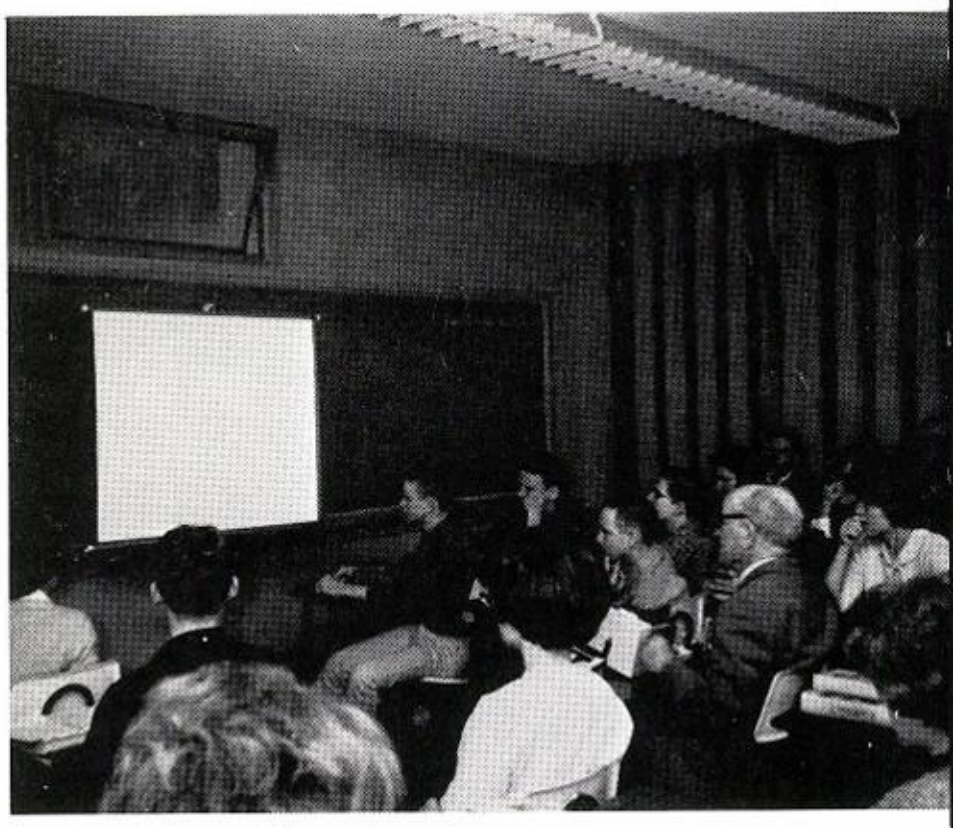
Junior Classical League Attends Convention

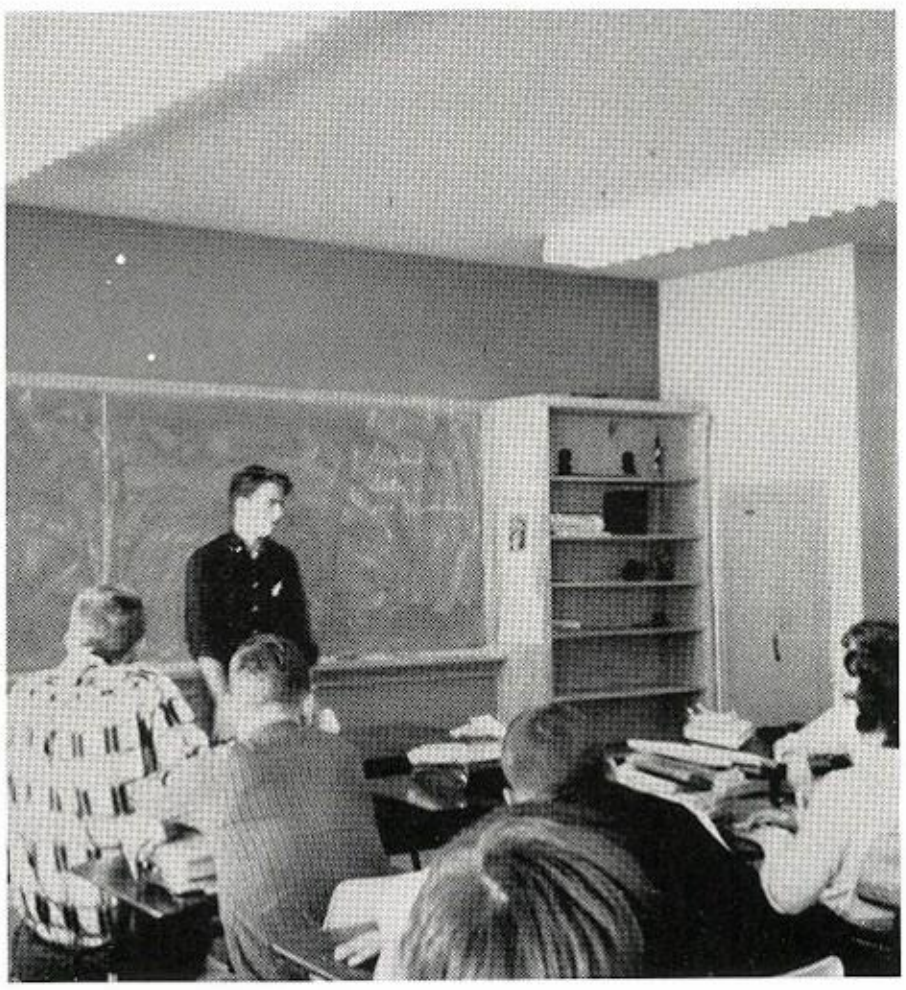
Promoting the study of the classical languages and Roman life is the purpose of the Junior Classical League. The programs for the meetings are composed of various skits, songs, and reports that achieve these goals.

There were three main activities of the club this year. During the week of the Ides of March, the J.C.L. sponsored Latin Week. Members, also, were encouraged to attend and enter the various contests of the State Convention. The highlight of the year was the Roman Banquet held in Roman tradition in late spring.



Mr. C. S. Fox, shows pictures of his trip to the Roman Colosseum.

Deutsche Gesellschaft Studies Germany



Newly organized at R.H.S. this year, the German Club proposes to promote interest and understanding of the German people and their language by studying Germany's cultural achievements and her past and present national history. Everything from toys to folksongs are studied and enjoyed.

Chuck Langley explains to the German club members about his life in German schools.

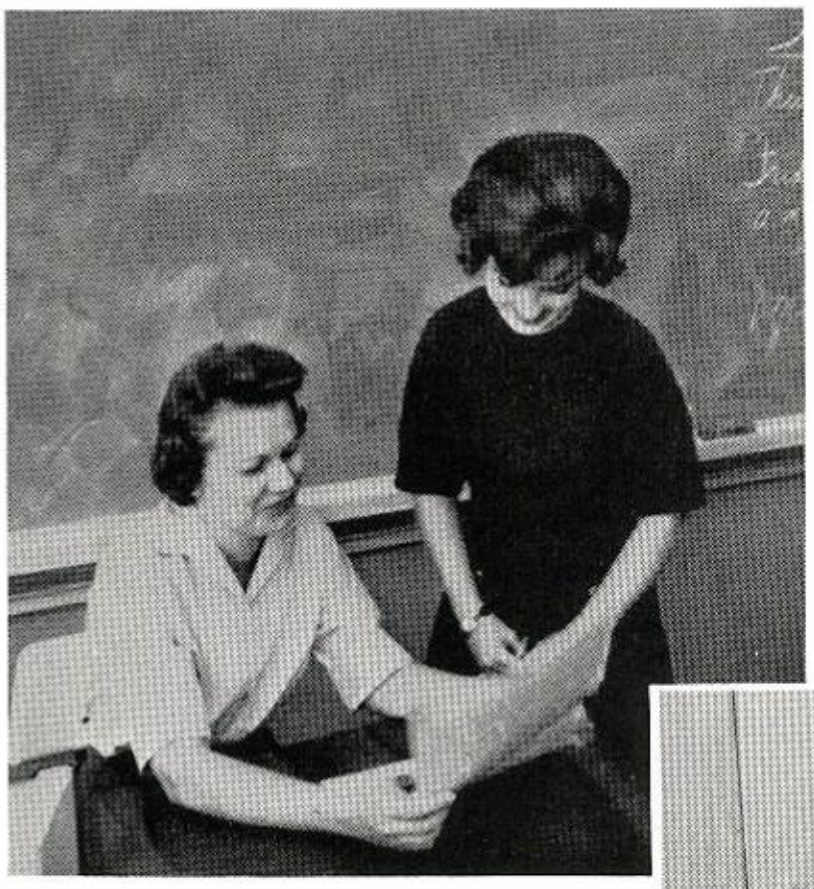
Student Forum Plans Patriotism Week

"Sell America" is the motto of the year-old Student Forum. This year it has continued its study of patriotism and the American way of life. Only one group of students comprises the club this year.

Projects of the Student Forum were the sponsoring of the pledge of allegiance at basketball games and during the regular meetings; the posting of a book list of various choice books on the two contrasting ways of life—Americanism versus Communism; and the sponsoring of Patriotism Week as a combined community and school effort to spread Americanism.

The Student Forum pledges allegiance to the flag before the regular meeting gets underway.

Mrs. Atwood, staff advisor, and Donna Green, editor, look approvingly at The Talon in its final stage.



Under Editor Donna Green, the twenty-two members of the Talon Staff worked together to publish a newspaper bi-monthly.

Editors were in charge of making assignments to the reporters who then researched and wrote the stories. Editors copyread them and furnished them with headlines.

When the copy came back from the printers, editors arranged the galleys on their pages.

With the job completed, the paper was ready to be sold to the student body on Talon Tuesday.

Sports editors, Barbara Magar and Tom Whitesides, plan pages for the coming issues.

Barbara Jobe, Jan Gustafson, Sharon Dosier, Suzi Parker, Beverly Baugh, and Jackie Fooks put finishing touches on The Talon.

Lyn Becker is seriously planning a page, but Jean Becker seems to find it funny.

Sophomores Donna Foster and Sylvia Elam show their class's enthusiasm in the annual.

Joyce McClearnin studies rules for making a good yearbook, as Susan Smith sleeps through the lesson.

Events of the Year

More pages, more color pictures, and an enlarged staff were included in this year's annual.

The new plans brought additional work to the staff, and room B213 was in constant turmoil. Staffers hurried to get in their pages before deadlines, and photographers rushed to catch the students in action.

Under the leadership of editor Suzanne Bealle, and the advice of sponsor Miss Julia Darnall, the staff worked together to produce another fine annual for R.H.S.

Tallying the index is a tedious job but Lynne Frindell and Judy Doersam don't seem to mind.

Stop the show, make way, here come the Eagles!

Sharon is up in the air; she's so excited over cheering for the great Eagle team.

R.H.S. varsity cheerleaders create great school spirit. Their activities include attending Cheerleading School at S.M.U. during the summer, where they learn new cheers and spirit raising ideas; making posters and signs for the goal posts during football season and leading the student body at games and pep-rallies.

Eaglettes Don New Uniforms

Captain Jane Amend and Lieutenants Danna Miller, Sharon Neale, Janis Ansley and Teresa Floyd led the Eaglettes of 1962-63. Each of the girls seems to hold her head higher and march prouder in her new white satin uniform.

During the football season the Eaglettes are kept busy selling football programs and spirit ribbons. Painting windows and decorating goal posts are also their responsibility.

This year the Eaglettes sponsored the first three dances after home football games, sold stickers for the Quarterback Club and had the first school sponsored slumber party.

Their many performances include marching in the Richardson Fair Parade at the Cotton Bowl and the Optimist Club-Lions Club game.

mphonic Band.

ace With Move Into 4A

Under the direction of Mr. Joseph L. Frank, the 1963 Golden Eagle Band displayed its exceptional abilities. August 6, the band started rehearsing for the Fair Parade and marching season. Drum Major Jack Carrington led the band this year followed by Lou Ann Carrington, Sandra Goldsberry, Diana Graham, Janet Lillie, and Eileen Tullos.

At Interscholastic League Marching Contest, the band received the top rating of first division in marching and inspection.

At Halloween all the members were busy selling candy to buy a recorder for the band. The recorder will be useful in evaluating the music of our band and listening to tapes of other bands.

At the Cotton Bowl on December 6, the Eagle Band gave a great performance. Also this fall the Band Sweetheart was elected. Susan Fickertt received the honor this year. Only seniors girls are nominated. The other nominees were Vernell Buckner, Virginia Carter, and Judy Handley.

Barbara Palmer was chosen for the All-State Band. She sat first chair flute for the second year. Richard Deweese was also chosen to the band on bassoon.

February 28 the Band gave a formal concert at McFarlin Auditorium at S.M.U. The proceeds of the spring concerts are to pay for a trip to Corpus Christi in May.

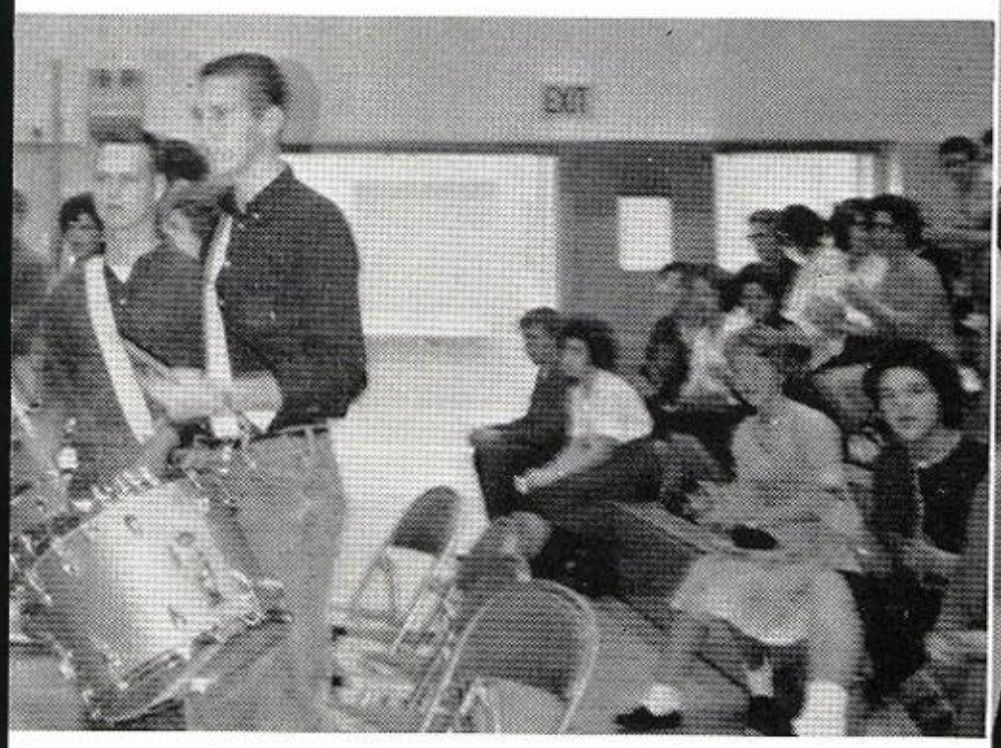
Marchin

1963 Band Sweetheart Susan Fickert stands in utter amazement as Drum Major Jack Carrington presents her with roses.

"Victory" is on the minds of Larry Carson and O'Brien Goldsberry as they accompany cheerleaders at pep rallies.

Another "Monday morning criticism" is given by director Joe Frank. He not only gives criticisms, but also gives inspiration to members that belong to this tremendous organization.

Band Performs Cotton Bowl



The Golden Eagle Band presented a spectacular show at the Cotton Bowl in December using the same routine that won a first division at UIL Marching Contest.

The marching band was led by Jack Carrington followed by majorettes Sandra Goldsberry, Eileen Tullos, Janet Lillie, Diana Graham, and Lou Ann Carington.

Merchants in Richardson are behind R.H.S. one hundred per cent. This is proved by their continual support to the Eagle staff, Talon staff, cheerleaders and their megaphones, and the football programs. Dealers provide entertainment, food, clothing, and luxuries.

The 1963 Eagle staff would like to thank the merchants for their support. Eagle-ites, in return, will support these dealers. Good relations between R.H.S. and Richardson's merchants will not only aid the school, but also help to build Richardson.

BE A SENIOR SAVER

at DALLAS FEDERAL SAVINGS

Join Senior Savers and get free a genuine leather wallet (two girls' styles to choose from). Both boys' and girls' wallets are roomy, have loads of windows for all your favorite photos, ID cards.

Special free activities will be held often . . . open only to Senior Savers! You'll find it's fun, too, to have your own savings account "nest-egg," insured safe by an agency of the U.S. Government.

All it takes is a visit to one of our offices and $5 to open a Senior Savers account. After that, add any amount you like when you save. (If you belonged to Junior Savings Club, just add $5 to the account and ask for your free wallet.) Twice a year your money earns generous dividends, paid automatically to your account!

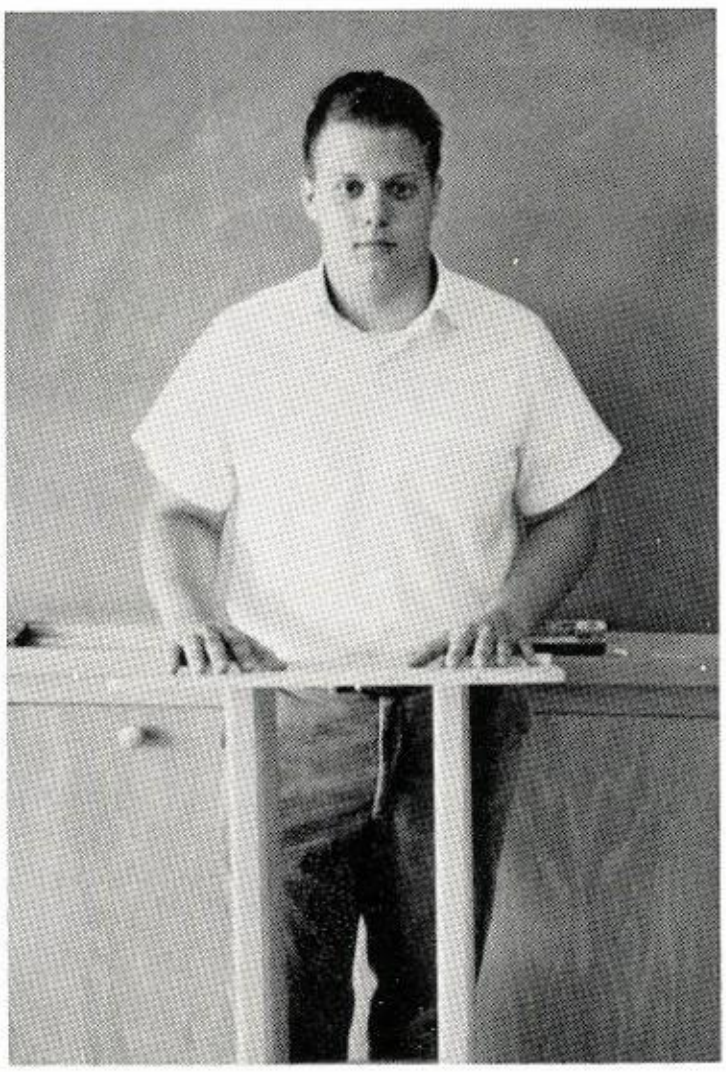
SPRING — '63

As Spring drew to a close activities of the year reached a peak. Without these important spring events the Eagle would be incomplete.

Interscholastic League Offers Challenge

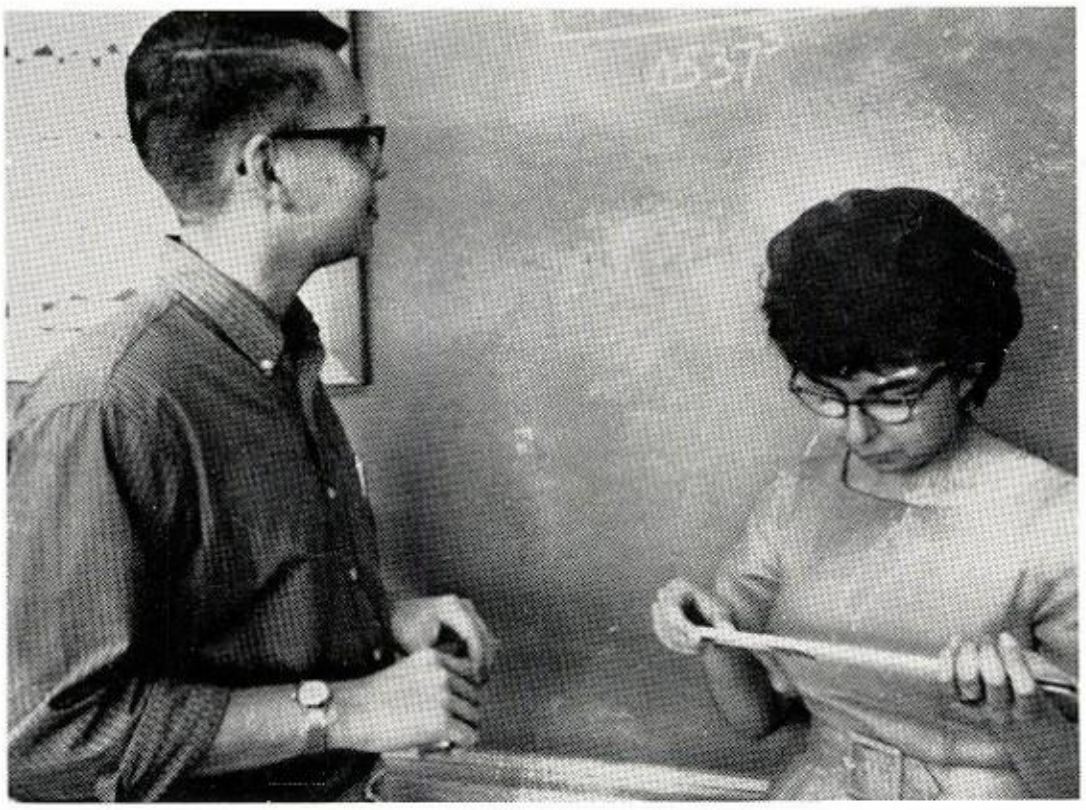
Interscholastic League competition provides the finale of the year for speech students. Most of them have attended various meets at the different schools in preparation for this event. This year competition was held at North Texas State University all day Saturday. The week before competition had been held for the contest play. This year's play was "Twelfth Night" by William Shakespeare. Events are held in Extemporaneous Speaking, Prose Reading, Poetry Interpretation, Impromptu Speaking, and Debate. Not only are these speech events held, however, but there is also competition in the use of the Slide Rule, Number Sense, Spelling, Shorthand, and Typing. This year Richardson did exceptionally well in competition, placing second in the entire meet. Mrs. Gray, Richardson's speech teacher, planned the entries, made the arrangements, and accompanied the contestants, supplying moral support and sympathy where needed. Everyone agrees that she deserves much credit for her efforts.



Don Campbell placed third in Extemporaneous Speaking. It was the first time he had ever competed in a speaking contest.

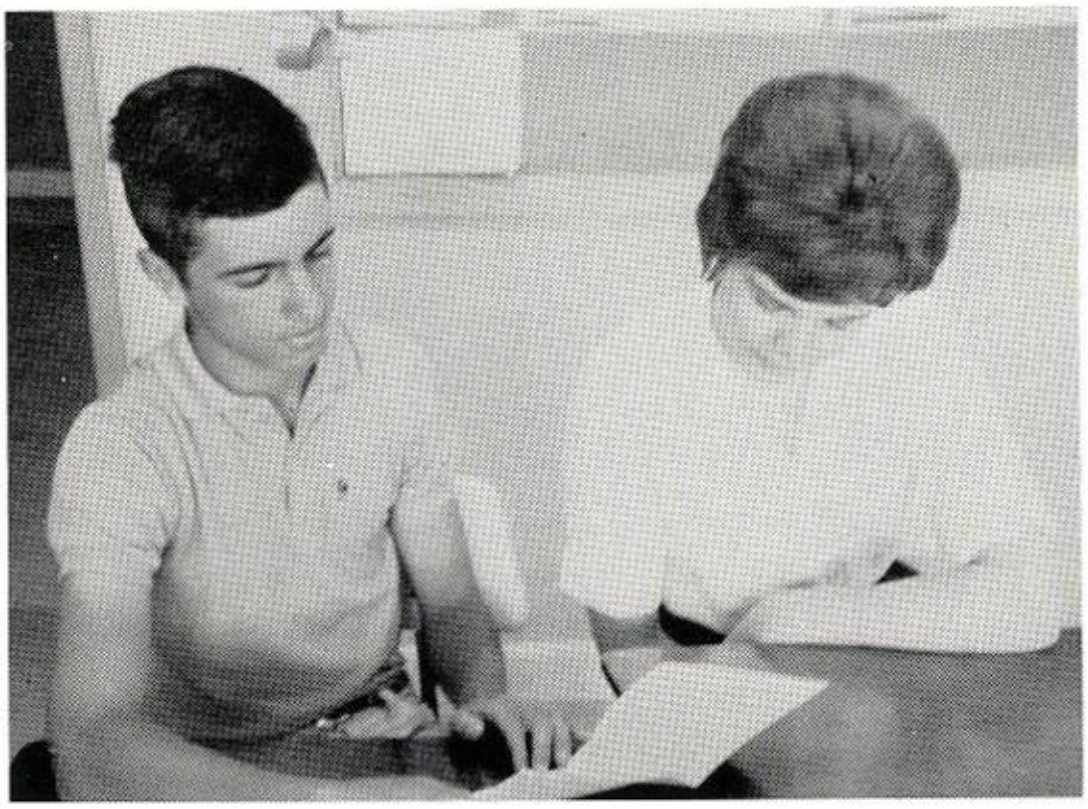
Both girl's and boy's debate teams placed second this year in Interscholastic League. Mary Lou Hooser and Shirley Baccus made up the girl's team while Mike McDermott and Bill Skocpol were the boy's team.

Dennis Dawson and Lydia Delgado were entered in Slide Rule. They were given problems to work, and the test covered their speed and accuracy. Dennis won a first in this event while Lydia captured a third.



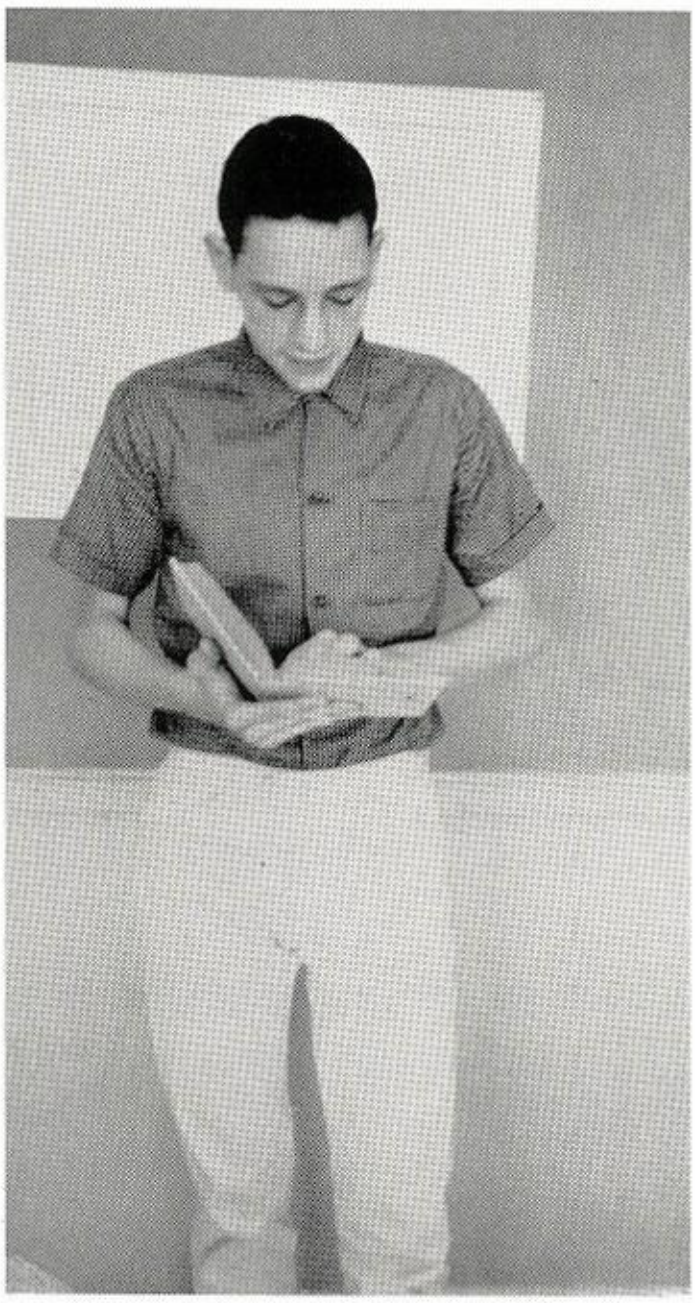
Number sense was another event in which Richardson was well represented. They were given a booklet of problems and required to work them without use of pencil or paper. Chuck Marstrand won first in this event; and Dennis Dawson, second; while Larry DiPalo finished third.

In spelling Richardson won another first with a team entry.

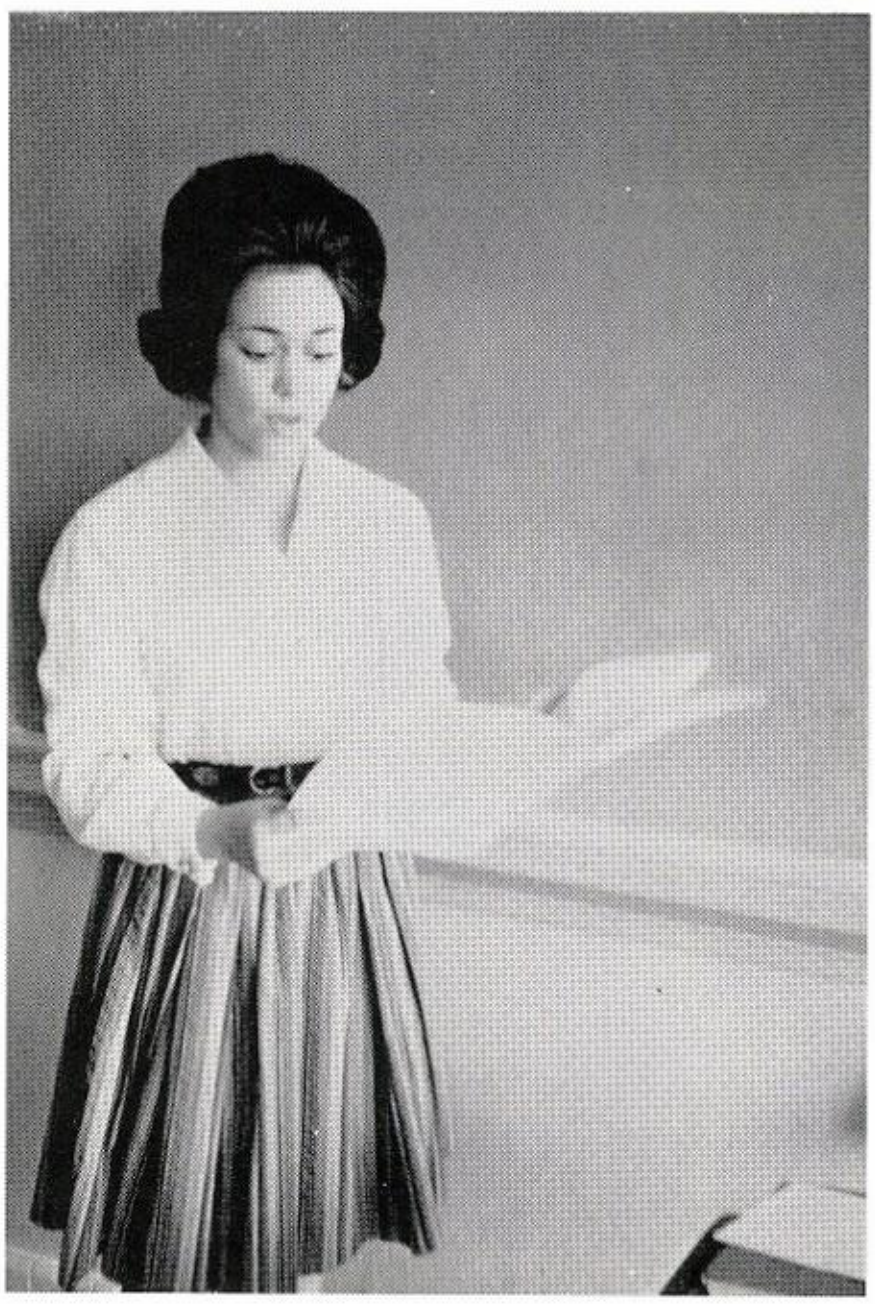


Interscholastic League Play this year was "Twelfth Night" by William Shakespeare. This was the first year we had ever done anything by Shakespeare for the contest, and it was a good experience for all the actors. Pictured are Jane Amend, Susan Briggs, and Theron Robison.

Wayne Goad took third place in boy's prose reading.

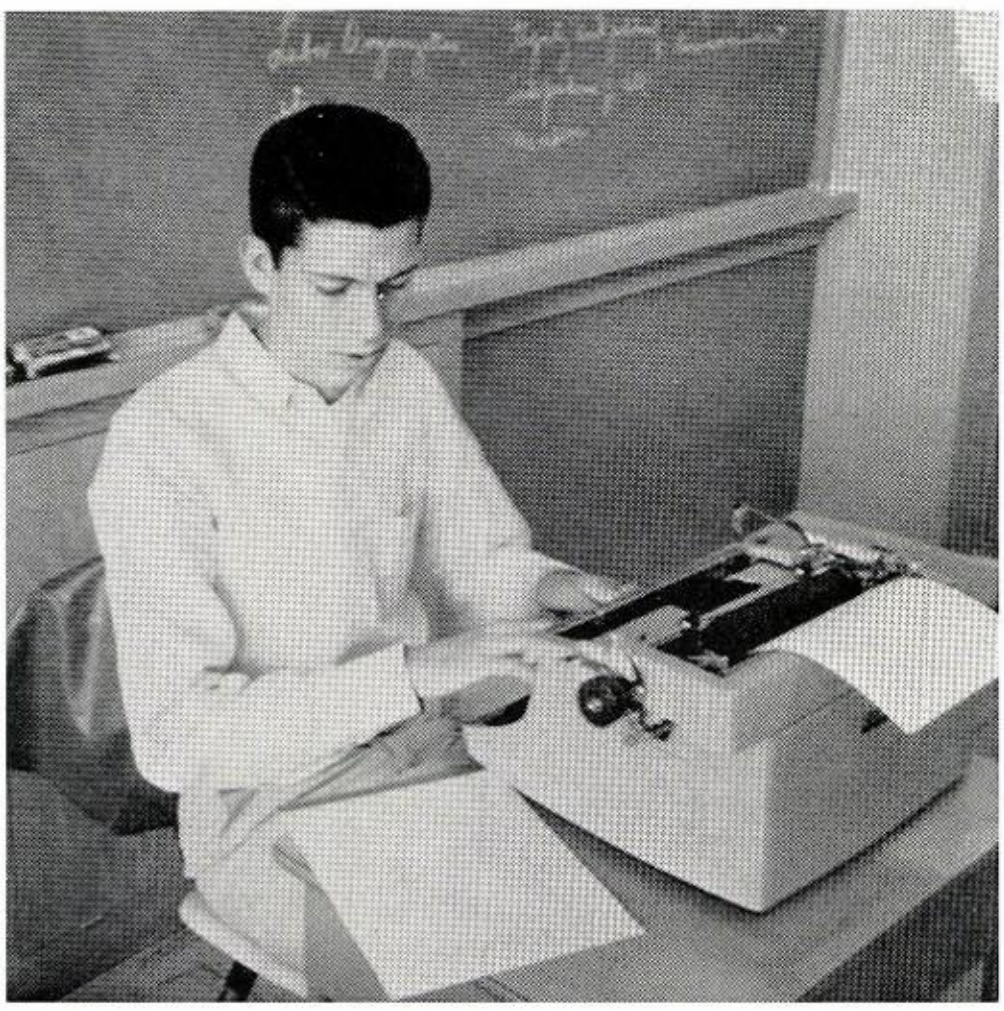


Ann Randolph captured third in girl's poetry interpretation. It was the first time she had ever entered into competition.



All Achieve, One Goes on to State

Linda Merriman placed third in the very competitive typing event. In this event, each school can submit three entries.



Jack Carrington placed second in typing at the district meet. This qualified him to go on to regional where he again placed. Because of this, he was the only R.H.S. student to go clear to State competition. This final meet is held in Austin.

"At this time will King Ricky Mendenhall and Queen Barbie Brown please step forward?"

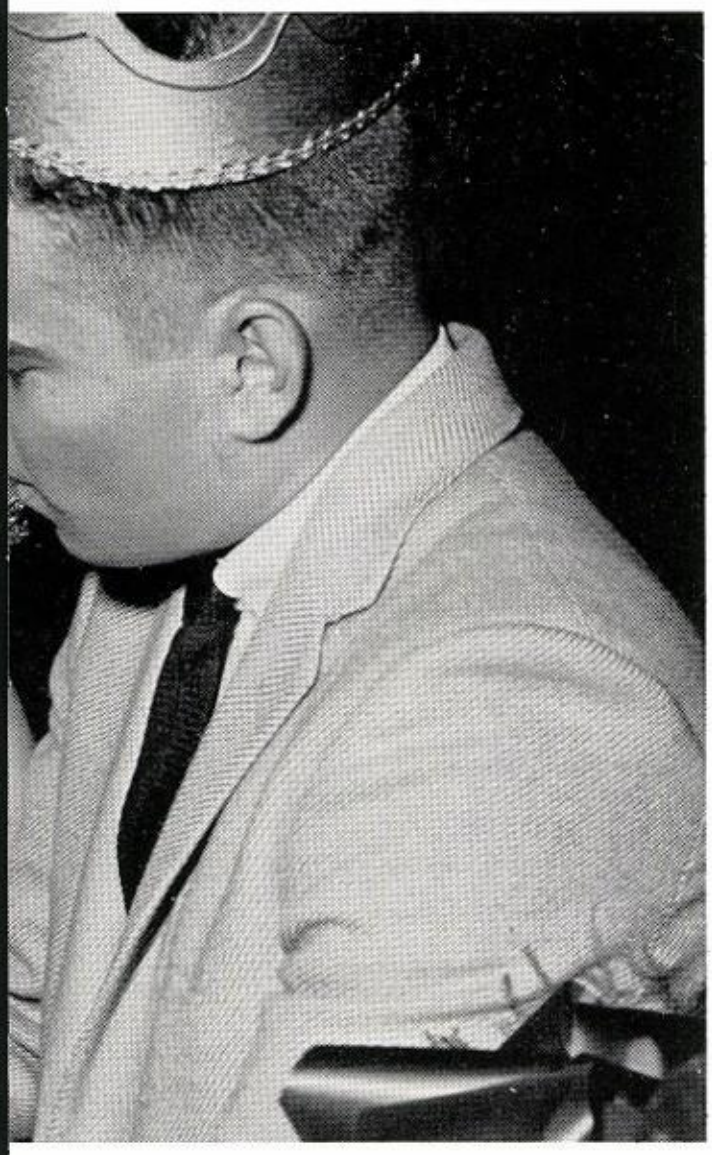
Festival Fun for Everyone

Mrs. Horner directs the building of the French Club booth, then sits down for a needed rest.

A dance in honor of King Ricky and Queen Barbie.



On Friday, April 5, the Girls' Service League held their spring festival. Because of rain, the carnival was postponed until Monday, April 8, but the dance was held as scheduled in the gym. Dancing to the music of the Roadrunners, a romantic evening was had by all attending. The beautiful decorations of the theme Moon River added to the atmosphere of the evening and will long be remembered by R. H. S. At approximately 9:00, Coach Abe Spangler announced the attendants and King and Queen, Ricky Mendenhall and Barbie Brown.

On Monday afternoon, the carnival was held between "A" and "B" wings. No one will ever forget the tent show of Playhouse R. H. S., the dunking machine of the Pal Club, or the cake walk of P. A. S. F. Yes, a fine time was had by all.

Volleyball Team Wins District

RHS volleyball team consisted of thirty-five members this year.

R.H.S.'s girls volleyball team, composed of 35 girls, practiced each day in a 6th period P.E. class. Practice began at the start of the second semester and throughout the spring several games and tournaments were played. The season was ended with the District Tournament being held in Sherman. Sherman was defeated by R.H.S. for a district win. This year 13 girls received letters. Team co-captains were Suzanne Beale and Bonnie Mackey.

Tennis Team Has Successful Year

A season which could be considered both successful and encouraging was had this year by the R.H.S. Tennis Team. Although the team faced tough 4-A competition in the district meet, they also gained valuable experience which should prove its worth during matches next year. Highlight of the season came early in the year when the team journeyed to powerful St. Marks, where they defeated their highly vaunted B-team. R.H.S. is looking forward to more matches with 4-A schools next year. Members of the girls team include: Sylvia Schaelling, Kathy Pearson, Glenda Adams, and Pam Wilke. Members of the boys team are Patt Morriss, Bill Henrich, Ronnie White, Ron and Leslie Persell, and Don Chancy.

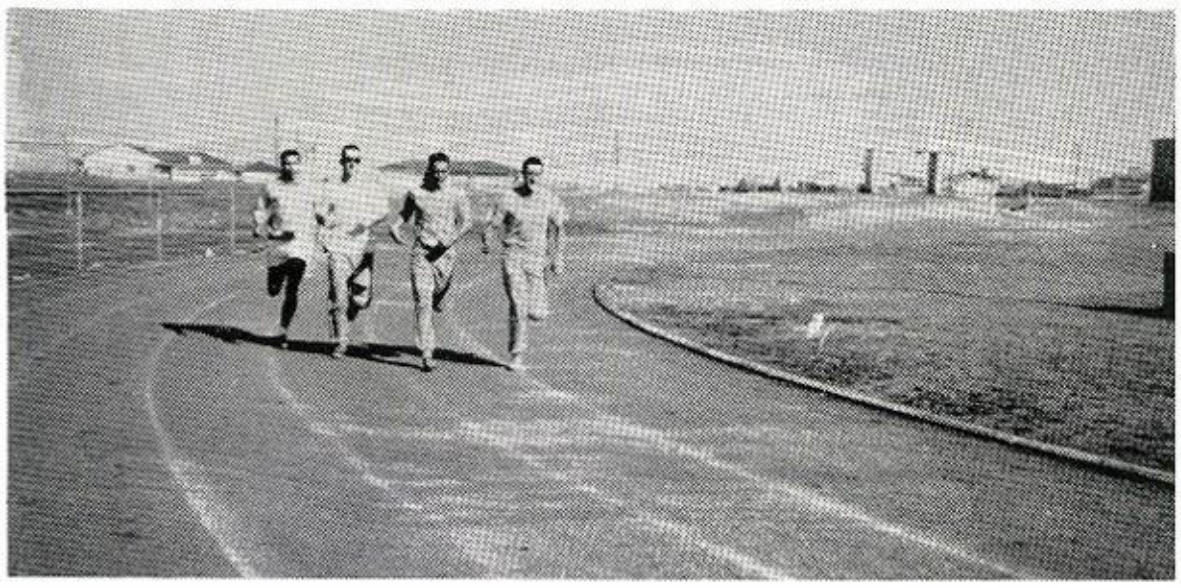
Captains Ron Dill and Dave Montgomery were very instrumental in the team's victory and record breaking season. Ron was on both relay teams that broke records and placed highly in all the meets that they competed in. Dave was a miler and broke his last year's record several times.

Track Team Places Fourth in District Competition

John Howie, Ron Dill and Bill Stokes warm up before a meet.



The track team had a very successful first year in district 4-A competition. Under the coaching of Jack Harris the team placed fourth in the district meet. The team broke four out of five records. Coach Harris hailed this as the best team R.H.S. has ever had.

Outstanding point makers were: Ron Dill, Dave Montgomery, Ronnie Martin, David Holmes, David Russel, John Howie, Bill Stokes, Steve Higgens, Tommy Maupin, Steve Higgens, and Jim Fraley.

Jane Amend, as Sabina, poses with Mary Ann and Chris for a family portrait.

"The Skin of Our Teeth," Pulitzer-prize-winning play by Thorton Wilder, was presented by the senior class of 1963 to an audience that overflowed the Greenville Avenue Auditorium.

A satiric story of the adventures of the Antrobus family down through the ages, from the time the great wall of ice creeps over the world to the end of the war, "The Skin of Our Teeth," though satiric, is symbolic of man down through the ages.

Directed by Mrs. Suzanne Nabours, the play offered a state of confusion for many students and adults. Any question was soon answered by a willing actor who had been confused by the play during the month of rehearsals, but had suddenly been struck by the meaning of the play on production night.

In the words of the cast, "It was great, we really had a blast!"

Mr. Antrobus smiles admiringly as his wife captivates the audience.

to Childhood Days

May 9 brought a drastic change to the hallowed halls of R.H.S. From nowhere appeared scores of children running, skating, and riding bicycles. Some of the overgrown monsters began playing jacks, baseball, or red rover, while others sat quietly licking all-day suckers or nibbling on baby bottles. But of course this was just Kiddie Day, and the monsters were merely seniors reliving the days of old.

For the first time ever, a surprise awaited the kids on their day. With secrecy and daring that would have stunned Fu Manchu, real baby pictures had been collected from the seniors' mommies, and put up for all to see, in the display case.

To top the fun filled day was the senior assembly loaded with well rounded talent. This year every senior took part by opening and closing the show with "Seniors '63" to the tune of Mickey Mouse.

Kiddie Day and The Senior Assembly were the greatest ever thanks largely to the planning of Mary Ann Alderson and DeAnna Danniel.

Lites Spring Activities

R.H.S.'ers felt as though they really were in Paris.

This year the Junior-Senior Prom was one of the best that R.H.S. Juniors have ever offered to a graduating Senior Class. To the Class of '63 was presented an exciting "Evening in Paris" held at the beautiful Exchange Park Bank. Enhancing decorations and soft music set the atmosphere and made the prom truly a memory to be treasured by all who were present.

Graduation Exercises Complete

The final exams, the anxiety over grades, and the exuberant fun of the senior trip were past. Next to the graduating seniors of '63 came the two ceremonies that would officially mark their completion of four years of high school.

Baccalaureate, the service designed to leave spiritual blessings with the students as they make use of their newest accomplishments, was held at the First Baptist Church in Richardson. Meeting an hour early in the church chapel, seniors dressed, arranged themselves alphabetically, and received instructions.

Their last minute jitters soothed and lost tassels found by twelve busy junior ushers, the seniors filed from the chapel into the foyer of the sanctuary to await their entrance cue. At the first notes of the processional, three hundred-plus graduates stepped out behind the lead ushers to enter the sanctuary overflowing with proud parents and friends. Everyone attending was privileged to hear the sermon of Reverend Leslie Hames, who told the students of their real worth in terms of their future ideas and dreams.

Tense but proud Seniors await their entrance into the sanctuary.

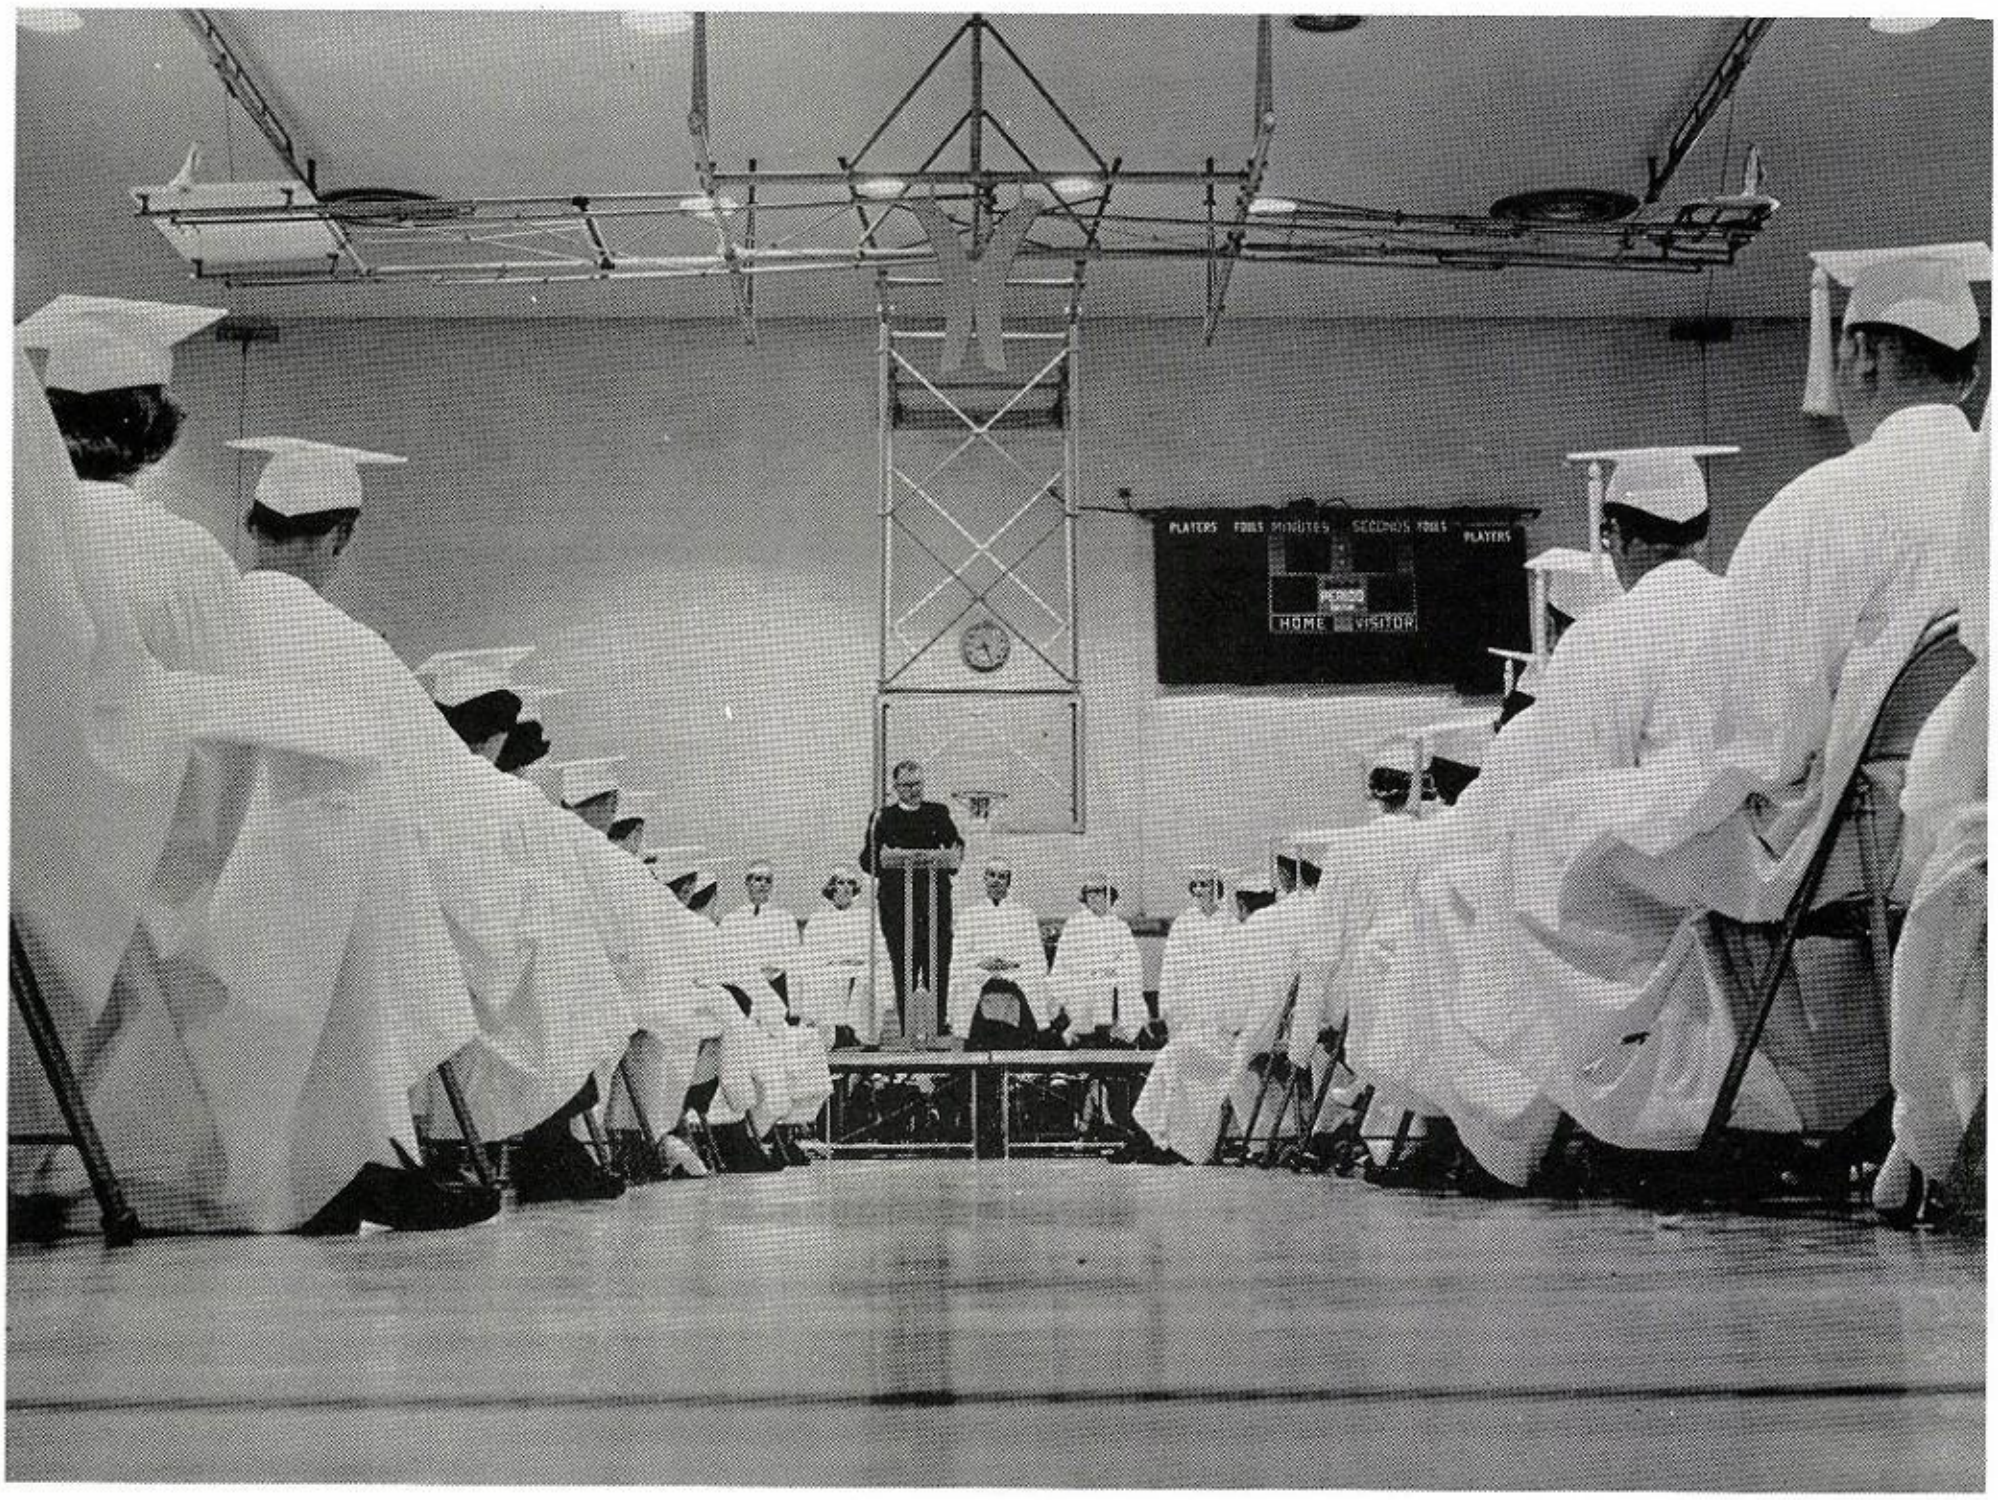
and Commencement Please Capacity Crowds

Despite a switch in location, Commencement progressed smoothly through two hours of final recognition for graduating seniors. After three hot hours of practice on the football field the day before, the seniors were both dismayed and somewhat confused to learn of the move indoors to the gym because of rain. But hurried consultations with the junior ushers and instructions whispered during the processional produced a ceremony that belied the confusion of the cafeteria only a few minutes before as the seniors had arranged themselves.

Although the speeches were wise and often witty, they couldn't alter the fact that the high point of the exercise for each graduate was the moment when he walked across the platform to receive his diploma. As he stepped from the stage and switched his white and gold tassel with its gold '63 ring, he walked a little taller because he held the document that verified his four years of earnest work.

Diplomas Awarded to 316 Seniors of 1963



Seniors ponder the words of Reverend Cox at Commencement and perhaps recall other happenings in the gym of the past four years.
